STUART R. PADDOCK

Arlington Heights Rotary made its annual visit to the Classic Club at Arlington Park last Friday. The first question the wives of Rotarians usually ask their husbands is "How much money did you fellows lose?"

We can guess not many of them told the truth. We were there.

We told our readers last week that we would ask two world travelers we expected to entertain over the weekend if O'Hare airport surpasses other airports in the world. Their answer was, "O'Hare is the most elaborately extended field seen by this world traveler. "All of them require a lot of walking."

A friend, referring to the growth of the Democratic party, told us "Forty years ago we seldom mentioned the Democrats and did not vote for them. It is different now."

We have been advised that any home owner can request the Mosquito Abatement District to omit his property from its service. It has also been suggested that the activities of that body be especially directed to swamps and streams where mosquitoes breed.

We understand that the mosquito spray is much less dangerous to birds as is the spray used against the Dutch elm disease. There is a "seven day" spray obtainable at many garden stores that will immunize an area from mosquitoes for that period.

The Supreme Court has ruled that no village annexation can jump the toll road. The result—Wheeling has voided a 325 acre annexation, made at the request of a developer who had made a pre-annexation agreement with that village for lots much less than the 20,000 square foot requirement of the county.

Memories of 69 years ago were recalled as we attended the July meeting of the Arlington Heights Historical Society Friday night and witnessed the showing of over 50 slides of the World's Columbian Exposition (1893).

They are the property of S. P. Mulley, 308 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. The Chicago Historical Society possesses the only other set in existence.

A. F. Volz recalled Chicago Day at the fair when the crowds were so great many rode on the top of the Illinois Central trains. He left Arlington Heights on that day at 7:00 a.m. and did not reach the fair until noon. He was employed at the fair several months.

You Republicans need not think that the Democratic party is pulling in any of its horns. It is just a breathing spell before next fall's political campaign is started. Take it from us, Republican candidates and Republican voters will face a real battle in November.

It is only a short four months before November elections. Candidates and party organizations are getting busy. Odds on the results of the election in the northwest suburbs are changing. The Democrats are becoming aggressive. Republicans should realize that they need strong party organization.

As one who carried a lighted torch for Theodore Roosevelt in the 1900's, we wish that old-time Republican enthusiasm could be revived.

Real Estate Taxes Due This Month

Collection of second installment 1961 real estate taxes in Wheeling Township will be made this month, according to a release from the office of Marjorie Annen Carter, township collector.

Payments may be paid in person at Arlington Heights National Bank starting Aug. 13, Mount Prospect State Bank, Aug. 20, and Wheeling State Bank, Aug. 27.

ADDRESS payment by mail to Marjorie Annen Carter, Box 427, Arlington Heights.

Wheeling Township only benefits from taxes collected locally. Taxes collected by the county are not directly available to the township government.

All payments must be made before Aug. 31.

Yeggs Toss Eggs Here

When Mrs. Ruth Gustafson, 332 S. Windsor Ave., reported strange noises at her house last Thursday evening, Arlington Heights police went to investigate.

After checking doors and finding them "A-OK," they went outside and found that someone had thrown eggs on the roof.

'Sidewalk Days' For Arlington Market Slated

Arlington Market will have the look of a traditional market place as merchants move their goods outside for Sidewalk Days today, Friday and Saturday.

The Market's 20 stores will stay open tonight and Friday night until 9 p.m. for the sale.

This is one of three big annual sales at the Market. Others are in February and November.

Bikes Stolen

One hundred and three bicycles have been reported stolen in Arlington Heights so far this year, reports Police Sgt. Maurice English. He cautions bicycle riders to lock their bikes.

Carpet Boom

Carpet sales in the United States in 1961 reached 160 million square yards, representing a volume of $684 million.

THE NEWLY APPOINTED news editor of the Arlington Heights Herald is Bob Cummins, left, who is shown with Charles Hayes, Paddock Publications executive editor, planning news coverage of the community.

Press Veteran

Cummins New Herald Editor

Bob Cummins has been named news editor of the Arlington Heights Herald.

Announcement of the appointment was made this week by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of the Herald and 13 other suburban newspapers published by Paddock Publications, Inc.

Cummins has been associated with Paddock Publications for two years as news editor of the Bensenville Register and Addison Register. Responsiblity for those editions have been assumed by Robert J. Seltzner, formerly of the Kansas City Daily Kansan.

BEFORE JOINING Paddock Publications in 1960, Cummins was managing editor of The Life, a Lerner newspaper in Skokie and Niles Township.

Under his editorship, The Life earned first place awards in 1958 and 1959 for general excellence from the Better Home Newspapers of America. He also served as member of the board of directors of Skokie Valley YMCA.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Cummins was a reporter for the Hempstead, L. I., Star from 1937 to 1938. From 1939 to 1940 he was a reporter for the Jackson, Mich., Citizen-Patriot.

IN 1940 HE joined the editorial staff of a west suburban newspaper chain in Detroit, leaving in 1941 to join the army air force. He served during World War II in the European theatre and was discharged as sergeant in 1945.

In 1948 he returned to the Detroit newspaper group, resigning in 1950 to become an account executive and copy writer for E-M Public Relations, Detroit. He joined Lerner Newspapers in 1957.

Cummins replaces Jim Davies, who resigned in June as news editor.

Married and father of five daughters, Cummins lives at 26 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights.

Simon Promises to Consider Rezoning

Seymour Simon, new president of the Cook County Board, says "great weight" will be given in the future to objections from suburban villages to proposed rezonings.

A joint meeting of Arlington Heights trustees and some plan commission members was told Monday by Jack Siegel, village attorney, that Simon told Siegel at a lunch engagement that no rezonings would be approved if a village objects.

"I hope he was serious," Siegel added.

SIMON said Tuesday that he was, indeed, serious. ("I'm too busy to be anything else.") But he said Siegel's paraphrase of what he said was a bit too sweeping.

When there are objections, they will be taken very seriously," Simon declared.

Study Zoning Beyond Limits

Arlington Heights is moving to put its future geographical expansion on a planned basis.

Taking advantage of new authority given by the last state legislature, village officials are working on the big job of drafting an ordinance which would designate areas desired for future annexation, and assign to them a zoning classification.

Such an ordinance, when adopted, would become part of the village's comprehensive plan.

According to Village Attorney Jack Siegel, the ordinance would:

—Let the public know where the village is going.

—Be useful to prospective annexees.

—Help sustain the village in its future decisions, because they would be made as part of a comprehensive plan.

MOST VILLAGE trustees and several members of the Plan Commission met informally Monday night to discuss the project and take their first look at a map showing areas which might be annexed and their suggested zoning.

The map was drawn by Eugene Baughman, planning consultant to the village.

Officials regard the map as top secret at present, although Baughman said it was tentative and many changes surely would be made. Both Baughman and Harold Carlson, Plan Commission chairman, said land speculators had made efforts to gain information on what it contained.

OFFICIALS present Monday did not discuss detailed aspects of the map. A smaller group, composed of three members of each board, will soon undertake a detailed study of the area, section by section.

In general discussion, however, several ideas were advanced.

Carlson mentioned the desirability of future village boundaries adhering to established school and park district boundaries where possible. He also suggested it would be unwise to go beyond fenced expressways no matter how desirable the land on the other side, because of the difficulty of providing services.

TRUSTEE Eugene Schlickman suggested that annexation planning made it important for Arlington Heights to reach agreement with its neighbors on future dividing lines. Those present agreed, but added that Arlington Heights should determine its own intentions first.

Included in Baughman's suggestions was provision for a future zoning classification for residential areas with 20,000 square foot lots. He explained that this classification would protect home areas now existing on these large lots if they were to be annexed.

Concern was expressed that the coming Route 53 Expressway have an interchange with Algonquin Road. Without an interchange, land along Algonquin Road would be less desirable as office, research or manufacturing sites.

APPARENTLY, the current intention of the state highway department is to provide such an interchange.

In a letter dated July 2, written by Roger F. Nusbaum, deputy chief highway engineer to the mayor of Rolling Meadows, it was stated:

"Our revised plan will provide for a complete interchange with Algonquin Road by means of a partial cloverleaf situated in the two northerly quadrants of the intersection between the Route 53 Expressway and Algonquin Road."

D-A-R-T-O Ruled Out By Cops

A game called "D-A-R-T-O" never got played at the Campbell Street carnival in Arlington Heights last weekend because Police Sgt. Maurice English decided it was kin to a game called "B-I-N-G-O."

This is how Sgt. English described the game:

"The game is played by any number of players who purchase one or more cards similar to bingo only with the letters D-A-R-T-O.

"EACH PLAYER then throws a dart at a numbered board. The number struck is registered on a master board.

"All players are then entitled to cover the corresponding numbers on their card until a line is filled horizontally, vertically or diagonally."

Sgt. English ruled that "due to lack of individual skill, the game is considered a game of chance."

Last Barricade Removed Here

The last barricades are down and newly widened Arlington Heights Road is clear for traffic between Thomas Street and Rand Road.

The job of widening the road to four lanes was begun last fall and was carried out by the Cook County Highway Department.

Woman Admits She Set Apartment Fire

Mrs. Helen C. Kleinhans, 47, a school teacher, has been charged with arson and jailed after she admitted setting fire to her apartment at 1106 W. Hawthorne, Arlington Heights, at about 2 a.m. Wednesday.

According to Fire Chief Harvey Carothers, Mrs. Kleinhans said: "I did it. I want to give myself up. Now we'll see if something will be done."

CHIEF CAROTHERS said that Mrs. Kleinhans alerted residents of other apartments in the wing, and all eight apartments were evacuated. No one was injured. Several thousands of dollars of damage resulted from the fire, the chief estimated.

She was sitting on her suitcase, fully clothed, when police and firemen arrived.

The state fire marshal has been notified and asked to make an investigation.

Arlington Heights police report that Mrs. Kleinhans has telephoned them frequently with "nuisance" calls. The fire department was called to her apartment recently when she reported smelling gas.

MRS. KLEINHANS has been inactive as a teacher since she broke her leg last January, police said.

Police reported that Mrs. Kleinhans said she used a crumpled newspaper to start a fire in her bedroom and in chairs in the living room. When things were blazing, she left the apartment and aroused her neighbors.

She was scheduled to appear before Police Magistrate Robert C. Buckley on Aug. 8 for a preliminary hearing.

Threaten Commuters By Railway Dispute

An estimated 5,800 commuters in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine will be without transportation today if a threatened strike by a telegraphers' union goes through.

General passenger agent Charles E. Quackenbush said at press time yesterday that he "just can't say" if the union will strike as scheduled at 7 a.m. today. The railroad will halt all service in nine states and for 70,000 Chicago area commuters if the walkout goes through.

AMONG THE 70,000 are 2,600 from Arlington Heights; 2,000 from Mount Prospect and 1,200 from Palatine.

President John F. Kennedy has requested the telegraphers to postpone their threatened strike for 45 days. The strike would "prejudice seriously the public interest in the continued operation of this vital link in the nation's transportation system," he said in telegrams to Ben W. Heineman, C&NW board chairman, and George E. Leighty, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

The President's request came Tuesday as negotiators for both sides met throughout the day with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, Undersecretary W. Willard Wirtz and National Meditation Board representatives.

THE UNION has pressed for acceptance of a ob stabilization clause in its contract with North Western, demanding that no telegrapher's position in existence as of Dec. 3, 1957, be discontinued or abolished except by mutual agreement of the union and the railroad.

Almost 1,000 union members are working on the North Western. The telegraphers claim this is a loss of 600 on the line during the past five years due to job eliminations and depot consolidations.

Park Manor Developers Stymied Again

Slight School Tax Drop Anticipated

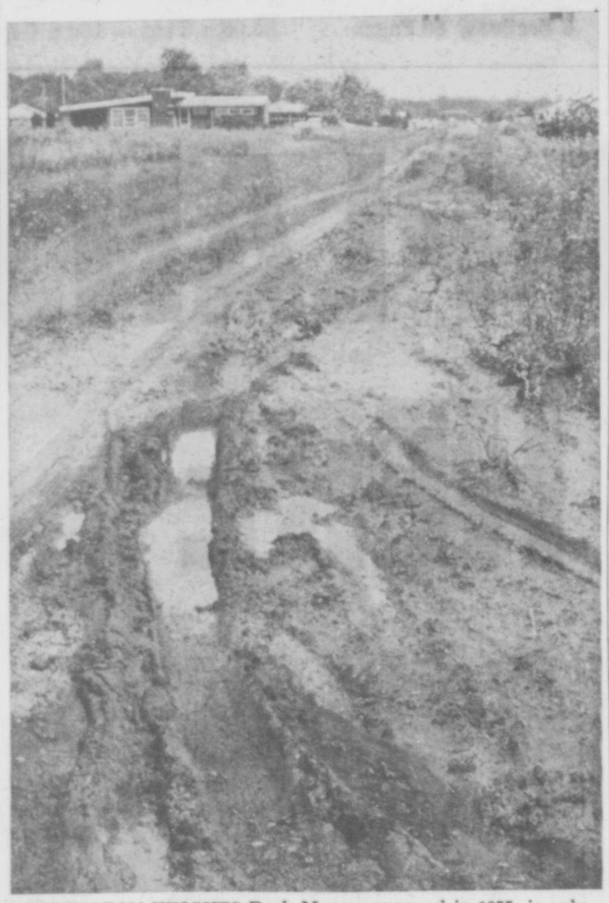
A slight drop in the tax rate is expected by Arlington Heights Elementary School District 25. It would show up on tax bills mailed next spring.

The district expects that increased assessed valuation in the district will lower the bond and interest rate. The educational, building, retirement and transportation rates will be unchanged.

THE TAX RATE is one of several subjects discussed in the district's midsummer report.

The district will have 26 additional teachers, and six more clerical and custodial employes, than last year, due to the addition of 13 new elementary classrooms and 10 additional junior high classes.

Two teaching positions are open. (A



ARLINGTON HEIGHTS Park Manor, annexed in 1955, is only 12 per cent developed; most existing streets are in poor condition with no curbs and gutters. Installation of sewer, water and streets is the goal of plans which have been underway for more than two years.

Streets Need To be Vacated

Progress on sewer, water and streets for Park Manor Subdivision in southeast Arlington Heights, while farther along than ever before, is at a standstill.

Installation of the improvements should begin "sometime next year."

Engineer William Cadigan of Consoer, Townsend and Associates is stymied on plans until street vacations and widths are determined.

The latter may be set by the Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) at its August 30 meeting. Planning consultant Eugene Baughman reported this week that his recommendations, urgently requested by the BOLI, have been prepared.

THE STREET vacations will be on the agenda for the village board meeting August 20. Settling these after the board acts is the major legal problem anticipated by Village Atty. Jack Siegel.

However, Cadigan is somewhat less optimistic than BOLI member Edmond M. Shanahan, who said the board is aiming for next spring as a starting date. The engineer said this is an "outside possibility," in view of the legalities and negotiations which must be covered. But we will get started sometime in 1963."

The "mass of confusion" in the whole plan has been assailed by BOLI member Harold Klingner, who asserted, "If we are going ahead on this, we should do it by next spring."

Upgrading of the area has been a top priority village headache for more than two years.

COMPLETION of the plan will take six to eight weeks following determination of the street widths and vacations, Cadigan explained. This would set the earliest possible date for a public hearing in mid-October or early November; then the special assessment spread must be prepared and taken to court. Bids may be let only after the assessment is formally approved.

Part of the improvements will go in by private contract, the BOLI decided last Thursday. The 51 home owners (only 12 per cent of the area is developed) may save an estimated $100 each if they go in on plans to put sewer and water services in by private contract.

Cadigan quoted estimates of about $160 per home for the services on contract, compared to other estimates ranging to $275 for the same services on special assessment. This arrangement will not exempt property owners from assessment for the basic sewer and water lines or streets.

A $130 CHECK is due by August 30 from each home owner who wants in on the contract.

Meanwhile, the home owners' association has rejected another savings of $100 per home offered by George Wallach and Associates, developer — owner of about 200 lots in the 649-lot subdivision.

The money would help reduce the cost of the special assessments to the residents because it would be readily available to the contractor and help bring down his discount rate.

Noting the condition of the offer that forbids opposition by residents to court confirmation of the assessment roll, Mrs. Walter J. Damm Jr. of 710 S. Cleveland said, "We want to be able to fight something if we don't feel it is right. A hundred dollars isn't worth it — it's just a drop in the bucket."

WALLACH'S attorney, Alfred S. Druth said the offer will still be open until filing of the assessment roll in court.

Rejection of the offer by the home owners is a continuance of a feud growing out of plan revisions to include multiple-dwelling, commercial and service districts along the periphery of the area, bounded by the Chicago and North Western tracks on the north, Arthur Avenue on the east, Central Road on the south and Dryden Place on the west.

Home owner association members assert they accepted the plan late last spring only with the understanding that the Wallach company would provide a substantial sum in advance on the assessments. This would presumably reduce the total cost.

"We definitely had the impression costs would be cut down, or we wouldn't have gone along with the second plan," contended association president Joseph D. DeVito.

"WE CAN'T FIGURE out where we'll be able to save money now," declared Mrs. Damm, a member of the association's executive committee.

Denying that any such representation was ever made, Druth said the Wallack firm intends to do its utmost to insure a minimum bid.

The first plan for upgrading the area, drawn up on the home owners' petition in 1960, was thrown out when estimated costs came out at $60-$70 per front foot. Costs for the second final plan have been estimated at about $30-$40 per front foot.

Total costs for the improvements, largest single effort of this nature in village history, was once figured at about $1 million. Cadigan said he hasn't re-figured the total since the changes were effected.

Further opposition to the plan may be encountered because of the added non-single family district. Another smaller trouble spot is the proposed park of slightly less than two acres at McKinley Avenue and Rockwell Street.

"THIS SITE is wholly inadequate for the implied density of the subdivision," asserted BOLI member Ewing. "We have to consider expanding it."

"What has happened has resulted from the helter-skelter, scared attitudes of the people who pushed the original special assessment proceedings," Klingner claimed. "The village board's main purpose for rezoning was to give the developer incentive to go ahead in order to give the property owners relief."

While expressing pleasure with the village's progress to date, Druth sounded an urgent note on behalf of the Wallach firm.

"Construction of our models will commence as soon as the special assessment is approved by the court," he said. "We hope this still can be accomplished before the end of the building season this fall." (A

To Elect 'Appeal' Officers August 4

Officers will be elected and committees formed for the Arlington Heights Area Combined Appeal at a meeting of the executive committee at 1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 4, at the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Thomas H. Stewart, acting chairman, said the committees must move fast since a fund drive is planned for this fall. He said it was especially important for the budget committee to begin work.

THE COMBINED Appeal organization is being formed under the auspices of the Arlington Heights Community Council.

The necessary papers for incorporation have been sent to Springfield by the group's attorney, Stephen Jurco, and a state charter is expected soon.

Other matters to be discussed Saturday are possible affiliation with the national organization in the field, and a request from Prospect Heights to be included in the program. (AF

Q. My daughter has become engaged to a young man whose home is in a distant city. She has not met his mother, but would like to write her a note. Don't you think his mother should be the first to write?

A. Yes, his mother should write a letter of welcome to your daughter — and, if necessary, her son should ask his mother to do this.

On Drainage Problem

Trustees from Three Municipalities Meet

A joint committee of trustees from municipalities drained by Weller Creek will meet August 15 to begin the search for a solution to the common problem of storm water flooding.

The formation of the committee was agreed upon at a meeting Monday night in Mount Prospect which brought together representatives of that village, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, and the inactive and debt-ridden Weller Creek Drainage District.

ROLLING MEADOWS will be invited to attend the Aug. 15 meeting, and the Metropolitan Sanitary District also promised to be there to offer help.

Monday's meeting resulted from fears by Mount Prospect and Des Plaines that construction of Arlington Heights' 3.5 million dollar storm sewer system will add to their woes by sending more water faster into Weller Creek and thus to them.

In addition to the Aug. 15 meeting, all present Monday agreed to ask their village officials for signatures on a resolution which will urge Governor Kerner to release state funds for basic improvements in Weller Creek.

THE LEGISLATURE has approved funds for two stages of the five-stage project, but the governor froze the funds because of the state's financial crisis.

Although Monday's meeting ended amicably, and on the note of joint effort, there was some difference of opinion, beginning with how much Arlington Heights' new storm sewers would aggravate the flooding problem in the downstream communities of Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.

Engineers present differed on that point. Carl Reh, of Greeley & Hansen, has been retained by Mount Prospect. Robert Peterson, of Suhr, Peterson, Peterson & Suhr, spoke for Arlington Heights. Ed Fletcher, Des Plaines city engineer, was also present.

REH REVIEWED a report he had prepared for Mount Prospect which concluded that "the intensity and frequency of flooding in the creek upstream of Golf Road will increase after the Arlington Heights storm sewer program is completed, unless these improvements are accompanied by Weller Creek improvements."

Fletcher said: "We (Des Plaines) will be in serious danger when this improvement (the Arlington Heights sewers) is completed."

Peterson said the Arlington Heights sewers would do little to aggravate the problem.

PETERSON ALSO presented the idea of retention basins to catch the water of heavy storms and prevent it from entering Weller Creek until the creek could handle it.

He said a 22-acre retention basin in the Central Road area would cost $360,000 as a rough estimate, plus the cost of the land, and that a "stop-gap" retention basin of about 10 acres would cost $150,000.

Henry P. Walsh, representing the Metropolitan Sanitary District, strongly endorsed the idea of retention basins. "You can never design facilities to handle immediate run-off," he said. "You must retard the water. That is true not only of Weller Creek but everywhere."

JOHN WOODS, village president of Arlington Heights, said the village had two retention basins with a third one planned. Fletcher reported that Des Plaines had several retention basins.

Some tension filled the air after Peterson said, "I do not think the new sewer will make a great deal of difference in the over-all problem of Weller Creek."

C. O. Schlaver, Mount Prospect village president, then remarked: "If the gentlemen from Arlington Heights want to answer our people, I invite them to do so."

THAT AROUSED Woods, who said Arlington Heights first studied its storm sewer question in 1958, held an unsuccessful referendum in 1959, got a new report last August, held a widely publicized referendum which carried last December, and has now incurred financial obligations to build the sewers.

"At this point," Woods declared, "we have heard from Mount Prospect for the first time. I think there has been a considerable lack of diligence on the part of Mount Prospect."

Then he added: "Don't ask us, C. O., to turn back the clock. If we can help in any other way, please ask us and we will do it."

SCHLAVER REPLIED: "We commend you; you have done what we would do. But we had to have time to study."

Mount Prospect Trustee Parker Ekren also told Woods: "We needed time to get the proper engineering study."

Norval Stephens, Arlington Heights trustee, told the delegates that Arlington Heights got storm water as well as gave it, too.

"Rolling Meadows is rather efficient at delivering water to us," he said.

THEN HE returned to the idea of retention basins, which was again seconded by Walsh, who added, "Each town must use them to take care of the town below it."

At one point Robert Warnicke, Des Plaines public works superintendent, suggested the communities involved might have to get together to create a Weller Creek Authority and float a bond issue.

The idea of a joint committee to begin meeting Aug. 15 received general support. Several voices urged that it be a "solution" committee and not just a fact-finding committee.

Three trustees from each community will be named to the committee, which will meet at 8 p.m. in the Mount Prospect village hall.

Fr. McCormick Dies Monday

The Rev. Thomas J. McCormick, C.S.V., who had been living in retirement at Our Lady of Arlington novitiate, 1212 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, died Monday in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines, on his 102nd birthday.

Father McCormick was the oldest living Viatorian and was believed to be the oldest priest in the United States.

In 1902, he had been told by doctors that he had only a year to live.

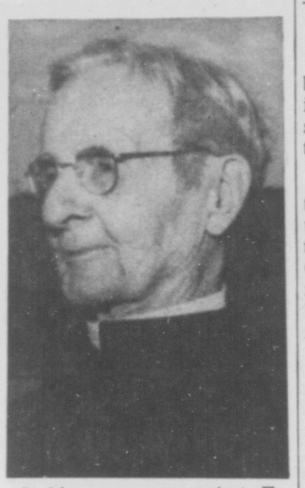
On his 100th birthday, he attributed his longevity to the Lord.

"HOWEVER," he added, "I may have helped through moderation and regular exercise."

Known as a great walker, Father McCormick used to walk up to four miles a day. A light eater, he was said by his intimates to have never had what otherpeoplewoulc onsidedar.s r other people would consider a full meal.

Father McCormick was born in Manchester, N. H., in 1860. His pioneer parents moved to LaSalle, Ill., when he was seven years old, and there raised a family of eight children.

HE ENTERED the Clerics of St. Viator in 1886. After completing his collegiate and theological studies, he was ordained to the priesthood in 1894 by Archbishop Katzer in Milwaukee.



In his career as a priest, Father McCormick was college professor of English, director of the old Holy Name School in Chicago, and pastor of St. Viator Parish, Chicago.

In 1899, he founded St. Edward's Parish on Chicago's Northwest Side. He later did missionary work in Oregon and South Dakota.

FOR 14 YEARS prior to his retirement, Father McCormick was chaplain to the Ephpheta School for the Deaf, then located at Belmont and Crawford Avenues, Chicago.

On the occasion of his 100th birthday celebration, the Viatorians held a family gathering to offer a mass of thanksgiving in his honor.

Illegal Go-Karts Banned

Arlington Heights police have been requested to discourage illegal operation of go-karts and similar small vehicles on public thoroughfares.

Charles F. Carpentier, secretary of state, has pointed out that most persons involved in this violation are youngsters. Operators of all motor vehicles must hold valid operator driver licenses, he noted, and 16 is the minimum age for these licenses.

ALSO, ALL motor vehicles must be registered and display license plates. In most cases, licenses are not available to go-karts because they do not meet the equipment requirements.

These are that all motor vehicles must be equipped with brakes on all wheels, with front lights visible at least 500 feet and with turn signal devices.

U.S.-Peru Tension Delays Shipment

The first friendship shipment of supplies from Arlington Heights to Comas, Peru, has been delayed because of tensions between the United States and Peru following the recent military coup in the South American republic.

A variety of supplies from Arlington Heights are aboard the Navy ship U.S.S.Constitution, but the ship's departure for Peru has been delayed because of the diplomatic situation.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Inter-American Friendship Program was notified of the delay in a letter from Cmdr. B. M. "Hoppy" Hanson, of the Navy's "Operation Handclasp."

"Operation Handclasp" transports such friendship shipments to foreign lands on Navy vessels when it does not interfere with Navy schedules.

Included in the shipment are vitamins, used clothing, toys, books, hand tools and school supplies donated by Arlington residents during a drive by the various civic organizations which make up Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship Program.

Safe Driving Is Only Subject at 'School'

by HESTER KLINE

New schools are old hat in the northwest suburbs—unless it is as unique as the newest educational institution in Rolling Meadows.

The school's curriculum is limited to one subject — safe driving.

It is one of the five driver education schools just opened in suburban Cook County under the auspices of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission.

Sending traffic violators to school is a new approach in the continuing battle to cut the accident toll, and the 105 police magistrates and 70 justices of the peace in the county outside of Chicago hailed the announcement of the schools by President Seymour Simon of the county board.

"Most violations are due to ignorance," according to Robert J. Casey, Rolling Meadows police magistrate. "This will be a refresher course for drivers."

Casey is one of the suburban jurists who intend to make school attendance mandatory for violators hailed into their courts. In fact, he is the man responsible for establishment of a branch of the school in the northwest area.

LEARNING THAT county officials intended to open schools north, south and west of the big city, Casey called the matter to the attention of Mayor John J. Woods, and they unhesitatingly approached John J. McCleverty, traffic safety director for the county, for a local branch.

Similar schools have operated successfully for a number of years in Chicago and a few of the suburbs, but such facilities have been lacking in the unincorporated areas and in 119 incorporated cities and villages in the county outside of Chicago, Simon noted.

Local judges are enthusiastic. Many of them were looking for punishment more effective than fines. Casey frequently has assigned youthful offenders a theme to write.

"NOT JUST copying 100 times 'I will not go through stop signs,' but enough of a task that it required research," he remarked. One boy has been doing clean-up work around the city hall in lieu of a fine.

Teens particularly will be required to attend the two sessions of the safety education course. Adults who drive more than 15 miles over the speed limit, or who commit a dangerous act while behind the wheel will also be enrolled, often in addition to a fine.

Casey has learned how ineffectual even a stiff fine can be. Twice since the school was set up he boosted the fine by $10, offering to lower the cost if the offender would take the safety course, and both times the violator preferred to pay the extra amount rather than spend two evenings learning the rules of the road.

"SO NOW I will make the school mandatory whenever I think it will be effective," he said firmly.

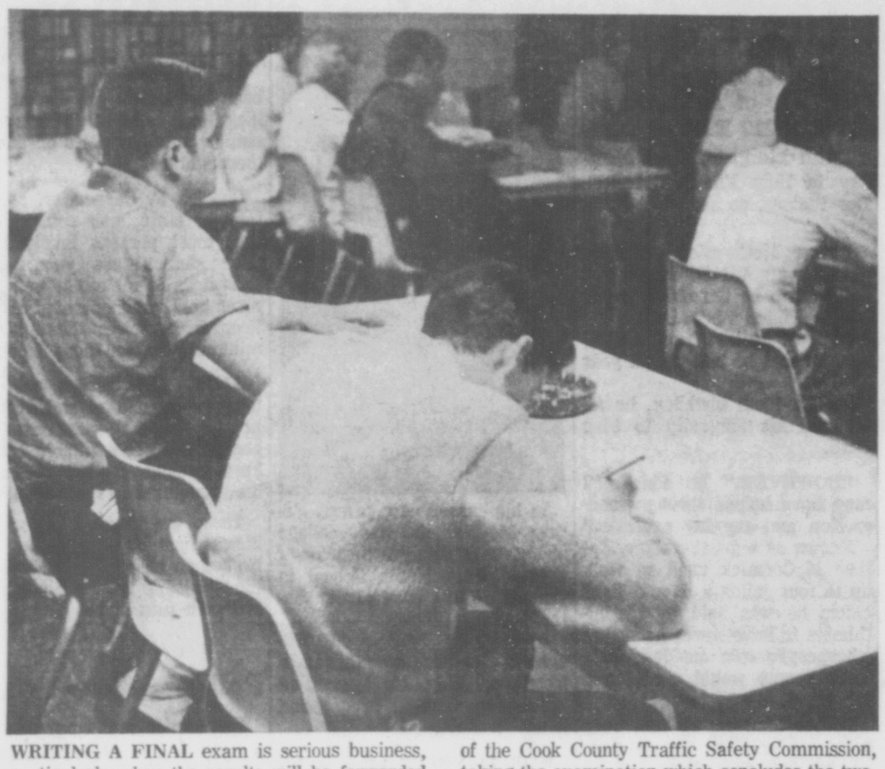
Convenient locations are an aid to both judge and defendant. A west suburban woman, found guilty of a violation in a northwest suburb, is attending class in Bellwood, not far from her home. When the course ends, her grades will be sent back to the judge before disposition of her case.

The school serving northwest suburbanites in Barrington, Hanover, Palatine, Schaumburg Wheeling and Elk Grove townships meets at 7 p.m. Monday evenings in the Rolling Meadows Bowl, 3245 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows. The court-room in Bellwood serves the west area, and there is a school in Morton Grove for the northeast area.

CLASSES FOR southwest Cook County are held in the Oak Lawn Village Hall, and for the southeast area in the sheriff's highway station in Homewood.

Class attendance is not limited to traffic violators alone, said Simon, who is president of the traffic safety commission. Other drivers are welcomed for the free instructions by teams of safety experts.

Films, slides and lectures are the teaching aids. Students take a test during the first of the two sessions, then a final examination to test how much they have learned. Results are forwarded to the judge. (B8



WRITING A FINAL exam is serious business, particularly when the results will be forwarded to a judge to determine whether the student has learned the rules of safe driving before final dispostion of a traffic violation case. Shown here are members of the first class in northwest suburban driver education school under auspices of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission, taking the examination which concludes the two-session course. Referrals to the school are made by police magistrates and justices of the peace, but anyone interested in learning safety rules may attend. (B8

Women for Peace Set To Pass Out Leaflets

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

A local contingent of the "Women for Peace" organization will man posts fronting Arlington Heights National Bank Saturday morning to pass out handbills protesting resumption of nuclear tests by the USSR.

The ladies captured their street-corner beachhead after a week-long legal battle over the constitutional right to distribute literature in alleged violation of the village's anti-litter ordinance.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Lillian Hayward, Des Plaines, area spokesman for the group, the ladies will not exercise their hard earned right to distribute leaflets in Mount Prospect until September, due to vacation-time depletion of their forces.

With the return of the summer-soldiers, she vows the group will surely "hit" Mount Prospect sometime in the fall.

Monday, members of the group from the surrounding suburban area will participate in a Hiroshima Day demonstration in Chicago.

They will rendezvous at Dearborn and Lake streetx at 1 p.m., then march on the loop to commemorate the infamy of the 17th anniversary of the atomic bomb. (B8

Around World In 60 Days

When Dr. Roy F. Nichols and his wife, Dr. Jeannette (Paddock) Nichols arrived in Arlington Heights Saturday night 60 minutes after their departure that day from Tokyo, they were not trying to beat any records. It was the change in time that explains that one hour.

Their itinerary required 20 plane flights and 25,000 miles of travel. There was a two hour stop-over in Rome and another at Athens. Otherwise the places they visited were confined to northern Africa and Asia.

At the request of the United States they were traveling under the auspices of the Fulbright Educational Foundation, lecturing in a workshop on American History and American Literature. At Mussoorie, India they and professors from six U. S. Universities conferred with a group of Indian university teachers. In the foothills of the Himalaya Mountains, 6500 ft. elevation, the Indian professors had assembled for this purpose; the three daily sessions continued for 19 days.

THE NICHOLSES took advantage of the opportunity to visit Egypt. They went up the Nile to Luxor (127 degree temperature) also to southern India. Their travels took them from the western city of Bombay to the eastern city of Calcutta. They took a 500 mile circuit of central and northern Ceylon and visited such places as Singapore, Thailand, Cambodia, Hong Kong, and Japan.

They found of special interest temples, as well as many renowned places centuries old.

A family reunion of the Paddock clan was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Daniels, 805 N. Dunton.

Hold Classes On Pastoral Guidance

The Chicago Psychiatric Foundation and Ontoanalytic Institute has instituted a non-denominational seminar in pastoral guidance.

The minister is confronted with every problem familiar to psychiatry, as well as many that never reach the psychiatrist. His role, therefore, is of crucial importance.

A VERY GREAT percentage of people encountering psychological problems approach their pastor first for counseling and guidance.

The Institute will hold the monthly seminars in the Institute Conference Room, 867 N. Dearborn Street, Jordan M. Scher, M.D., Director, serving as moderator on the place of the clergy in mental health problems. (B-8

TV TARGET GAME

by ED LANDWEHR

We often thought about shooting at things we saw on television but never had the foresight to figure out how it could be done. But, someone else did, and now there is a TV dart game coming out. A transparent target fastened over the face of the TV screen and a supply of suction cupped darts for missiles. You shoot at the moving figures on the screen, and what fun the kids will have with their westerns. They can get in the chase after the bad guys. I'll bet that Dad will enjoy it, too.

And to keep your shooting accurate you must have clear and sharp pictures. So, keep the TV service number CLearbrook 5-0700 handy. LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, will ride out pronto.

Camp Lions Ready to Open at Lake Villa

Lions Club members have been busy for many weeks painting and readying Camp Lions, Hastings, Illinois, for the on-rush of some 250 visually handicapped children who will attend camp in August.

Located on Hastings Lake near Lake Villa, the camp is a cooperative venture of the Lions Clubs of Illinois and the Metropolitan YMCA of Chicago. The Camp site is one of three on Hastings Lake, and during the month of August, it becomes Camp Lions.

For the last five years, the camp has been operated at a Wisconsin site and this will be the first year that the visually handicapped children of Illinois will have an opportunity to attend camp in their own state.

THE BOYS AND girls who attend the camp are sponsored by Lions Clubs throughout the state, who send the children for this experience as their guests. All of the buildings of the camp have been renovated, painted and put into tip-top condition.

Water front, mess hall, headquarters building, handicraft building— all are now waiting and ready.

Walter Granger chairman of

Walter Granger, chairman of mittee and one of the founders of the program in 1957 for visually handicapped children, is enthusiastic in his praise of the hard work done by many Lions members to make this camping experience possible.

HE SAID: "It takes an idea for anything to begin, but it takes people to make the idea work."

The Lions have secured from friends more than 400 gallons of paint which has been applied to the buildings.

Working at the Camp on one of his almost daily trips, Ed Anderson said: "The Lake View Club has purchased and installed specially designed exercise equipment that will be used by the children at the camp and after the camp season, it will be moved to the Alexander Graham Bell School to be used there during the winter.

"THE CAMP will have a strong physical fitness program, because good health is most important for the visually handicapped and unfortunately the opportunity for these children to take advantage of a planned exercise program is limited."

In a recent workday by Lions at the camp, members of the Fox Lake, Austin, Lake View and Roseland clubs participated in the fix-up, paint-up, clean-up program.

Granger said: "There will be three one-week camping periods for these children beginning on Sunday, Aug. 5. Some 85 boys and girls will enjoy a camping experience each week at Camp Lions, because of the devotion of local Lions Clubs.

Some of the funds to pay the fees of these campers come from proceeds from the Lions Annual Candy Day for the Blind, which will be held this year on Friday, Oct. 12. (B8

Prospective Parents Are Invited to Attend Class

A new Red Cross "Mother and Baby Care" class for prospective parents will begin at Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, Thursday, Aug. 2.

The class meets for six consecutive Thursday evenings, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The course consists of both discussion and practice sessions. The instructor is Mrs. Charlene Komay, staff nurse.

Mother-Baby Care courses enjoy a wide popularity in the metropolitan Chicago area. Designed for both wives and husbands, the course covers mother and infant care from the start of pregnancy through the child's first year.

TOPICS INCLUDE the baby's progress from conception through birth; the need for periodic medical examinations for mother and baby; the question of budgeting time and money; and the ways in which community health affects family health.

The teacher demonstrates to the prospective parents how to hold the baby while bathing, feeding or carrying him; and how to change a diaper.

Near the completion of the course, she will instruct them on how to guard against infection and communicable diseases; and how to give the baby a feeling of belonging.

NOT ALL students in Northwest Community Hospital baby care classes are "first timers." People with two, three or more children often register for the course in order to prepare themselves for their newest arrival.

Couples interested in taking advantage of this course may register by calling the hospital — CL 9-1000.

Classes are free, but the hospital requires class members to provide a doctor's class registration. Forms are available from most local physicians or at the hospital. (B8-

Scouts Launch Fitness Drive

"Fit for Tomorrow" is the byword of the Cub Scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council this month as they preview a special fitness program to be launched this fall across the nation by the Boy Scouts of America.

Aim of the "Fit for Tomorrow" program is building a stronger America through building stronger men.

The four-point plan of action includes a medical check-up of boys, physical testing, exercise and activities, and periodic retesting.

CUB SCOUTS build fitness in the home, den and pack, through their active, creative advancement requirements and a progressive program of fun and games.

New emphasis is being placed on additional games, stunts, dual contests and group events which will supplement advancement requirements in helping Cub Scouts become more fit as they have fun.

Although the eight- and nine-year-old Cub Scouts do not have a set of standards for this testing, they will enjoy seeing how they rate against the standards of their 10-year-old buddies.

By keeping their progress charts they can begin preparation for the tests when they reach 10 years of age.

DURING JULY, Cub Scouts plan their weekly den activities around the theme of "Strength and Skill."

Cub Scouting strives to help every member become a proficient swimmer. (B8

Q. How are canapes eaten?

A. Canapes that are served before a meal are eaten with the fingers and with cocktails in the living room. At the table, however, they are eaten with the fork.

Q. When a man is escorting his wife and another woman to a social function, which one does he help first with her wraps?

A. The woman guest.

Q. Is it considered bad manners to take anything to drink while there is food in your mouth?

A. Yes, since this might leave particles of food in the beverage. Then, too, one should avoid the appearance of "washing down" one's food. It is amazing how many people are guilty of this breach of etiquette.

Q. Is it all right for the bridegroom's mother to invite her friends to her son's wedding?

A. She must not do this herself. She may suggest the names to her son, and he passes them on to his fiancee, who does the mailing of all invitations.

Soggy July Weekends Couldn't Halt Social Schedules

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Local hosts of many recent would-be outdoor parties gladly said goodbye to July and its almost unbroken succession of soggy weekends. Despite the weather, though, Arlington Heighters continued to crowd a happy-hectic vacation schedule with lots of activity both here and away.

Like lots of other people the Mirrell Kepharts have had a vacation, but unlike most others they've had theirs aboard a Mississippi riverboat, enjoying a week somewhat Mark Twainish in character. They chartered a houseboat and began an upriver trip at Davenport, then lazied along "ole man river" for 100 miles to Dubuque, returning to 801 S. Evergreen via the family car last Friday. Happily doing the Huck Finn bit to young Mirrell's Tom Sawyer was Mirrell's neighborhood buddy, Peter Loris.

Eight suburban housewives, former Arlington high school-mates, who meet regularly for at-home luncheons recently enjoyed their annual summertime luncheon-out occasion. Meeting at the Villa D'Este in Cary for a gala afternoon were Mrs. Warren Weed, Mrs. James Maloney and Mrs. Lee Heller of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Thomas Kourus, Mrs. Charles Stadell Jr. and Mrs. William Sapp of Palatine; Mrs. H. Heinsoth of Lake Zurich and Mrs. George Weiland of Deerfield.

THE ROBERT Wright family returned to 301 N. Derbyshire Friday after a week with Glenview friends in a Spooner, Wis. lakeside cottage. Sharing the Wright family vacation fun was Kim's neighborhood friend, Pat Kent. Pat and Kim had their initial go at water-skiing and proudly report "up" on their first attempt, thus qualifying as vets like the rest of the family.

Saturday the Wrights' daughter, Carole, left by plane with her neighborhood friend, Peggy Bliss, for Baltimore and a 2-week stay in the East. They'll be the house guests of Peggy's Uncle Gene and his family in Baltimore.

Also departing by plane Saturday, fortunately from the same airport, were two more daughters of the Blisses', Betty and Lucy. They'll be with their aunt and family, the Floyd Cecils of Fairborn, suburb of Dayton, where a full week's schedule is planned. Meanwhile, back at the Bliss home, 1307 E. Eastman, one remaining daughter, Ginny, keeps Mom and Dad from forgetting their parent status.

Among last Saturday's rain-postponed outdoor events was the Irving Ellefsen corn roast, re-scheduled for Sunday and ultimately brought indoors anyhow. The ears were roasted and eaten in the backyard at 1221 S. Prairie between widely separated raindrops which eventually got together en masse, driving the Ellefsens' 30 local friends inside.

THE EDWIN Guenthers, 445 S. Vail, came home Friday evening from a 3-week vacation in Florida, bringing with them greetings from ex-Arlington Heighters, now of the "Sunshine State." The Guenthers' "home base" was Treasure Island, and side-trips were made to Pinella Park, Punta Gorda, Fort Myers and Sanibel Island. At their first stop they visited former local police officer Ira Melbourne and his wife, who asked to be remembered to their many Arlington Heights friends.

By ferry the Guenthers went to Sanibel Island where they reunited with the Henry Cuscadens who left here about 18 months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Cuscaden now manage the Reef Hotel where their visitors stayed for a day to exchange news and bring away a harvest of greetings for local friends of the one-time Arlington Heighters.

Recent visitors in the Erhard Reiss home, 618 S. Evergreen, were Mr. and Mrs. Art Wilding of Louisville, here during their host's vacation. With their guests, the Reisses enjoyed seeing Chicago's sights, a few as new to them as to the Wildings.

THE H. T. "Bob" Lemmons family, 624 S. Walnut, are home again after a week's vacation in Monticello, Ind.

Exuberant about an all-round perfect week in Whitehall, Mich. is the Edward Grabow family, home again at 1201 N. Mitchell after a lazy, lakeside stay in the Michillinda Lodge.

Miss Janice Weidner and Miss Patty Morton recently returned from a 2-week trip, flying to Pensacola, Fla., motoring to New Orleans and then coming home by air. Everything was wonderful; the travel, the sights and the change to a warm and sunny climate.

For one week of Miss Weidner's vacation, the rest of the family at 1441 N. Dunton was enjoying visits with Mr. Weidner's brothers and sisters in Omaha and Columbus, Neb.

Former Arlington Heighter Miss Doris Kronenberger of Mesa, Ariz., recently vacationed here with her parents, now of Prairie View, and returned to Arizona accompanied by Miss Phyllis Muran, 1319 N. Dunton. From Mesa, Miss Muran went by bus to Los Angeles where she visited relatives and toured the area, returning by plane a week ago Sunday.

THE CARL Reitmeyers, 227 S. Mitchell, came home Sunday from two weeks in Syracuse, N. Y., where they visited Mrs. Reitmeyer's mother and sister, Mrs. Edward Slocum and Betty.

The Robert Perschbacher family, 310 N. Derbyshire, came home Friday from two weeks of visiting relatives, re-uniting with former Arlington Heights neighbors and touring throughout the former largest state in the union. In Dallas they were with Mrs. Perschbacher's brother and family, the Roger Beaches, and side-tripped from there to various attractions in the area, one of them the Dallas home of the M. M. "Pete" Tappens, one-time N. Derbyshire residents.

The Tappens sent back big hellos to all their friends here plus the word that they miss Arlington Heights "like everything."

From Dallas, the Perschbachers went on to San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, thence to Lake Charles, La. and home via Collinsville, Ill. where they overnighted with Mr. Perschbacher's sister and family, the Rev. William Sills.

A SMALL family celebration and an undisclosed number of roses last Thursday marked the birthday of Mrs. Harold Nebel at 203 S. Kennicott, and the day was most gratifying. Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Nebel were invited to the Luettschwager home, 608 N. Dunton, "just for a little while — nothing special" and the birthday girl walked into a surprise party of 50 local friends.

Host Wally Luettschwager and the others revived their "victim" with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres and eventually Nebel casually suggested transplanting the party to his home. There his wife had another happy-shock: a local dance combo and buffet supper awaited the party.

"Caterers" for the supper were the kind of friends every surprise party planning-husband should have, Mrs. Carl Luettschwager and Mrs. Fred Kehe. Three days later Mrs. Nebel sighed, "I'm still on cloud nine —" and went on to leave no doubt that the party, her husband and their friends are all wonderful.

ANOTHER LOCAL birthday last Tuesday revealed that even 13-year-old boys are not immune to the peculiar thrill of a surprise party in their honor. Roger Kendall was safe in assuming there'd be a minor family flurry at 733 S. Dunton to mark his birthday, but he was unprepared for the luncheon and swimming party Mom had cooked up right under his nose.

Three neighborhood buddies, Kent Wendorf, Martin Stahl and David Woods, helped revive Roger after their initial "Surprise!" blast, and the afternoon was a well-fed, swimming success.

Weekend guests in the Kenneth Peterson home, 702 S. Highland, were the host's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lindamood and Dennis of Spring Valley, Minn.

RECENT VISITORS in the Ralph Slater home, 406 W. Fremont, were Mr. Slater's mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Garber of Chillicothe, Mo. They left early last week after a week here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sinclair, 630 W. Central, have been entertained for the past two weeks by their grandson and namesake, John III of Chicago. Little John returns home over the weekend to meet a brand new brother, Mark Alexander, born July 23.

The Richard Graczyk family, 718 S. Chestnut, weekended with relatives in Green Bay where they basked in sunshine and warmth seriously lacking here. Earlier in the week they spent two days in Springfield, touring historical attractions and other highlights of the state capitol. Still earlier a family celebration marked the July 22 birthday of the man of the house, and the end of Tom's mumps which came perilously close to snarling up family vacation plans.

FRIENDS HERE of the Edward J. Corcoran family of Atlanta, former residents on N. Walnut, will be interested to know that Miss Betty Corcoranine, appears in the movie as is visiting friends in the Chicago area, including Miss Kathy Hasbach of Palatine. Mr. Corcoran was comptroller for General Services Administration in Chicago before transferring South. He is now retired from government service and is comptroller for Central Investment and Mortgage Cofpany.

Daniel Corcoran was voted president of the Student Government for the coming year at Briarcliff High School where he will be a senior, and recently returned from the Key Club International Convention at Long Beach, Calif.

Visiting here and staying in their former home at 9 S. Reuter, are Mr. and Mrs. Eugenia Shiley from Birmingham, Ala., whose children, Ann, and John, will be attending the University of Alabama and Howard College in Birmingham, respectively, this fall. The Shileys who moved from here three years ago, expect to be in the area for about two weeks.

WILLIAM BALL, 454 Banbury, returned home last week from a 3½ week business trip to Europe, which took him to England, Germany, France, Switzerland, Holland and Denmark.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton, have as their houseguests, the latter's niece, Miss Marcia Jane Demske of De Pere, Wis., and Mrs. Jerry Peterson of Anchorage, Alaska, and her daughters, Ann and Jean. Mrs. Peterson is the mother of Ronald Peterson, the Kussows' son-in-law, and flew from Alaska to the West Coast, from where she motored to New York for a visit with her son and his family in West Islip, before coming to Arlington Heights.

She brought back her eldest grandson, Scotty, who will remain with his maternal grandparents for the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Peterson and her daughters plan to vacation in the states before motoring back to Alaska.

MR. AND MRS. Garwin Dawley, 905 Mayfair, were hosts at a steak cookout Saturday for 19 guests to celebrate the third birthday of their son, Michael, and the 34th birthday of the host. While some of the plans had to be altered because of Saturday's inclement weather, the cookout went on as planned and neither rain nor cold dampened spirits at the gay party.

Earlier in the week, the Dawleys had as their out-of-town houseguests, friends from Racine, the Charles Bingens and their children, Paula and Eric.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Jensen, 418 S. Lincoln, returned Wednesday from a 2-week vacation in Wyoming, dividing their time with Mr. Jensen's parents, the Walter Jensens, at their mountain cabin in Saratoga, and the Snowy Range Mountains in Medicine Bow.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Mitchell Kendrick, 921 S. Beverly, and their son, Jim, spent the past two weeks vacationing in Door County at the Ephraim Inn. Joining the Kendricks in Ephraim were friends from St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Swanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Garrett of Winston Salem, N.C., and their two children, recently spent two weeks in Arlington Heights, dividing their visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davenport, 314 S. Beverly, and his parents, the William Garretts of Inverness.

MR. AND MRS. Robert R. Stark, 538 S. Dryden, have said goodbye to their Arlington Heights friends and neighbors and left this week for their new home in Washington D.C.

Mrs. Thomas McGrath gave a farewell luncheon for Mrs. Stark Wednesday and Saturday evening, all the families of the 500 block of Dryden gathered for a barbecue and block party to fete the Starks. Because of rain, the party, which was planned for outdoors, was moved to the Wickstrom home, which provided ample room for the guests and a large canopy for the barbecue. The round of farewell parties ended Sunday at a brunch given by the Jerre Frautschys.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Wylie, 626 S. Dryden, and their children, Linda and Bruce, returned last week from a 3-week motor trip to St. Petersburg, Fla. While in St. Petersburg, they enjoyed a surprise chance meeting with their former Scarsdale neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Aldrich, who now live in Mount Prospect.

Enroute home, they stopped in Wilmington, N. C., to show their eldest child, Bruce, his birthplace and then went on to Lancaster, Pa., spending a week with Mrs. Wylie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wissler.

Mr. and Mrs. August Burnier, 516 E. Fairview, attended a private preview of the "Music Man" Wednesday at the Chicago theatre. The movie was of special interest to the Burniers because their daughter, Jeanine, appears in the movie as one of the townspeople. Jeanine and her husband, Carl Brix, live in Santa Monica, Calif. and recently became parents of their first child, a daughter, named Amanda, was born May 11.

MR. AND MRS. Edward McGrath, 206 E. Rockwell, and their four children were in North Hills, Pa., recently for the wedding of their niece, Miss Mary K. Thayer, to Joseph Massino Jr. in the Queen of Peace Catholic Church. The McGraths' two eldest daughters, Frances and Patricia, served as bridesmaids at the wedding. Following the wedding the McGraths went to Avalon, N. J., to spend a week vacationing on the New Jersey seashore.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Myer, 819 Bristol, took their daughter, Terrell Ann, to Saugatuck, Mich., last week, where she will spend 10 days at Camp Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lepinski, 706 E. Mayfair, welcomed the latter's sister and brother-in-law, the Melvin Kieffers of Wauwatosa, Wis., when they arrived last weekend, bringing home the Lepinski's daughter, Ellen, who had been visiting her aunt.

MR. AND MRS. Ian MacLachlan, 1230 Woodford, had as their houseguests for 5 days last week, Mrs. Mac Lachlan's sister and brother-inlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Spaeth of Jackson, Mich., and their children, Dosia, Carl and Emily.

Mrs. Edward O. McKown Jr., 206 S. Gibbons, her son, Ted, and daughter, Karyl, spent the past three weeks vacationing in the northwest. They flew to Seattle, where they joined her mother, Mrs. George W. Fraley of Florida, and with whom they visited the Seattle World's Fair. They found the Fair most interesting and one of the highlights of their visits was joining friends for breakfast at the Space Needle which enables guests to get a magnificent view of the surrounding area.

Leaving Seattle, Mrs. McKown went to Winslow, Wash., to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Dean, and with whom she spent three days at Harrison Springs in British Columbia and made a tour of the Olympic Peninsula. Before returning home, Mrs. McKown and the children flew to San Francisco for a visit with friends.

MRS. JOHN W. Beggs of Tenafly, N. J., came to Arlington Heights last Thursday for a visit with the Wilbur Todds, 103 S. Brighton, and to bring home her daughter, Leslie, who had been visiting the Todd children since mid-June.

The Chlares Bartons, 321 S. Windsor, recently returned from a 2-week vacation in the East. They first drove to Boston to visit the campus of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where their son, Michael, will be a freshman in the fall, and then went on a camping trip to Maine, with a visit to Bar Harbor, the White Mountains of New Hampshire and Lake Champlain in Vermont.

Carol Haugan, dauhgter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haugen, 1714 Mayfair, is spending two weeks at Camp Hickory in Edgerton, Wis., with members of her Girl Scout group.

MRS. CARL Anderson, 1105 Mayfair, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. J. Liston of Rockford, took her first jet plane trip to Charlotte, N.C., July 20, for a visit with her son and family, the M. E. Andersons, and to see her new grandson, Glenn.

After their visit in Charlotte, they left for the seashore, spending a week at Wrightsville Beach resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lundstedt, 218 S. Gibbons, had especially interesting houseguests over the weekend. They were Mr. Lundstedt's cousin, Carl Erick Sarndahl of Lund, Sweden, and Mrs. Sarndahl, his bride of a month. The young couple met at the University of North Carolina, where she, as the former Miss Anne Gray of Mobile, was a student, working for her Ph. D. degree, and he was a member of the faculty. They plan to spend the next year touring the United States and continuing with their studies, after which they will return to Sweden to live. (A

Trade Fair Is Spectacular Success

A NUMBER OF NORTHWEST suburban residents who are staff members of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry were on hand to welcome guests at opening day festivities of the Fourth Annual Chicago International Trade Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Norris, 200 S. I-Oka, Mount Prospect, visited with Louise Harvada and Janey Egawa in the Japanese booth in the World Market. Norris is program training director for the association.

OPENING DAY CEREMONIES for the Fourth Annual Chicago International Trade Fair sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry were held on the Lakeside Esplanade at McCormick Place, on a special platform decorated with a miniature of Telstar. Edward C. Logelin, president of the association, center right, presented a silver bowl to President Carlos Julio Arosemena of Ecuador when he arrived to participate in the official opening of the fair. President Arosemena delivered the Salute to American Hemisphere Address in Arie Crown Theatre later that night. (B-8

Our Residents Key Workers

As the thousands of spectators, buyers and exhibitors will attest, this year's fourth annual Chicago International Trade Fair is bigger and better than ever.

And — much of the success is due to a number of residents of the northwest suburbs who are associated with the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, sponsors of the annual event.

Ray Becker of Arlington Heights is director of promotions for the fair. He helps plan every step of the fair, beginning to work on next year's fair the minute one ends.

THE MANAGING director of the fair is Ralph Bergsten of Barrington. Other members of the association from the area include Lloyd Norris, program training director, of Mount Prospect; William Burhans, director of health, education and welfare, of Mount Prospect and Warren Starkey, assistant to the controller, also of Mount Prospect.

While planning the fair is not their main function during the year, they find many duties at McCormick Place while the fair is in session.

They, like other staff members of the association, play host to foreign and national visitors during the fair.

Opening day found most members of the association staff and their wives in attendance at the ceremonies along the lakeshore.

THE DAY began with a 21 gun salute by a howitzer battery of the National Guard stationed at one end of Meigs Field. This heralded the arrival of Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley and President Carlos Julio Arosemena of Ecuador, his wife and official party.

The dignataries arrived by boat which docked at the special platform where the ceremonies were held. President Carlos inspected the honor guard and then Daley made a short welcoming speech, noting the importance of the fair. He briefly mentioned some of the various products displayed at the fair which were made by the 25 foreign countries represented and the United States.

As each nation was mentioned, a "queen" stationed along the lake front raised the flag of her nation. The queens were either directly from the country she represented or a direct descendant.

THE 1962 Chicago International Trade Fair was open.

During a reception and cocktail hour for civic leaders, diplomats, the press, buyers, representatives of business and industry, several foreign bands played. They also visited the various dining rooms afterwards to entertain during the American Hemisphere Dinner.

Over 2,00 attended the dinner. Each table was hosted by a member of the Association of Commerce and Industry.

Following dinner visitors were escorted by association members to the Arie Crown Theatre where they witnessel the presentation of nine of President Kennedy's "E - for - Export" awards to U. S. companies. The awards were made by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

AMONG THE companies which received the awards was the DoAll Company of Des Plaines. The award was presented in recognition of "the intensive campaign for export of low-cost basic-elements machines designed to increase productivity in developing nations."

Hodges said when presenting the award to Jon Henricks and Victor Schultz, DoAll Export Managers, "Foreign-language sales literature, direct mail promotion, motion pictures and participation in international trade fairs contributed to the company's export sales gain of more than 30 per cent in a year's time."

Other awards were presented by Hodges to The Boeing Co.; Campbell Soup Co.; Caterpillar Tractor Co.; Chrysler Corp.; John Deere and Co.; J. D. Marshall International, Inc.; Radiation Counter Laboratories, Inc. and Wen Products, Inc.

Hodges said "President Kennedy has said to the United States, we must 'trade or fade.' It applies equally to all nations."

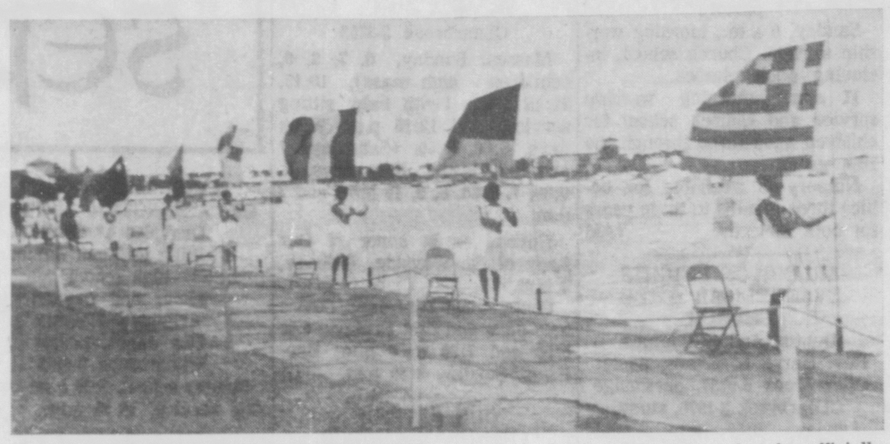
He called the Chicago International Trade Fair "a bright sign pointing to the fact that the nations of the Free World can work together for strength, for peace and for increased prosperity."

PRESIDENT Arosemena delivered the main speech of the opening night activities in the Salute to the American Hemisphere Address. He said "the people of Latin America have the firm desire to cooperate with the United States in any program resulting in economic and social progress for the Continent.

"This is the reason they welcomed with enthusiasm the fundamental concepts of mutual assistance set forth in the Alliance For Progress and in the Charter of Punta del Este."

He said, "These programs promise us a solution to the grave problems that exist. These programs promise to eliminate hunger and ignorance and to provide all human beings with housing, schools, health and economic well being."

Opening ceremonies ended with the opening of the Big Show-Celestial Circus and a fireworks finale. (B-8



BEAUTY QUEENS REPRESENTING exhibitor nations taking part in the Fourth Annual International Trade Fair raised the flag of their land as Chicago's Mayor Daley mentioned the products from their country when he officially opened the Fair last week. The ceremony was part of the opening day festivities held on the Lakeside Esplanade in McCormick Place.

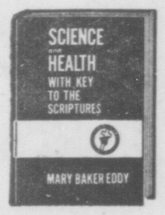
EVERY ONE WHO WOULD LEARN TO PRAY



needs this book

Every right thinker knows that God is, and wants, so much, to approach Him intelligently through prayer – to commune with Him and to listen for His guidance.

In the first chapter of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy there is an inspiring and practical explanation of prayer.

A great number of people, through the study of this chapter, have found needed health, harmony, supply and well-being.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

WHAT DOES FUTURE HOLD?

Suburbia Tabbed for 'Dynamic Growth'

Planning Now Is Important

(This is the first in a series of three articles which will discuss the future of the northwest suburban area. Entitled "Suburbia — Its Future," the series will cover the people, land, business and industry so vitally important to the growth pattern of the area. The series is authored by Lee B. Sechler, Hoffman Estates-Schaumburg news editor and general assignment writer.)

by LEE SECHLER

(First of Three Articles)

The northwest suburbs have been called the "dynamic growth area" in the United States. They are living up to that name.

If the growth keeps up, it has been estimated there will be 3½ million people living along and near what was once just a few homes along a railroad right-of-way.

When this happens—and it's going to happen—the area referred to as the northwest suburbs will be reduced to a moment in history.

This is an educated guess, a study of the past, the present and the future, at this point. But by 1984 you will have a hard time remembering what Hoffman Estates looked like in 1962.

It and all the rest of the towns and villages in the northwest area are changing over night. Today's annexation and tomorrow's building bear witness to this statement.

WITHOUT THE efforts of a number of men responsible for planning in the various villages in the northwest suburbs, chaos would reign supreme during this period of daily change.

Today's changes must have been planned months ago in order to make them effective and prevent problems in the future.

The Village of Schaumburg has adopted a general development plan — a plan which took two years to complete — and it has a population of only 3,000 now. Most of the village is farm land, save for two separated subdivisions.

Arlington Heights is revising its general development plan. One estimate places its population at 37,500 by 1970.

The changes are fast today.

INSTEAD OF making the trip to the northwest suburbs in covered wagons, today's settlers arrive in four-door station wagons followed by a moving van.

O'Hare Airport is only 15 or 20 minutes' drive from any of the villages. Modern highway and tollway systems are becoming choked with a steel ribbon mowing back and forth from Chicago.

Soon the roads will be widened to accommodate this new load. Trees and some homes will fall in the path of advancing population.

The growth of the suburbs will, without a doubt, change the pattern of commuting, too.

Industry and business will locate in this area as they are doing now. When this moving is complete, there may be no need for the commuter to go into Chicago.

IT WILL NOT happen you say?

Do you remember when Arlington Park Race Track was located away from any villages? Where is it now?

Rolling Meadows sprouted like a mushroom after a spring rain. Arlington Heights stretched and Palatine pushed out its circle of coverage.

Remember the two miles of open prairie between Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect? Have you looked at it recently?

An increased population in the northwest suburbs means more children in the school system.

This in turn means a greater tax on real estate to support the schools. Industry and business offer relief — if they are in the community.

BUT IS THERE land enough for all the people, the industry and business, the schools and recreation facilities for the urban residents of the future?

The key is planning today. Especially when it comes to parks and recreation areas.

Fields and open areas are only a few minutes, or perhaps just a few feet away, now. But will any of this remain for today's youngster who will become tomorrow's father?

"The open spaces must be preserved today. We cannot wait 10 years or they will be gone," said Parker Ekren of Mount Prospect.

Ekren, chairman of the village's planning commission, called providing for proper recreation facilities a "must."

Mount Prospect has included the golf course as part of its park district to preserve it.

SCHAUMBURG'S general development plan provides for open or "green areas" along the streams running through land that is part of the village.

One developer is presenting plans to the planning commission for a course which, too, will take advantage of and preserve the area of green just east of the Weathersfield Subdivision.

Unbuildable land in most of the villages is being set aside for use as parks. Some of this land is small.

But some of it will be large.

Hoffman Estates is at the point where it is wondering if it shouldn't consider creating a park district to handle the land being donated.

THE PROBLEM of open spaces comes into focus a little more when you consider that Arlington Heights alone had an estimated population increase of 218 per cent from 1950 to 1960. Mount Prospect had an increase of 371.6 per cent for the same period, reports the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

People and industry are moving to the suburbs for the same reason — freedom. And they will keep coming until there is no more room.

"Wheeling Township," said a representative of Northern Illinois Gas Company, should be saturated by 1980." He quickly pointed out that this reasoning is based on an aerial study the company began which covers the 36 square miles of the township.

Aerial maps taken before World War II showed that most of the development was along the railroad right of way.

Then, after the war, houses started coming from many different locations turning Wheeling Township into a giant patchwork quilt.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS grew in one area while Buffalo Grove pushed its head above the ground and registered on the aerial maps.

Little Billy skips off to school today without worrying about finding a seat. But it is becoming a big problem.

Let's take a look at what happened in School District 54 in Schaumburg:

The district was consolidated in 1952 and had less than 100 children for the 1952-53 school year. The following year about a dozen more youngsters attended the school.

District 54 now has eight schools in the township. And more children are being added each school year.

Real estate taxes reflect the education of the district 54 children.

THE BIGGEST cross for all the villages to carry now is the school tax.

Most of the villages in the Northwest Suburbs will have contiguous borders by 1984 — if not sooner.

Hoffman Estates, for example, has annexed land across the tollway.

Other areas are reaching out. Perhaps all the land will not be developed by 1984, but it will be there.

This brings up another problem.

Will all the villages be duplicating costs in some areas of public service that could be shared with one another?

IF THIS BE the case — say in the future disposal of garbage — can they work as a unit without destroying their own identity?

The planning heads of Streamwood, Bartlett, Hanover Park and Hoffman Estates have discussed the idea of meeting to exchange views on common problems because they are located close to each other, explained John Muldoon, planning chairman of Hoffman Estates.

Hoffman Estates, with an estimated population of around 13,000, is expected to reach 72,000 in 20 years. This includes people in the area across the tollway.

And more people come to the northwest suburbs.

What about the unincorporated areas?

They will become part of the village they are near or, in some cases, are surrounded by.

PROVIDING THEIR own streets and getting the necessary services such as police and more adequate fire protection will be beyond their means.

Or they may incorporate and form new villages to secure these services and representation.

The color line in the suburbs will be breached by 1984, too.

Many individuals have wondered why it has not come yet. But it will come.

When it comes — something that no one can predict a time for — the people's attitude will make it a fairly easy move or a great problem.

The Negro will be seeking the same thing as those who came before him — freedom.

Crystal ball gazing, at best, is a hazard.

People, the land, and industry and business depend on each other.

NEXT WEEK, we'll take the land. The following week we'll take business and industry for the total picture of the northwest suburbs of the future.

The Hosiery Bill

United States women spend an estimated $800 million on hosiery yearly.

THE GROWING STATURE of the suburban press and its relationship to city daily newspapers were discussed Sunday night on the WMAQ radio program Viewpoint. Participating in the broadcast were (background) Dr. Eugene Webb, director of research, Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University, and Karin Walsh, city editor, Chicago Sun-Times; (Foreground) Larry Ragan of DePaul University, editor of New City Magazine and moderator of the weekly Viewpoint series; and Charles E. Negroes Discovered America: Authority

(UPI) — African Negroes — not Columbus or Leif Ericson— discovered America, a Mexican Anthropologist has said.

Marco Antonio Munoz, writing in Jet, a national Negro news magazine, said Africans, probably Ethiopians or Eritreans crossed the Atlantic long before Columbus in 1492 or Ericson in 1000.

HE SAID THEY settled in Mexico's Isthmus of Tehuantepec and parts of Tabasco and Veracruz and were wiped out by natives or some "unknown cataclysm."

Munoz said giant sculptured heads found in the region are "absolutely Negroid." He said the human anatomy, eyes, cheekbones, cranial conformations and large lips all point to African origins. (A14

Please Don't Pick Daisies! They May be Cure to Cancer

by THOMAS PLEDGE
United Press International

MADISON, WIS. (UPI) — Please don't pick all the daisies — someday they may cure cancer.

The plea might be made in earnest by University of Wisconsin Botany Prof. H. H. Iltis who believes the common plants of the Midwest prairies may someday prove to be a fountain of life.

But he also fears every plowshare that slices up more of the few remaining virgin prairie lands, may also be ploughing under hopes for a life saving drug of the future.

Iltis' job is to supply specimens to University of Wisconsin researchers who probe the chemical makeup of plants on the lookout for disease battling extracts — expecially in the cancer line.

A 25-MAN research team, headed by Chemistry Prof. S. Morris Kupchan, has studied more than 1,000 plants, from daisies and petunias, to willow and hawthorne trees and exotic flora from the jungles of India.

Taking a hint from centuries of herb remedies, the team breaks down the molecular structure of plants to disclose some suprising natural products.

Last month Kupchan announced the discovery of two new alkaloids in the yellow lotus, a common lily-like plant that flourishes on Midwest lakes in the summer. The effects of the new substances are being tested on animals.

"Never has this madness we show in destroying our landscape been brought home so clearly as when I began to work with Kupchan," Iltis said.

EARLY IN THE study the team made the potentially spectacular discovery of alkaloids related to agents that lower the blood pressure in a plant called "Death Camus." The plant, which resembles an onion, was considered a scourage by Midwest herdsmen because it brought death to sheep that chewed it.

Iltis is particularly distressed by his inability to find enough of some once common Wisconsin plants to provide sufficient samples to the research team.

Several types of native legumes for example have apparently become extinct in Wisconsin during the last few years, killed of man-made "cornfields, golf courses and sprays," Iltis said.

The virgin prairies and the potential health giving flora it supports have "disappeared in Illinois — the so called prairie state" and has dwindled to isolated patches in other states, Iltis said.

THE KUPCHAN team sometimes requires up to 30 pounds of a particular plant for chemical analysis. That amount of some types of plants pictured as common in botany testbooks is hard to come by, Iltis said.

Iltis, his teenage son and his youthful companions often scour the countryside looking for types of plants, especially in the clover family, which once thrived on nearly endless prairies.

Now Iltis said many of these plants may be found only along isolated railroad tracks, or ironically, perhaps "in the old abandoned cemeteries of the pioneers." Many times, Iltis said, "I have to tell Kapchun, 'Sorry but there just isn't enough of that stuff around anymore.'"

To compound the problem, Iltis said, the same type of plant may vary in chemical makeup from its brother living a few hundred miles away, so that different chemical extracts could come from the same type of plant living in Wisconsin or Western Iowa.

"It is urgent that the people realize that we are destroying in 90 years, what it took 9,000 years to build. We are mining the soil like coal," Iltis said.

HE SEES EFFORTS to establish a 66,000 acre prairie nature park in Central Kansas as "the last chance" to save any large amount of virgin prairie in the Midwest.

Iltis is a member of the Wisconsin Chapter of the National Conservatists which has managed to acquire small amounts of prairie land in Southern Wisconsin. Similar small plots have been set aside in Colorado, he said.

"But in Indiana and Illinois, and most of Iowa, we have no prairie. The real dollar and cents value of a great natural resource has been irresponsibly destroyed," he said.

"It is essential we act now, because we won't get another chance. You can turn a prairie into a cornfield or golf course, but you can't turn a golf course or field into a prairie." (A-14

Q. When a toast is proposed to a person, should this person drink from his glass, too?
A. No; he does not rise from his chair, nor does he drink the toast.

Q. Is it proper to tip the hotel doorman who lifts your bags out of your car to the sidewalk?
A. No.
Q. Is it proper for a girl to borrow another girl's lipstick?
A. While this is frequently done, I still think that lipstick is just a bit too personal an item to borrow. (A-14

Shift Camp Overflow to Max Straus

Overflow participation in the Camp Reinberg summer program resulted in shifting of some groups to Max Straus Camp near Bartlett.

Arrangements were completed in mid-July that enabled 19 campers, five teenage helpers, two agency counselors and three Reinberg staff members to move into Max Straus Camp, cleaning and organizing it for future groups.

THE SHIFT is a reflection of the growing demands made for Camp Reinberg facilities, explained Director Dorethea Chant. The Camp Reinberg board of directors currently is studying alternative proposals for expanded Camp Reinberg Association summer activities, she said.

Participating agencies in the first contingent at Max Straus Camp included First Presbyterian Church (in behalf of an off-the-street group), Neighborhood Service Organization, South Chicago Community Center.

The Max Straus Camp is capable of accommodating 60 persons. (B-8

Reporter Witnesses Missile Firing at McGregor Range

By WARREN B. ROGERS
(Second of three articles)

After a very full morning of briefings on our defensive missiles and lunch at Officers' Open Mess at Ft. Bliss, we were driven by bus to McGregor Range to witness actual firings of the missiles.

McGregor Range is about 30 miles north of El Paso and is in New Mexico. It is here that the men who man our missile sites are trained to actually fire their missiles at fast moving, high flying targets.

Each Wednesday afternoon the public is invited to witness missile firings at McGregor, and if you ever happen to be near El Paso on Wednesday, I believe it would be worth while to spend a few hours there.

Bleachers have been set up facing the firing stations and a loud speaker system carries the briefing officer's voice very well.

The range safety officer cuts into the briefing from time to time with announcements of drone aircraft released, which station is ready to fire and when radar contact has been made with the target. This way we could watch the right place at the right time which is quite important if you want to see the "bird" take-off.

ON THE DAY we were there, New Mexico was experiencing very unusual weather, so they told us, overcast, very low ceiling and even an occasional rain drop. Since this is all desert area, I do believe that rain is a rarity there.

Unfortunately, this is not the best kind of weather for witnessing missile firings and it turned out to be a most disappointing afternoon. Actually, even in fair weather one would not be able to see a "kill" because the target drones are flown at altitudes of twenty thousand feet and contact is made several miles from the bleacher site.

Foul weather however, is not supposed to affect the ability of the radar that controls the missiles; but of the three missiles that were fired while we were present, not one found its mark.

TWO OF THESE firings were made by the Royal Hellenic Air Force of Greece and one by a National Guard battery from Pennsylvania. At least one of these was detonated almost immediately after launching due to erratic behavior of the missile, one lost contact with the target and we never did get an exact report of the other.

Since we did have such a bad day, I made it a point to find out whether these firings would be included in the percentage of kill figures. The answer was that they were, and this was the type of thing which made the record only 85 per cent.

It was also pointed out that here only single missiles were being fired whereas in actual war whole batteries would be armed and ready to fire at the target and in the case of failure of a missile, another could be launched within 5 seconds for interception. The 1961 range record of our Chicago-Gary batteries was 32 "kills" out of 34 missiles fired for a 94% average, and last June, Battery C, 1st Missile Battalion, 202nd Artillery, a National Guard unit from Mundelein, scored a perfect 100% record.

THE NIKE guidance system is really three radars and a computer. The first contact with a target is made by the Acquisition Radar which has a broad beam and revolves, scanning the sky for a possible enemy. Once contact is made, a narrow-beamed target tracking radar is brought into play.

The target tracker will follow any move of the taget and relay to the computer its exact location. As soon as the target is within range, the missile is launched and the third radar known as the missile-track, not only keeps the computer informed of the missile's position in relation to the target but carries back to the missile the electronic signals which direct it to the target.

The computer automatically processes the information received from the two radar sets and determines the "kill" point, then sends the necessary signals through the missile track radar to direct the missile to the target.

IN THE CASE of misses such as those we saw at McGregor, the failure is due generally to the missile rather than the guidance system.

We returned to Ft. Bliss and a reception given by Gen. Mellnik for the "Operation Understanding" groups after which those of us still able went back to Juarez to see if it was true.

Breakfast Thursday morning was at 6:15 and shortly after 7:00 we were on the bus and headed for White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico. An uneventful drive of about two hours through the desert brought us to the NIKE Zeus area at White Sands. After briefing and movies of the Zeus and other missiles in action, we were taken on a tour of the Zeus installation.

THE TREMENDOUS size of the various units of this installation is impressive but the bank after bank of electronic equipment that makes up the "brain" of the battery control computer and the miles of wiring involved is almost impossible to comprehend. The Zeus is designed to operate at a range of many thousands of miles, reach speeds up to 18,000 miles per hour and to operate accurately outside the atmosphere.

This capability was demonstrated July 19th when a NIKE Zeus fired from Kwajalein island in the south Pacific intercepted and destroyed an Atlas ICBM launched from Vandenburg Air Force Base in California, over 4,000 miles.

A quick tour of Missile Park where all of our missiles are on display, lunch at Officers' Open Mess at White Sands and another bus ride brought us to Holloman Air Force Base where we boarded our plane for the flight to Colorado Springs.

WE HAD A good view of the range which is more than 100 miles long and 40 miles wide from the air and also got to see some of the really white sand from which the name was derived. More than 11,000 military and civilian personnel work together in this isolated and desolate desert to develop and test weapons for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

This 4,000 square mile area is usable the year around and makes possible the recovery of missiles for research purposes, an advantage not available in our testing ranges at sea.

Next week's report will cover the tour of the NORAD installation at Ent Air Force Base and the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

News Breaks Too Fast For Newsman

MADISON, WIS., (UPI)—John Aehl is accustomed to rapid breaking developments in the Wisconsin State Journal newspaper office where he works as a reporter.

But at home it was a different story. A 3-year-old girl was struck by a car in front of Aehl's residence and he rushed the girl to a local hospital. The next day, his 3½-year-old son Michael was taken to another hospital for surgery.

Yesterday, while Aehl and his wife were in a hospital with their son, their 22-months-old daughter Suzanne swallowed some medicine and had to be treated at the same hospital.

Aehl complained that all the excitement made him almost forget about the hole-in-one he shot earlier in the week. (A-14

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Village officials are working on an ordinance which will identify areas desired for future annexation to the village and designate zoning classifications for such areas. The ordinance would become part of the comprehensive master plan of the village. Authority for such planning beyond village limits was given by the last session of the state legislature.

ROLLING MEADOWS — Plans for a 200-bed geriatrics hospital were explained to the Rolling Meadows zoning board of appeals Tuesday night. The land proposed for the institution is also under consideration by Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 for a future Rolling Meadows high school, and by Palatine-Rolling Meadows Consolidated Grade School District 15 for an additional elementary school. "All three would be a fine thing for the city," said Developer Kimball Hill.

WHEELING — The Wheeling Community Swimming Pool opened Monday for those holding bonds to help finance its construction and Wednesday for the general public. Although the pool is open to the general public at a daily rate, bondholders are the only persons able to purchase season passes for family or individual use. The pool is being financed entirely by bonds floated in the community and by private or group donations.

ELK GROVE — Village trustees will meet at 8 p.m., Monday, to consider the proposed 1962-63 budget, totaling $273,801 and containing a $10,947 deficit.

Ward's Celebrates 90th Anniversary

Montgomery Ward is slashing prices of some 2,000 items of staple and standard merchandise lines in the greatest anniversary bargain sale in its 90-year history of catalog selling.

In announcing cut prices in the company's 90th anniversary sale catalog now being mailed to five million families, Charles W. Wood, merchandising vice president of Wards, said:

"These bargains are made possible because our veteran buyers, for eight months, have concentrated their efforts on developing production and shipping schedules to give our customers extraordinary merchandise values at this time when real values are needed."

THE ONE AND one-third billion dollar merchandising giant, that sells more than 125,000 items of merchandise in every state of the nation, was founded in Chicago in 1872 by Aaron Montgomery Ward, a man with the idea that he could provide thousands of Americans with better merchandise values by buying in large quantities and shipping direct to customers through the mails or by freight.

In the last 35 years, retail stores have extended the economies of mass distribution of merchandise.

Today, Montgomery Ward annually is selling approximately $450,000,000 of merchandise through catalogs, and more than $900,000,000 through its retail stores. (BB

Makes Enforcement Difficult

Agreed: Confusion Surrounds State's School Speed Signs

by BILL HALLS

Motorists in the northwest suburban area have long been confused by the controversial school zone sign which says, "20 MPH During School Days When Children Are Present."

Under state law, there are two ways to set up a 20 mph speed limit.

The first, according to Magistrate Richard A. Ahlgren of Elk Grove Village, allows for a village or city to alter speed limits by ordinance with the support of a traffic and engineering survey.

The Illinois Uniform Traffic Code, allows such alterations, but no local government can set a speed limit velow 20 m.p.h.

THIS IS IN Chapter 95½, Section 147 (B) (1).

The same chapter in Section 147.05 provides for a 20 m.p.h. speed limit in school zones "during school days when children are present." This is House Bill 65, adopted July 24, 1959.

"It would depend on under what section of the law the speed zone was set up," says Judge Ahlgren. "If the zone were established with the traffic survey, it would mean 20 m.p.h. day or night.

"However, under the section involving schools, I would interpret this to mean physical presence of a child."

IN OTHER words, Judge Ahlgren would require corroborative testimony, usually of a police officer, to prove that the motorist had violated the 20 m.p.h. zone in the physical presence of a child.

Magistrate James Bell of Bloomingdale has a different interpretation.

He believes the law means "when children are customarily present." This would be between the hours of 8 and 9 a.m. lunchtime, and about 2:30 to 4 p.m., the times when youngsters are normally walking to and from school.

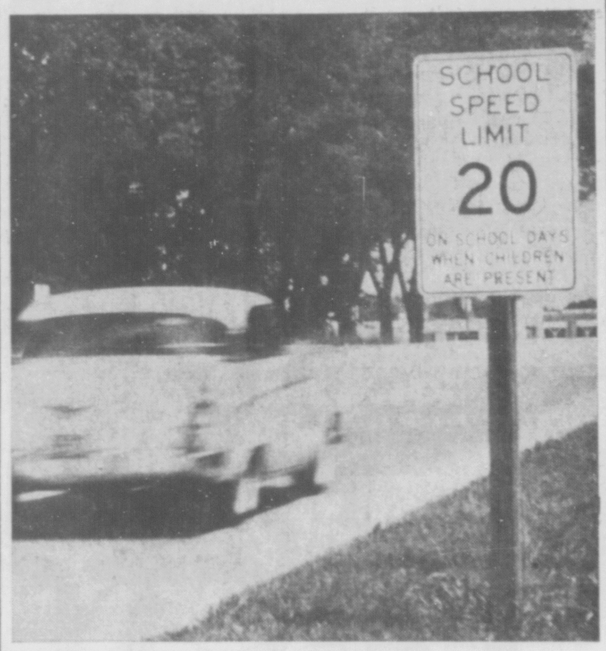
"I think the primary purpose of the law is to protect children," said Judge Bell. "This means when children could be present, not necessarily in physical sight.

"I BELIEVE this is the spirit of the law, not the letter."

Police Chief L. W. Calderwood of Arlington Heights said he instructs his men to enforce the law to the letter.

"There must be children physically present and school must be in session," he said.

"It is difficult to interpret and enforce. I would favor an amendment to make school zones 20 m.p.h. whether children are present or not.



IS THIS DRIVER SPEEDING? The controversial law about the 20 m.p.h. school zone has many interpretations. When is it within the law to drive more than 20 m.p.h.? The best thing to do is to check with local law enforcement officials for "their" interpretation. (A-14

"AFTER ALL, the children are often at the schools on Saturdays and after school is officially out for the day.

"The child that usually gets hit, is the child the driver does not see."

Robert Centner, acting police chief in Palatine, says he interprets the law to mean "physical presense of a child" and during the walking to and from school hours.

"We usually go by when the crossing guards are at their posts," said Centner.

THERE ARE other interpretations. Some law enforcement officials believe the law means from sunset to sundown. Others, like Judge Bell, believe in the intent of the law means when children "could be present."

The effect on motorists is obviously confusing.

"It's a good idea that it (the law) is confusing," says Judge Bell. "Because it puts the burden of proof on the motorist, and it protects the children who, of course, don't always think." (A-14

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

In the July 20 issue of Time magazine, was a summary of an agriculture policy paper published by the Committee for Economic Development, a highly respected organization of top-level businessmen and educators. The author of the article expressed it this way: He says, "The committee takes a cool-eyed look at the Federal Government's farm mess and concludes that the essential problem is how to get more of the nation's farmers off the farms."

When we look at some of the facts and statistics relating to agriculture we find that since the late 1940's the over-all U. S. farm output per worker has more than doubled. As a result, the total farm production has increased despite a steady migration of farmers and sons of farmers into non-farm jobs. But the demand for farm products fail to keep up with the supply and the result has been an oversupply that has put persistent downward pressure on farm prices and farmers' incomes.

It is true that the approach to the farm problem which has been used since the early 30's has not been satisfactory as far as increasing farm income. The only time farm income has been above parity (that is the level when a dollar's worth of agricultural produce will buy a dollar's worth of industrial goods) has been during the war years. has been during the war years.

The government requested farmers, during the war years, to step up their production to the extent that there would be enough food for domestic consumption and allied nations. After the war ended and we did not need all the production it was difficult to slow it down again, and of course, this has meant over-production. How has the Committee on Economic Development suggested that the problem be remedied? Their first and immediate approach would be to slash the present price supports which tend to perpetuate over-production by making it profitable to grow crops that are already in oversupply.

The committee proposed to cut the supports to an estimated level that would prevail in a free market after supply and demand had come into equilibrium. The U. S. Government would maintain these adjusted supports for five years, then get out of the price support program altogether. For a few commodities which are in over-abundance at the present time this would mean a drastic drop in price and farm income.

In the meantime, the committee suggested that at least one-third of those now engaged in agriculture would need to be taken off the farm. To take one-third of our farmers in the next five years would require a drastic adjustment, not only in agriculture, but those taken from the farm would have to be re-trained for other types of work.

I am wondering if these people were taken from the farm what they would do or how they would be employed in off-farm work when we have an unemployment figure of more than four million at the present time. If you add another two million people to this great pool, where would they find work?

Also, if the right one-third were taken from the farms, our production would be decreased by less than five per cent, because now 55 per cent of our farmers produce 95 per cent of our salable commodities. Some good questions to think about, don't you think?

Charter New Non-Profit Corporation

Kensington North Civic Assn. has received a state charter as a not-for-profit corporation.

The civic group, which was organized last spring, now consists of members living on Prindle Avneue just north of Kensington Avenue in Arlington Heights. However, Earle W. Carlson, president, said it is likely that the goup will expand to include other home owners to the north.

OTHER OFFICERS are Donald R. Schmidt, vice president; Carol J. Petersen, corresponding secretary; Ellen Grady, recording secretary, and Arthur Jungdahl, director. One directorship is vacant.

Carlson said the association members at first were concerned primarily with questions about their homes and trees on their street, but now will seek to become better acquainted with the community and take part in civic activities. He said the association intends to affiliate with Arlington Heights Community Council. (A

Q. Would it be all right for us to give an engagement announcement party in honor of our son and his fiancee? Her parents cannot afford this.

A. No. You may, however, give a "celebration" party. The announcement must be made by the girl's parents, and if they are unable to do this by means of a party, they can do so very well through the local newspapers.

PALATINE: Several Chicago people are spending two weeks in the Fenton house. Palatine is becoming quite a summer resort . . . Lawn tennis is receiving the attention of the young people at the ball grounds. Two courts are laid out with the prospect of another . . . The Register has been trying for over three years to wake up the people of Palatine to their present opportunities to boom the town. Now while other towns are securing electric railways and other improvements we ought to secure our share. Are you all satisfied to stand for the next ten years as you have for the past ten years, or shall we keep up with the procession. Palatine has many natural advantages which ought to give it precedence as a suburban residence town. Chief among these are its healthfulness and unlimited supply of pure water so easily obtained. Then Palatine is just the right distance from the city to enjoy the privileges of both city and country. What she lacks most is enterprise and public spirit. If all our home people only half appreciated their opportunities and would pull together to slick up and talk for the town, we could attract many city business men to build homes here and they would influence others so that our population would be increased and the town improved in every way. Fellow citizens, try it once and note the results . . Chas. Dean brought in two winners at Freeport Thursday. Nevolo and Conduct won in three straight heats . . . Wm. Gieseke's hired man is a jack of all trades. He recently made three pairs of wooden shoes . . . Fred Kukeman and John Wente had a race last Saturday in which they broke their top buggies . . . Christ Niemeyer lost two colts by drowning in his barn recently during a heavy rainstorm . . . The Palatine village officers were: A S. Olms, Pres., A. G. Smith, Village Clerk; G. C. Whipple, Police Magistrate; Chas. H. Patten, Treasurer; John Bergmann, Marshal; Henry Law, H. Schroeder, Policemen; Trustees: R. M. Putnam, J. G. Horstman, I. M. Kuebler, C. W. Ost, W. R. Comfort, and E. Prellberg . . .

MEACHAM: The farmers are rejoicing over a week of dry weather . . . Oats cutting is the order of the day, and a hard job it is this year too, on account of so much stormy weather. The fields are in a terrible condition . . .

ITASCA: H. H. Franzen has cut the crop of hay in his front yard . . . The gasoline dealer who supplies our merchants should be fired . . Louis Biermann reports the best wheat crop this year that he ever raised . . .

ROSELLE: Gottlieb Haberstitch says his crop of Big 4 Oats will turn out 80 bushels to the acre. Last year he harvested 32 bushels from 32 lbs. of seed sown on one fourth acre. Who can beat that?

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: We confidently expect the 1910 census of Arlington Heights will show a population of 4,000 vigorous and happy people. The Herald will continue to di its share to infuse life and home pride into its inhabitants who will then enjoy all the modern facilities of electric lights, water works and perfect sewerage systems, paved streets, opera houses, high school, etc. . . . (Note: Population 1922-2450). John Heidemann, who was born in Elk Grove March 25, 1856 — died Monday July 29 at his home in Arlington Heights. . . John Sebastian moved his family and household goods here Tuesday and has taken possession of the first floor of the brick house on So. Dunton St., the only vacant rooms in town. He has bought a 5-acre block of D. W. Miller's subdivision and will build a home thereon immediately. He has a wife and eleven healthy, children, including girl triplets nine months old.

40 Years Ago—Aug. 4, 1922

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Sunday July 30, Rev. C. Noack's congregation (St. Peter's Lutheran Church) and many ministerial friends gave him a happy, a complete and overwhelming surprise, recalling the fact that July 30, 1922, marked the 40th anniversary of their pastor's ministerial work. During his pastorate Rev. Noack has made many warm Christian friends outside his congregation; his quiet thoughtful manner and sincere interest in spiritual uplift, and the good of humanity, has impressed all with his integrity and truth of character. All join with his people in hoping he may be spared many years to carry forward his good work. Rev. Noack received several substantial financial gifts.

File Motions to Fire Suspended State Cops

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Motions to fire 21 suspended state policemen from Cook County were filed Tuesday with the State Police Merit Board.

James McMahon, assistant director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, and State Police Chief William Morris made the joint announcement.

THE POLICEMEN, ranging from captain to trooper, were all suspended earlier in connection with alleged payoffs by truckers with overweight vehicles.

The suspensions were all in District 3 in Northern Cook County.

Included were the commander of the battalion, Capt. Edwin J. Dvorak, Chicago, and the commander of the district, Lt. William T. Moffat, Chicago.

Involved in the charges filed before the merit board, besides Dvorak and Moffat, were:

Sgt. Angelo Bastone, Niles; Cpl. Robert E. Bennett, Chicago; Sgt. Michael L. Irpino, Morton Grove; Sgt. Edward A. Marcoline, 108 S. Donald St., Arlington Heights; Sgt. James F. Novak, Dundee; Sgt. Attilio B. Paoli, Chicago; Sgt. John A. Peters, 9 E. Palatine Road, Prospect Heights; Cpl. Stanley V. Bajda, Chicago; Cpl. James R. Blue, Chicago; Cpl. John J. Jaskula, 1708 Clarence Ave., Arlington Heights.

TROOPERS ROY A. Rutizer, Northbrook; Einer V. Ericksen, Franklin Park; Raymond J. Gorecki, 575 Sussex Court, Elk Grove Village; James C. Jackson Jr., Maywood; Edwin C. Wolfe, Chicago.

Sgt. Robert L. Johnson, Evanston; Cpl. James L. Archibald, 15 S. Warrington Road, Des Plaines; Cpl. Gilbert L. Ferson, Rt. 1, Box 396, Barrington; Cpl. Kenneth E. Rackow, Bellwood.

McMahon said the text of the charges will not be released until Thursday morning so the merit board can send them by registered mail to the individual officers, giving them time to receive them.

Several other state policemen have resigned or been transferred in the wake of the scandal. (B-8

The new additions bring the total number of staff doctors to 105 in the 110-bed hospital.

Prior to approval by the hospital board of trustees, staff appointments are studied by a doctor credential - investigation committee and recommended by a vote of the entire medical staff. (B-8

Exchange Program

Arlington Explorer Is Off for England

An Arlington Heights Explorer Scout is one of six boys from the northwest suburbs who left this week for a month-long visit to England.

He is Mack W. Borgen, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Winston Borgen, 538 South Pine, who will participate in the Northwest Suburban Scout Council's first foreign Scout exchange program.

Long active in the Scouting movement, Mack last year received his Eagle award as a member of South Junior High's Troop 57 and now belongs to Explorer Post 36, which meets in Prospect Heights.

MARK BORGEN

THE SOLE representative of the Blackhawk Scout District in the exchange, he left with other Scouts Aug. 1 from O'Hare Field via BOAC for London.

Heading up the council's provisional patrol for the trip is Dick McAdoo from Post 21 in Barrington. Borgen is the assistant patrol leader.

The other boys in the group are Rugby DePue of Troop 29 in Barrington; Charles Harris of Troop 1 in Park Ridge; Jeff Love, also of Troop 29 in Barrington; and E. Bruce Hansen, Troop 35 in Lake Zurich.

ROBERT COLEMAN, Scoutmaster of Barrington's Troop 29 went along on the trip as patrol adviser.

The 1962 Scout exchange program is the largest held to date between the British Scout Association and the Boy Scouts of America. A total of 14 patrols will represent the four states of Scouting's Region Seven (Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan) — 84 boys and their adult leaders.

While they are abroad, a contingent of English Scouts will be visiting this area, including a stay at the Council's Camp Napowan in Wild Rose, Wisconsin.

DURING their visit to the land of worldwide Scouting's founder, Lord Robert Baden-Powell, the American Scout patrols will be assigned an English troop (the local group to a troop in Bath). Each Scout will make his home with a British Scout and his family.

The Americans will also go on an English camping trip and spend several days in London as part of their sightseeing. They expect to leave for home on Aug. 29. (B-8

IN A SPIN!—THAT WAS THE happy situation for thousands of Arlington Heights residents, young and old, who visited the downtown carnival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce last weekend. Wayne Brennan, Chamber president, reported that the merchant-sponsors were spinning happily, too. "It was the best sale we ever had," they told him. Another and bigger carnival is in the works for next summer, Brennan added.

Carnival Is Successful; Set Repeat

Arlington merchants, elated by the success of the downtown carnival sponsored last weekend by the Chamber of Commerce, hope to hold a bigger and better one next year, according to Wayne Brennan, chamber president.

"More than 4,000 tickets were sold for the eight rides," Brennan reported. "All the merchants are happy because they had the best sale ever," he added. "They sold out their sale items and some had to reorder."

Brennan thanked the members of organizations taking part in the Arlington Heights Inter - American Friendship Program for manning the ticket booths. The Friendship Program received five per cent of the ticket gross for their efforts.

Appeal Filed

Arlington Annexation Bid Faces Court Test

An appeal on the recent 240-acre annexation by the Village of Arlington Heights will be filed in the Appellate Court.

Notice of the appeal was filed in County Court by Attorney Byron S. Matthews on behalf of a group of protesting property owners and residents who were included in the annexation.

THE MASSIVE land addition to the village includes the proposed Cedar Glen subdivision of E. L. Trendel on Algonquin Road, the Charles Klehm & Son nursery property and the new Forest View High School.

A reversal of the favorable decision of Cook County Judge Thaddeus Adesko in county court could remand the case to county court. This would require Jack Siegel, village attorney who acted on behalf of the petitioners, to present evidence supporting the annexation petition. In the original case, heard July 16 and 12, Judge Adesko heard testimony on the objections but did not require arguments supporting the petition.

The Appellate Court also could reverse the lower court and dismiss the petition nullifying the annexation.

Siegel stated this week he did not feel the Appellate Court would reverse the lower court since the petition and proceedings were in good order.

The hearing on the appeal would be heard in December provided no extensions were sought. If the case is heard in December an opinion probably could be expected in February.

MATTHEWS THIS week reported the appeal would be made on two points — the action of Judge Adesko in overruling the objections of property owners and residents and the action of the judge in overruling Matthew's motion to dismiss the annexation petition. The major arguments would be based on the fact that the petitioners had failed to come before him for depositions after such subpoenas had been served. The petitioners also failed to come before him for depositions after such subpoenas had been served. The petitioners also failed to come into court July 16 as required by subpoena, Matthews said.

Matthews filed the appeal on behalf of the original group of objectors with the exception of Marie Pauling whose property was dropped from the annexation. The objectors are Johanna Gosch, William H. Pauling, Alma Pauling, Harold J. Little, Mary Ann Little, Ruth M. Gosch, Raymond Gosch, Paul W. Krueger, Richard A. Littwin, Louise L. Krueger, Barbara Fiscus and Robert L. Fiscus. (A Klehm's Nursery came from behind to beat the Elks 12-11 on a home run by Chuck Stromberg in the last inning. Kintzel, Karp, and O'Connell also homered.

In the second game Klehm's beat Champa 30-5 with nine homers, four by Gerry O'Connell, two by Stromberg, and one each for Heyne and Vormittag.

Long Grove Clings to 19th Century

Quaint Charm Kept Intact

by JIM CARNS

In the northwest suburban area, where steps toward architectural modernization and "planned progress" are fast and sometimes flashy, the village of Long Grove has legalized its penchant to keep its business district architecturally in the 19th century.

It is more than fitting — even profitable — that Long Grove should elect itself as representative of the disappearing villages of 1890 and before, theare proof of the fact.

same villages which are now tripling and tri-leveling, sprawling and sprouting industrial parks.

The Long Grove business district, centered at the intersection of Long Grove and McHenry Roads, thrives on the craftsmanship of the past. Antiques are big business there, and the hundreds upon hundreds of cars parked daily before small shops

THESE CARS nobody would have removed, but they are one of very few necessary blemishes on the 19th century rural scene.

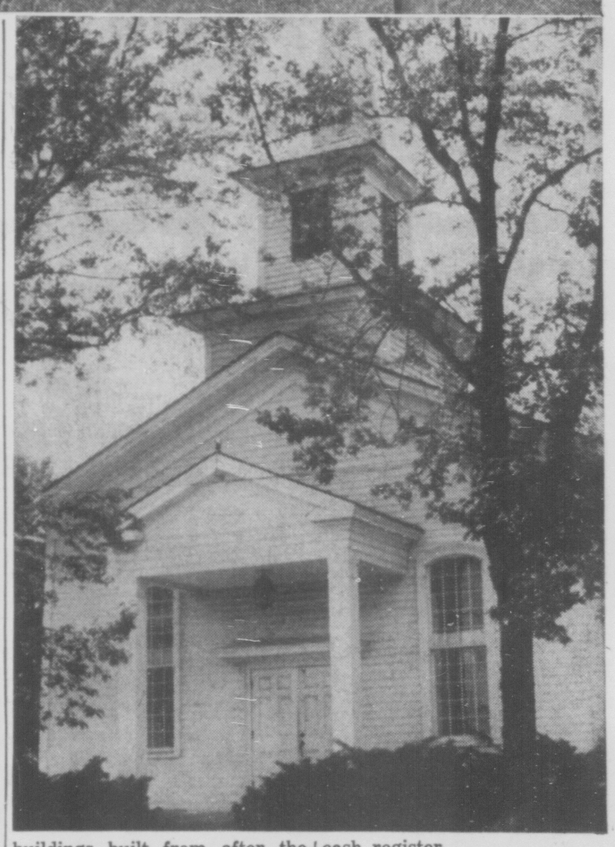
The Village Board of Long Grove July 12 unanimously passed an ordinance making a historic landmark of all land now zoned for business within the village, or any land which may in the future be zoned for business.

The purpose of such an ordinance, as expressly stated within, is "to preserve and perpetuate this area as much as possible as it existed or might have existed in the years prior to 1890."

An architectural board, composed of three persons, is provided for in the ordinance. The board, appointed by the village president with the approval of the village trustees, will review all permits for new construction, additions, alterations or remodeling to the exterior of any structure with the purpose of the ordinance in mind.

ADDED TO THE ordinance in its fourth revision previous to passage was a provision for an advisory board, consisting of all local businessmen, which will meet with the village board when problems arise to find mutually agreeable solutions.

Also at the July 12 village board meeting an ordinance was passed controlling the placement and appearance of signs, displays and outdoor display lighting in the village, excluding those signs already in place or approved under previous ordinances.



Provisions of the sign ordinance are also aimed at maintaining the 19th century rural atmosphere of the village.

The ordinance expressly prohibits lighted signs, reflectors, luminous signs or mirrors, flags and banners (except national and state flags). Strict controls are also put on the height, surface area and placement of signs in the business district.

THE LONG GROVE style, to which all building construction must conform under the historic landmark ordinance, is described as a blend of two traditions:

1. The Greek revival, typical of buildings built before the Civil War, and in many respects a continuation of the Colonial period. Roof pitches were lower turned to the street; cornices, than colonial; gables usually pilasters, and columns, where present, were Greek in proportion and inspiration.

2. The Victorian, typical of buildings built from after the Civil War to 1890. Ceilings were higher, windows larger, ornamentations and columns often very elaborate and not derived from classical sources.

The business district as it stands now is small, surrounded by a small ring of houses which nearly conform to the architectural ideals of a century ago.

RECENT construction, not under the ordinance, includes the Peppermint Stick Ice Cream Parlor, housed in an existent building in the heart of the business district.

The ice cream there is modern, but the interior decoration strictly follows the village motif, including small, ornate tables, nickelodeons and an antique cash register.

Long Grove villagers have struck a hidden chord in the modern personality. They offer satisfaction of the craving for "the old days" and they offer a bit of their strike to take home in the form of antiques.

Not all of Long Grove is 1890-oriented, though. A modern service-station just north of the crossroads blares its welcome to antique buyers in a myriad of thirsty autos.

THE SANCTUARY—the district of clapboard and gabled roofs—is being surrounded by modern, rambling houses with glass walls and water in cement ponds with diving boards instead of geese at the edge.

No matter which be called the better of the two eras of civilization, Long Grove residents and officials have taken legal steps to insure that no matter how far the one progresses the other will remain.

Residents and shoppers from surrounding towns and states should always be able to step out of their cars and into the atmosphere of the horse and buggy, which had a limited speed and a character beyond duplication. (B-8

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS in circuit court will be started as soon as possible on this house and a garage behind the A. A. Berg residence at 1127 N. Chestnut Ave. and another house 214 N. Dwyer Ave., village attorney Jack Siegel reported this week. Condemnation action of the buildings was approved by the village board last winter. Owner of this house and the garage is J. A. Stanton of Santa Barbara, Calif. The attorney for the Dwyer site, Albert J. Gieren of Chicago, would not divulge the owner's name.

THIS IS THE INTERIOR of the house on Chestnut Avenue, which has been an object of complaint by neighbors for the past several years. A. A. Berg, whose property fronts this and the garage, asserts that the buildings are nuisances and dangerous for neighborhood children and students at St. Peter's Lutheran School nearby. Among others registering complaints and requesting immediate action have been Mrs. Harry A. Ryan of 1134 N. Chestnut Ave. and Werner Reese of 1111 N. Chestnut Ave.

10,000 Girl Scouts Attend '62 Roundup

Roundup City U.S.A., with a population of 10,000, is the sixth largest city in Vermont, but it can't be located on the map for it appears only once in every three years and its residents reside there only two weeks. Its homes are tents with everything from tar babies to skull and crossbones decorating the exteriors, and hundreds of flags fly overhead.

Roundup City U.S.A. is literally a woman's world and is located in Buttons Bay, Vt., where it houses the largest gathering of teenage females in the free world, Senior Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from all over the world who are holding an international camp-out. Represented are 146 Girl Guides from 14 member countries of the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides.

AREA SCOUTS attending the camp-out departed from Des Plaines and Wheaton depots on July 18 and during their stay in Roundup City attended youth forums and viewed demonstrations from every state in the union. Demonstrations were designed to present facts from each patrol's home and included everything from rope twirling to cement making. The girls also exchanged swap items representing some part of their home's natural history. tory.

Besides swimming, crafts, folk dancing and fellowship, the girls participated in a gigantic birthday celebration honoring the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting and heard the dedicatory speech of the Girl Scout commemorative stamp.

MEANWHILE, back home, members of alternate Roundup Patrols in the Paddock area travelled to Camp Norwesco in New Auburn, Wis. July 22 for Badger Bivouac, also a 2-week camp-out. At Norwesco the girls also pitch tents, exchange swap items and participate in various sports and scout ceremonies. (A14

Square Dance Club News

SWINGIN' SQUARES

From noon until dark Sunday, friends and members of the Swingin' Squares will lunch, dance, play games, dance, sup and dance some more. The occasion is the Arlington Heights club's annual picnic and pre-season warm-up dance at Prairie Club's Deer Grove Park and the invitation is open to everyone.

An announcement sent to members says, "bring your own lunch, kids and good nature," and it promises games for both "the young and young-at-heart" with prizes for the champions. There'll be ice cream and pop for the kids, coffee for the "old ones" and fun for everybody. Dancing will begin at 2 o'clock (lunch at 1) with the club's two new callers, Dale Manson and Bob Lewis, spelled by several other popular area callers who plan to be there.

The picnic grove is at Hillside Avenue and Ela Road, between Barrington and Palatine. Further information may be had by calling the Brautigams at FL 9-0933.

The Wood Dale club, which elected to keep on dancing through vacation-time, will have its final summer fun session a week from tomorrow night, Aug. 10, at 8 p.m. Everyone who has missed the joy of square dancing during the summer is invited to join the bunch at Highland School in Wood Dale for outdoor swinging, weather permitting, or in the school comes rain. But no matter what, the Squares For Fun will dance Aug. 10 and they extend a special invitation to new dancers who, the club promises, will enjoy the relaxed, comfortable level the club maintains.

Caller is Frank Walker, maestro for the easy-does-it club in Wood Dale. Highland School is on North Wood Dale Road which Frank and company says is easy to find: "just follow the crowd Aug. 10 at 8 o'clock."

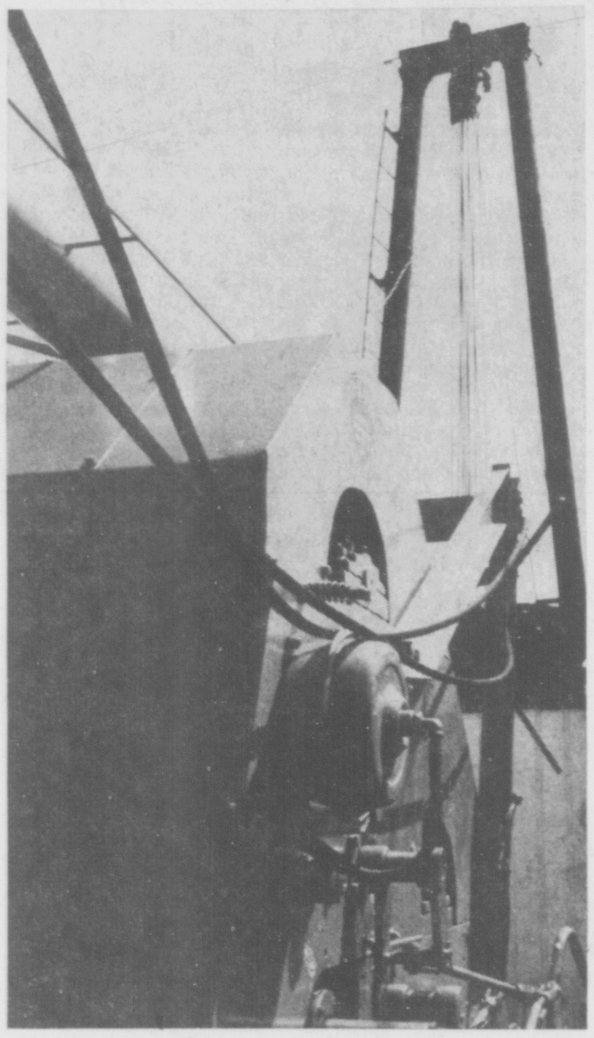
Water Tables Are Dropping

Suburb Water Supply Hinges On Lake Litigation, Money

by JOHN REDDY

There's little likelihood that northwest suburban residents will ever see the day when local water department officials are forced to walk the streets with makeshift divining rods to search for drinking water.

But the increasing demand for water by burgeoning suburban communities is a continuing concern for municipal officials.



RIG OF WELL drilling crew is symbolic of the fears municipal officials have that costly breakdowns may occur. This gear was used to pull pump and shaft from Palatine well. Two breakdowns in two years cost the village about $25,000 in repair bills. (A-14

Unlike the "good old days," when hand pumps drew water for the daily needs of agrarian-oriented communities, powerful pumps now suck millions of gallons of water daily from depths ranging from several hundred feet to more than 1200 feet.

The water table — the level below which the ground is saturated with water — dropped an average of 20 feet in 1959 in the northwest suburban area.

In Arlington Heights for example, the water table dropped 35 feet from 1958 to 1960, a change to 300 feet from 265 feet. During the same period, the water table in Mount Prospect dropped 60 feet from 220 to 280.

SOME COMMUNITIES periodically require residents to observe water sprinkling restrictions. Arlington Heights, for example, used the plan for sprinkling on alternate days during the hot, dry days of June.

A breakdown of one of Roselle's three wells necessitated sprinkling restrictions during June, when a below average rainfall of 2.56 inches was recorded.

Official records of the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau indicate rainfall this year is 1.81 inches below average. This seasonal variation is complicated by the fact that the continued building boom tends to speed up water runoff.

RAIN WATER now is sent gushing into waterways in curbs and gutters where once the valuable liquid was permitted to seep into the ground and recharge the acquifers, layers of limestone rock where it is collected and pumped from wells.

Efforts to obtain water from Lake Michigan are hopelessly snarled in litigation, awaiting the outcome of hearings before a master of chancery who eventually will pass testimony to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The basic decision is whether Illinois has a right to draw more water from the fresh-water lake than is thought necessary or reasonable by other government bodies bordering the Great Lakes.

DAMP, AN organization composed of Des Plaines, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights, and Palatine, is awaiting outcome of the legal battle. These communities hope eventually to get water from Lake Michigan rather than worry about the increasing demand for water in areas where the water level continues to drop.

In the meantime, municipalities continue to sink wells and construct reservoirs to increase storage capacities.

Bensenville recently acquired a new well, increasing to four the number of wells now used. That community has had no serious water problems in recent years, according to Robert Doty, general superintendent of public works.

RESERVOIRS there can store one and three-quarters of a million gallons of water during periods of low demand.

Wheeling has two shallow wells and one deep well with storage capacity for some 750,000 gallons of water. Storage capacity is to be increased to 1,200,000 gallons with construction of a planned 500,000 gallon reservoir.

Mount Prospect has six wells and can use two more, explained Dave Cramer, superintendent of the water department. Plans for obtaining water from another source are being studied in an effort to meet increasing needs. The village has 1,310,000 gallons storage capacity.

ARLINGTON Heights has six wells with the recent addition of a new unit. A seventh well is planned for operation by next year. The village has a storage capacity of more than 3 million gallons of water.

Palatine has four wells, two shallow and two deep. In 1960, $20,000 was spent on repairs for one of the shallow wells. This year the same well has required $5,000 in repair work. Palatine officials are contemplating sinking another shallow well.

As the water table drops, additional wells are required to pump an amount similar to that before the decline. This results in an eventual need for more wells as the demand for water increases with the growing population and as the water table drops. (A-14 RESERVOIR FOR ROSELLE Water Department will contain 250,000 gallons of water, increasing by five times the amount that can be stored by having the wells pump water during periods of low water usage. Storage facilities can reduce the peak period work load of water drawing pumps. (A-14

Ruling 'Experts' Viewed as Inept

MILWAUKEE, (UPI — The experts that run American governmental, technological and military operations are not solving the problems facing America, a Rutgers University historian charged here Monday.

The same people remain in control, even as administrations in Washington change from party to party, because they are experts in operating our society, said Prof. Warren I. Sussman.

"We change parties perhaps, but the problems seem not to change and the ways to solve them seem not to change markedly," he said.

HE SAID THIS controlling group was not solving society's structural problems. Sussman added that neither the liberals nor conservatives have a solution. (A-14

Fisherman's 'Luck' Ends His Season

ANNA, ILL., (UPI)—A Chicago man's fisherman's luck has been all bad.

James Bullington, 60, who is visiting relatives here, went fishing July 19 and suffered a cracked ankle bone when he slipped while walking up a bank.

Saturday night, something went wrong with Bullington's fishing rod and he had started into the house to fix it when a fishhook became lodged in his thumb. He went to the hospital to have the hook removed.

"I don't plan on doing any more fishing this summer," said Bullington. (A-14

Paddock Reader

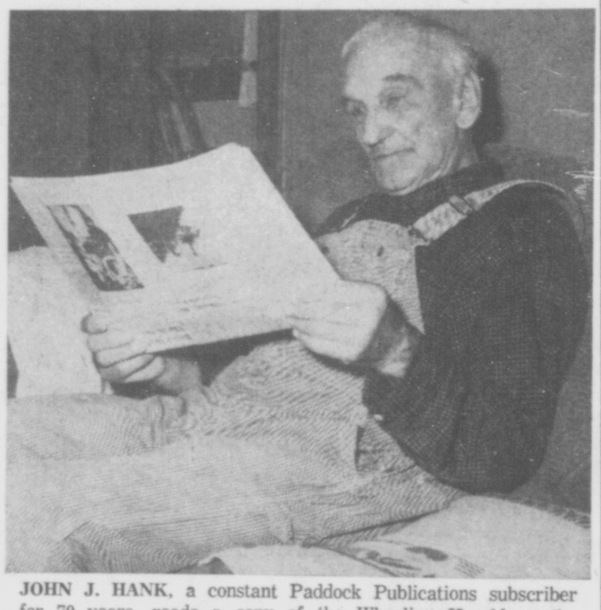
50-Year Subscriber Feted for Loyalty

John J. Hank of Wheeling was only 12 years old when his father, of the same name, became one of H. C. Paddock's first subscribers to the Lake County Independent.

That was 70 years ago. John Hank Sr. is dead now, but since then, as long as the Paddocks have published a paper, the Hank subscription had not lapsed—that is until three weeks ago.

And a lucky thing it was, too, because Hank will now receive the Wheeling Herald for the rest of his life without having to worry about subscription renewal or cost.

PADDOCK Publications decided three years ago that a 50-year subscription duration merited a free subscription for life for that person to any of the Paddock papers.



JOHN J. HANK, a constant Paddock Publications subscriber for 70 years, reads a copy of the Wheeling Herald — the fourth paper under the Paddock name to which he has subscribed in seven decades. He recently received a lifetime free subscription to the Herald in recognition of his long patronage.

Hank's is one of the few life subscriptions to be awarded, and he is the first to report 70 years of continuous subscription under one name.

During that 70 years the papers have changed a bit, Hank says. He remembers H. C. Paddock's tours through the countryside in a horse and buggy, collecting subscriptions for the old Lake County Independent in the lean years.

Hank also recalls changing papers with the Paddocks from the Independent to the Palatine Enterprise, to the Cook County Herald, and finally to the Wheeling Herald which he receives today.

THE HANKS homsteaded 121 years ago only half a mile from where they live today, 984 N. Milwaukee Ave. At that time Milwaukee Avenue was an oxen trail; Wheeling was a few small buildings facing a wide spot in the trail.

The growing community is reaching up to them now, and the last of the 80 acres was sold just recently. The Hanks farmed it until it was sold, though.

John Hank remembers the symbols of progress, and of the growth of H. C. Paddock and Sons—later Paddock Publications Inc.

"MR. PADDOCK used to come calling in his buggy, he was a great friend of my father," Hank says. "Then after a while he came to see us in a car."

"We saved the old papers for a long time," Hank continued, "but they weren't moved when we left the old homestead. There were quite a few."

Hank, at 82, looks forward to many more years of readership. But from now on it will be "on the house." (A-14

Second Synchronized Swim Festival Slated

The Arlington Heights Park District will host its second annual synchronized swimming festival Saturday at 1 p.m. at Pioneer Park pool.

Vying with Arlington representatives in three divisions will be contestants from Mount Prospect, Lombard and Elmhurst park districts. Other park districts have also been invited.

JUDY CLABAUGH, synchronized swimming director for Pioneer pool, said each district will be limited to five delegates. Elimination rounds are being held at each pool to determine the contestants.

Saturday's competition will be divided into three age groups: 10 and under, 11-13, and 14 and over.

Plans call for two required stunts, the front pike and back dolphin, and two additional free choice stunts by each contestant. Judging will be on difficulty and quality of performance, in accordance with Amateur Athletic Association rules, the first, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each age group.

In addition to the competition, representatives from each district will present solo, duet, trio or group routines. These will not be judged.

ABOUT 45 STUDENTS are participating in the Pioneer pool program, Miss Clabaugh said. An additional 35 are learning from Lynn Wright at Recreation pool.

A group of swimmers from these classes will also perform routines in a show at the Lions Park pool, Mount Prospect, next Wednesday at 8 p.m. (A

Explain Big Hike in Area Road Budget

New appropriations for equipment and road construction account for the big increase in the proposed 1962 Wheeling Township road and bridge funds budget.

Highway Commissioner Oscar Everson's requests total $281,490.17, up $105,000 over the 1961 fiscal year, which ended Feb. 28.

The two additions are $60,000 voted for new equipment at the annual town meeting in April and the road construction allotment of $59,330.71.

AUDITOR Russell G. Conklin of Arlington Heights explained that the latter sum is planned for construction of roads on land dedicated some time ago and never used. No funds were allotted for road building in the 1961 budget.

Everson's request for bridge maintenance is $3,500, down $6,500 from last year. Also decreased are proposed allotments for administration, set at $12,500, compared to $17,250 in 1961, and repair of machinery, $7,500, against $10,000 in 1961.

Other requested allotments are: road maintenance, $93,000; oiling, $37,500; weed control, $500; building maintenance, $1,500; and contingencies, $1,200.

ON AUG. 21 the budget will be considered for a second time by the board of auditors, which met July 24. Acceptance or rejection of the budget is slated for the September meeting.

If the proposed budget is rejected, last year's $176,000 budget will be used for the remainder of this year. About two-thirds, or $88,863 of the 1961 budget was expended, leaving a cash balance of $45,590.17.

Copies of the budget are available at the town hall. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall — CLearbrook 5-2936

Vacation time is in full swing among the residents of Arlington Acres who are enjoying a wide range of activities on their annual leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stoehr and sons, Doug and Dick, 441 S. Prindle, returned last week from a 3-week trip, most of which was spent camping in the Rockies. While at a campsite in Colorado, the family visited "Dinosaur Quarry" near the Colorado-Utah border, where dinosaur remains are still being unearthed.

Before starting the return trip, the Stoehrs camped one week at Maroon Lake, near Aspen, Colo., after which they left for Topeka, Kan., to visit friends. An interesting side trip was to Dodge City and a visit to a reconstruction of "Front Street" of television fame.

AFTER LEAVING Topeka the travelers drove to Lenexa, Kan., to see cousins and were persuaded to spend the final weekend of their vacation enjoying farm life.

The Richard Bruce family, 441 S. Gibbons, is back home after spending two weeks at their favorite vacation spot, Armstrong Lake at Crystal Falls, Mich. Mrs. Bruce grew up in that part of the country and the family is very much at home there.

Time passed too quickly for the children, Janie, Margie, Beth, Jessie and Scott, who in spite of five rainy days, enjoyed a lot of fishing, boating, swimming and playing on a raft that their dad built for them while they were there.

The vacation taken by the John Holt family, 421 S. Prindle, this year took them from Turkey Run, Ind., to Lake Geneva, Wis. At Turkey Run State Park, they visited a Wild Life Preserve, where Jana Lynn and Douglas were very interested in learning how animals such as deer and raccoon are tracked.

During the second week they were away they enjoyed hiking, swimming, golf and attended an auction.

Jana felt she knew this territory because she was fresh from a week spent at Camp Willabay at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McMullen and young Robert, 413 S. Prindle, are back from a trip to Clinton, Mass., their home town.

The drive there was broken by an overnight stop at Niagara Falls, and a side trip to New Hampshire for three days was made after reaching Clinton.

THE McMULLENS were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Moffitt, who had spent two weeks visiting here, and when they returned they brought with them Mrs. McMullen's 16-year-old niece, Lucille Roderick of North Attleboro, who hopes to stay for the balance of the summer.

The sympathy of their friends and neighbors is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, 429 S. Prindle, on the death of her father, Mr. William A. Love of Geneseo.

Belated birthday congratulations go to Frank Pipkin, 508 S. Prindle, whose July 17 birthday was celebrated at a family dinner given by his parents, the Charles Pipkins. Other guests were Frank's sisters Polly and Mrs. Fred Sierle with Mr. Sierle and Vicki.

Best wishes for a happy year ahead go to Jeff Rice, whose birthday was July 30. Jeff is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rice, 440 S. Prindle.

Mrs. Gordon Knudson, 413 S. Phelps, was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a "coffee" given by Mrs. Fred Both, 433 S. Phelps, and attended by fellow members of a birthday club.

Welcome visitors of the Don Allisons, 515 S. Gibbons, this week are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fritsche of St. Paul. Since "Grandma" Fritsche's birthday fell during her stay, she was guest of honor at dinner at the Evergreens near Dundee, hosted by the Allisons, with daughter Susan and son Barrett.

Best wishes of their former neighbors go with the V. O. Talbert family, 420 S. Prindle, who moved to Wilmette last Monday.

SUNDAY EVENING Mr. and Mrs. James Brady, 508 S. Forrest, reluctantly said good-bye to her mother, Mrs. Katherine Allen, and sister, Betty, of Pittsburgh, who had been house guests for a week.

David Brady missed seeing his grandmother as he was spending the week at Camp Joy, Whitewater, Wis., but Jimmy and Paul were home to enjoy the attention.

A luncheon party at which Deborah Grafitti was guest of honor was given July 24 to celebrate her ninth birthday. Guests included Donna Risko, Linda Christiansen, Lynne McGinn, Nancy Roman, Karen Fischer, Kathy Schuler and Deborah's sister Marie.

Although games were played and enjoyed, the piece de resistance of the affair was the grab bag.

Deborah is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grafitti, 436 S. Waterman.

Roni Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons, was the birthday girl at a family party Sunday to celebrate her fourth birthday July 30. Among the guests were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Senne of Des Plaines.

MARK KUNZ' sixth birthday July 28 was celebrated at a family dinner the following day at his home, 505 S. Forrest. Singing "Happy Birthday" to him were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kunz, sisters Pamela, Sandra, Deborah and brother Scott, as well as grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Kunz, and uncle, John Cherney of Elmwood Park.

Chip Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, 16 July 30, chose to mark the day quietly with a bridge foursome including his sister, Cherie, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mertens. (A

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rees and son, David, 1152 N. The family enjoyed weekend sightseeing trips around Laramie and into Colorado's mountain country.

Vacation time for the Tony Bengal family, 1117 N. Haddow Court, included a 2-day trip to Jackson, Mich. early last week, where they visited grand-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bettendorf. They were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Matzke, a sister and family in Washington, D. C., where they enjoyed several days of sightseeing. Four days of seeing the historic Williamsburg, Va., area and the trio was homeward bound.

THE NATION'S Capital was also the site chosen by the John Weaver family, 1145 N. Beverly Lane, for their 2-week vacation. Sightseeing was combined with visiting relatives in the area, and they enjoyed several days visiting the Alex Shwaiko family of Mt. Vernon, Va., Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Aylward of Olney and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Weaver of Silver Springs, both in Maryland. The Weavers returned home last Friday afternoon.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nichols, 1185 N. Beverly Lane, Tuesday of last week were the James Coburn family of Maywood. Nephew Dennis had just returned home on leave after seven months sea duty with the Navy, and entertained them with stories of Tokyo, Formosa and other ports he had visited.

Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fagala, 1129 N. Douglas, were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fagala of Orlando, Fla. They were homeward bound last Friday after a week's visit with their son and his family.

Sunday evening ended a 2-week vacation trip for the John Lynch family, 605 E. Olive. They motored to Minneapolis, where they visited grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Healy.

THE FRED MENSCH family, 720 E. Oakton, headed West for their vacation. Sightseeing stops along the way included Yellowstone National Park and then on to the coast for an overnight stay in San Francisco. A week's stay in Los Angeles to visit aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Emigh, a brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGovern, and a nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mensch, was also part of their itinerary.

Delighting the younger Mensches, Sandra, Linda and Ricky, was the tour of nearby Disneyland. More to see was left for the return trip home and the group made one-day stops at Las Vegas, Hoover Dam, the Petrified Forest and the Grand Canyon, ending their 3-week motor tour.

The Tom McCooks, 1116 N. Douglas, arrived home last Thursday from a 4-day visit to Indianapolis, where they were guests of a sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Magill.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Len Hauskey, 1112 N. Haddow Court, were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Misic of Chicago.

The Bruce Haldeman family, 716 E. Oakton, were joined by the Donald Haack family of Chicago for a 5-day stay at the Devils Lake area in Wisconsin. Trips to the nearby Dells, swimming and golfing were enjoyed by the cottagers.

WHILE Mrs. John Gerfen and son Gregg, 1179 N. Beverly Lane, enjoyed a 2-week visit with Dr. and Mrs. Richard Soderberg of Minneapolis, Mr. Gerfen attended a 2-week training session with the National Guard unit at Camp Ripley. Ending hte visit with her sister and family, the Gerfens returned home last Monday.

Mrs. Viola Pritchard, 1120 N. Haddow Court, returned home Sunday evening after a weekend visit in her home town of Lancaster, Wis. Houseguest of a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graney, she joined them to attend a picnic marking the closing of the one room country schoolhouse they had attended. More than 500 former and present pupils gathered at the affair, ranging in age from six to 94.

The West coast was also the vacation site selected by the John Finch family, 820 E. Oakton, and their guest, Mrs. Ann Peterson of Skokie. After a brief stop in their former home to visit friends, they headed westward, sightseeing along the way.

For two weeks they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson of Corona-Del-Mar, Calif. Trips to nearby Los Angeles, a tour of Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, Hollywood, a trip to Tia Juana and Mexico City were all part of the sightseeing schedule. A stop at Las Vegas and the northern route home ended their three week tour.

An overnight stop home and they were off again for two weeks of cottaging at Big Cedar Lake near West Bend, Wis. They arrived home last Sunday evening.

MONDAY was moving day for the John Walsh family, 675 E. Clarendon. They were Greens residents for four years.

Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, 1155 N. Hickory, for the past two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. John Kronenberger of Broad Channel, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes hosted a farewell dinner party for them Sunday. Guests included the junior Charles Barnes, Joe Harringtons and the Henry O'Brien family. Mr. and Mrs. Kronenberger departed for their eastern home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Otis, 1160 N. Beverly Lane, arrived home Saturday after a week's motor trip through New England. Their first stop was Merril, Wis., for a brief visit with a sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Okeson. Northward into Canada and on to Niagara Falls, they stopped to sightsee as TV cameras were being set up for the Telstar broadcast. They continued along the New England coast for more sightseeing at historic Salem, Boston and Plymouth before heading homeward. (A

Members Sought from 81 Groups by Council

Arlington Heights Community Council is preparing a mailing to the 81 organizations in the village asking them to become members of the council.

The letter urges the value of council membership in avoiding duplication of effort, and indicating worthwhile civic goals.

CITING THE example of the Community Chest effort now being organized, the letter states: "Investigation determined that there was a tremendous number of people interested in a Community Chest drive. Apparently, all that was needed was some organization to get them together. As a result of this, there has now been formed a combined appeal, and their first drive will be this fall."

At its September meeting, the Community Council will discuss endorsement of the Community Chest drive.

Another problem discussed at a recent board meeting was insecticide spraying in suburban communities, which was the subject of a recent series of articles in Paddock Publications, written by Tom Edwards, and which has been written about in other publications.

A. J. TOMASO, Community Council president, reported feeling among board members that most harmful products are not properly labeled, and that the danger of using these products is de-emphasized on labels.

However, Tomaso stated, "This project is in its infancy, and until such time as more factual information can be obtained, it will have to be delayed." (A

Redi-Mix Operation Decision Favorable

Chances look good that a way has been found for Consumer's redi-mix operation to leave downtown Arlington Heights.

The firm is reported willing to move to a site on Northwest Highway west of Rohlwing Road next to the Gaare Oil Co.

The Cook County Zoning Board was unwilling to recommend the needed change in zoning from M-1 manufacturing to M-2 for the new site.

BUT THE decision was appealed to Superior Court and recently Judge Henry Derringer rule in favor of the petitioners for rezoning, Edwin Berndtson and Alfred Shotwell, who own the proposed redi-mix site.

The one remaining hazard is that the county will appeal Judge Derringer's decision.

Berndtson and Shotwell were represented in the zoning case by attorney Jack Siegel, who is also village attorney of Arlington Heights.

THE VILLAGE has long tried to evict Consumers from its downtown location at 300 W. Northwest Hwy.

Efforts last year to relocate the Consumers operation at the old village sewage disposal site ran into considerable citizen opposition, and the village board decided by a 4-1 vote to accept a majority report which recommended exclusion of concrete batching from the village, including the former sewage disposal site. (AF

Q. When meat is passed at the table, and the portion held closest to you is too big, or too well done, or doesn't suit you, is it all right to search through the portions until you find a suitable piece?

A. Yes, if you can accomplish this without taking too much time or without disarranging the whole dish.

Q. Is it necessary to write a "thank you" letter when one has been entertained informally at dinner in someone's home?

A. No; when leaving, tell your hostess how much you have enjoyed the evening. And, of course, you return the invitation sometime, too.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

T for travel and V for vacation provided several Ridge Park families a change from stay-at-home TV this week. Back from a week in Atlanta and Rome, Ga., are the H. P. Christensen family, now home at 815 N. Fernandez. They visited Mrs. Christensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shaw, and her brothers and sisters. Herbie and Kenny enjoyed seeing their former home and playmates in Rome. Shortly after their return here, they celebrated Mrs. Christensen's birthday with a small family party.

Unfortunately Mrs. Christensen isn't so glad to be back! In a recent accident at work, she fractured her ankle in two places, and expects to be on crutches for several more weeks.

Music and dramatics are special interests for Chuck Vlcek, son of the Charles Vlceks, 832 N. Salem. He is enjoying his trip with one of his high school teachers, which gave him the opportunity to see Shakespeare performed at Stratford, Canada. Currently the two are in New York for a week of Broadway plays, and will view the East coast before returning home. Just before Chuck left, he celebrated his 17th birthday with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vlcek have recently returned from a week's vacation at the cottage on Portage Lake in the upper Michigan peninsula.

WISCONSIN was the destination for two Ridge Park families. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Demmert and their family are back from three weeks at the family cottage in Lake Geneva. They've returned to 925 N. Harvard. The Gene Schlickmans, 712 N. Fernandez, are home from 10 days in Lake Delavan. They were joined there by Margaret's mother, Mrs. Lucy Muraski of Rockford. The Schlickman children enjoyed the visit the family made to the Madison, Wis., Zoo.

The Charles Koehlers, 720 N. Kennicott, have returned from a recent weekend at the Wagon Wheel in Rockford with Dr. and Mrs. Oliver and several couples from Des Plaines. While they were gone, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koehler of Gary, stayed with Kim and Chip. Chip was three that weekend, and had as his guests Beth and Eddy Oliver for a small party.

Dinner at the Blackhawk to celebrate Ted's 13th birthday was enjoyed recently by the Charles Eglis, 814 N. Patton, and their friends, the Bill LaGraves family. The Eglis intended to spend spring vacation in Montclair, N. J., taking with them just enough supplies for a week. Instead, their plans changed, and they spent three months, with the children finishing out the school term there!

WENDY ANN, daughter of the Joseph Mussachios, 709 N. Kaspar, celebrated her third birthday last Wednesday with a family gathering of 20 relatives and friends. Guests at the children's party were brother, Timmy, and sister, Claudia, cousins Diane Varga, Tommy, Mark, and Lynn Giacomo and Jimmy Oertel.

Cradle nut cups and a cradle centerpiece decorated the table at Mrs. Lorraine Cummings' house when she, Mrs. Joanne Heinz, and Mrs. Margie Lineback were hostesses recently at a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Marilyn Fletcher. Guests enjoyed evening dessert and coffee and played games. Those present included Lil Lurtz, Marian Bayert, Pat Andre, Norma Harlow, and Doris Walker from Mount Prospect. Sending her gift along, but unable to attend, was Helen Rathsam.

LeAnne Niell, daughter of the J. H. Niells, 630 N. Salem, spent several days last week in Des Plaines visiting Ricky and Tammy Vickery, former Ridge Parkers.

Birthday congratulations go to Frank Eckstein, son of the Hal Ecksteins, 912 N. Salem, now two and happily riding the new tricycle his grandparents brought from Kansas for him! Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Perrin stopped to celebrate Frank's birthday en route from Wichita to Canada. Tuesday the Ecksteins welcomed Mrs. Jack Eckstein and children, Tamara and Tara, of Fairland, Ind., Hal's sister - in - law, who planned to stay for the week. Her husband, Jack Eckstein, is expected here Friday.

WISCONSIN company was welcomed recently by the F. Deane Shumates, 717 N. Salem. Mr. and Mrs. John Noonan from Reedsburg and children, Michael, Diane, Paul and Theresa, joined the Shumates this week. Last week Charlene's sister, Mrs. Bernard Dyer, and her children, Kevin and Midge, spent the week, and the two families enjoyed the Trade Fair in Chicago.

Historic sites and a return home highlighted the vacation of the Warren Johnston family, 728 N. Fernandez. They visited Washington, D.C., Atlantic City, Williamsburg, Jamestown, and the Smoky Mountains, and spent several days with friends in Tullahoma, Tenn. Included in their trip were visits to Monticello and Appomattox Courthouse.

For the first time in 18 years, there'll be a family reunion, and Mrs. Arthur Hughes and Dee Dee are looking forward to it. They leave this week for Eau Claire, Wis., Mrs. Hughes' parents' home. Betty's sister and brother-in-law are expected in from Hawaii. The Hughes' older daughter, Carolyn, has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Lawrence. Mr. Hughes won't be making the trip to Wisconsin, however, as he'll be home "dogsitting" with the new member of the family, Martini.

LAST weekend, the Hughes welcomed as their guests at 647 N. Kaspar, John Pazen and his daughters, Thea and Melissa, of Chicago.

Birthday congratulations go to Tom Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson Jr., 1007 N. Fernandez. Tom was honored with a small family party which his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Boiskou, attended. Saturday the family drove to Chicago to visit his other grandparents, the senior William Robertsons. Currently the Robertsons have Tom's cousin, Kim Robertson of Chicago, visiting here.

Friends of the George Wojtkiewicz family, 920 N. Ridge, are extending sympathy to Mrs. Wojtkiewicz on the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Rhode of Chicago, after a long illness.

The Wojtkiewiczes have recently been involved in family activities welcoming Mr. Wojtkiewicz's sister and family, the Elbert Shoemakers of Phoenix, for a Chicago visit. They attended a party and an open house for them, and expect them to stay several weeks in Arlington Heights.

NEIGHBORHOOD children gathered at 704 N. Salem Wednesday to help Danny Bone, son of the David Bones, celebrate his first birthday at a party planned by his three older brothers. Danny cooperated by learning to walk for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Andre moved from 914 N. Patton to Milwaukee this week, but despite her busy schedule, she still had time to give a surprise baby shower last Thursday for Mrs. Ed Harlow. A sprinkling can with streamers attached called attention to the pile of presents, and other decorations carried out the shower theme. Among the guests were Mrs. Ray Lineback, Mrs. Russell Rathsam, Mrs. George Lurtz, Mrs. Curtis Briscoe, Mrs. Henry Bayert, Mrs. Joe Heinz and Mrs. Bob Fletcher.

Recent guests at the Lowell Swenson home, 923 N. Kennicott, were Mr. Swenson's mother, Mrs. Amy Swenson, from Huron, S. D., and Mrs. Swenson's mother, Mrs. Freda Jenner, from Miller, S. D.

FROM SHERWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fellingham have returned to 1145 N. Patton after a trip through the Canadian Rockies. Their vacation included stops at the Calgary Stampede, Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper. (A

ONE OF THE HARDEST WORKING volunteers at the Arlington Heights sidewalk sale, Mrs. Bob Walters, above, of 701 S. Ridge, draws the name of another participant as winner of the $25 gift certificate offered by Paddock Publications. The winner, Mrs. Frieda Womeldorf of 215 W. Park St., was among the Countryside Art Center members exhibiting their paintings during the carnival sale. Her prize will be good at any of the 40 stores participating in the sale. Mrs. Walters worked at the sale with her husband, who was in charge of the games. (A

HASBROOK HAPPENINGS

Running well ahead of Summer, who's racing downhill at full speed, are our vacationers, many of them just returned. There are the Elders, Bob and Nancy, 1529 N. Ridge, back from a 3-week holiday with their children at Clark Lake, Mich. There's the Bischoff family, Jerry and Doris, 1809 N. Patton ave., with 3 weeks in Texas in their memory book. They and their family vacationed in Dallas with Doris' parents. On the way home, they took many side trips.

John, Judy and Chip Hartigan, and even "Brandy," their dog, enjoyed a visit with John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartigan, Osceola, Mich., early in July. Then, while John hired himself back to that necessary breadwinning, Judy and Chip stayed on for 10 days and spent 3 days in Detroit with Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lavery.

The Harycki girls-Jean and her three small daughters—of N. Walnut, were at Lake Wissota, Chippewa Falls, Wis., for three weeks. John joined them for the last two weeks, and all of them had a busy time visiting with Jean's and John's respective families.

RALPH AND Jeanne Andejeski, 701 W. Maude, packed the family into the family car for a motor trip to Atlanta, Ga., to see Jeanne's parents. They returned via Cincinnati, where Ralph's family lives.

It was fun-family plan for the Gormans, 1821 N. Patton, who spent a week at Pokagan State Park, Angola, Ind. Phil and Mary Lou, plus youngsters, were guests at the Inn, where they actively participated in swimming, tennis and boating. When they arrived home July 15, they found they had bypassed their anniversary, July 13, so they celebrated a little late, with a family dinner at "The Red Balloon."

Lenore and Paul Grasch, 1831 N. Mitchell, and children Sharon and Gary, spent part of their vacation at Green Lake, Wis. Added attraction was their new boat.

A solo flight into Chicago was made by Joe and Edith Donahue, 1514 Fernandez Pl. while the kids remained at home. They signed in at the Lake Tower Motel and did the town.

Harry and Virginia Broadhead were in Florida for two weeks. They visited their parents — Harry's mother, Mrs. Marie Broadhead, and Virginia's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynn in Clearwater and St. Petersburg, Mrs. Lynn returned with them and is now an honored guest in the Broadhead home, 1535 N. Kaspar.

James, Pat and the rest of the O'Haras, 1539 N. Ridge, have come back from two weeks in Boise, Idaho, with Pat's family and friends.

BARBARA AND Don Heise put their family on wheels, taking Mary Beth and Bill by train to Petersburg, Va., for a holiday with Barbara's parents. They also got to see Virginia Beach and Newport News, and were especially enthusiastic about a stopover in Fredericksburg, their former home. They returned by plane.

The Barneys' vacation might well be titled "Two Weeks with Rod and Gun." They spent their "relaxin' time" in a cabin on Thunder Lake, Minn., while John tested his skill on the fish, son Fred was practicing with his shot gun and Margaret concentrated on soaking up sun. Daughter Kathy assumed housekeeping chores and kept 1704 N. Ridge ship-shape until their return.

Janice started off the Hilgenkamp vacation period with a taste of home cooking, her mom at the range. She made the trip from 1840 N. Patton with her family (excluding Arny) to Gillett, Wis., to see her parents and attend her high school class reunion. Arny drove up to join them on the weekend, and then they all set out for a week in Fremont, Neb., where the elder Hilgenkamps live.

Joe and Pat O'Neill and family, 1729 N. Ridge, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Wald in Kansas City not long ago. The Walds are Pat Pasquale's (1805 N. Walnut) sister and brother-in-law.

Barbara and Wally Dahm put the "accent" on a barbecue for the Carter Sandmeyer family of Mount Prospect, in their yard at 1818 N. Walnut.

MARGARET Conley of Rosiclare has been keeping Ken Holton's mother, Mrs. Edith Holton, company at 1509 N. Harvard, while Ken, Phyllis and their Ann and David vacationed at Phyllis' parents home in Bentonville, Ark.

Don and Maureen Ludwig celebrated a wedding anniversary last month with 24 relatives and friends gathered at their home, 1528 N. Ridge, for a party.

The patio christening July 14, planned by Wally and Betty Streit, 1521 N. Patton, turned out to be a real cool event. It was supposed to be held at the "Sunken Pit," the backyard lanai which so many of their good neighbors helped make possible by literally "digging in" for the Streits, but weather conditions moved the party indoors. Warming up to cocktails and the twist were the Bill Scotts, Julian Garcias, Warren Bakers, Dick Lanigans, Art Hopkinses, Jim Wards, Larry Frazees and the Dick Holms.

Recent guests at the McIntosh home, 1540 N. Ridge, were her father and aunt from Elmira, N. Y.

Weekend visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Maxwell, Round Lake, were entertained by Ed and Marilyn Heiser, 1543 N. Ridge. They also had as houseguest for a few days, Debra Pazin, West Chicago, a 9-year-old niece.

Carol Van Sickle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reyle, Millburn, N. J., planed in for a 4-day weekend, July 19. The night of arrival was doubly special. It was highlighted by a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Reyle.

THE JULY meeting of the North Ridge Club was held at the home of Ann Smith, 1509 N. Ridge. Added to the usual agenda was a baby shower for Iva Miller, 1511 N. Ridge.

More helpful news hawks are Jean Harty, Maribeth Hogan, Florence Zulli, Kitty Fullerton, Joan Fisher, Rosemary Croghan, Sig Jarecki, Lois Ness, Nancy Tierney, Mary Jane Lee, Terry Blassey, Susan Herbeck and Lise Peck. (A

Edward and Myrtle Weinberg, 1624 Rosehill Drive, and their children, Cynthia, 3½, and Thomas, 1½, moved here from Chicago. Edward is a civil service engineer.

DAVID KOELPER, 1947 E. Elmwood, was 4 years old last Thursday and his parents, Nancy and Bob, started the celebration at noon by serving lunch to 14 of his playmates and their mothers. Susan Hess, their next-door teenager, counselled the afternoon festivities by supervising the children's games.

At twilight Nancy's brother and his wife, Bob and Nancy Cooksy, visited with their daughter, Tami, who was born a year ago on David's birthday. Four generations attended the evening party, including David's great-grandmother, 87 year young Mrs. Mary Petersen, Highland Park, and his two grandmothers, Mrs. Matilda Koelper and Mrs. G. A. Freeman.

Tom Burgess, 1918 E. Elmwood, is away for the summer doing research work at the Sandia Corp., Albuquerque. Weekends in New Mexico find him exploring ghost towns in the narrow gauge railways area of the old west. Tom is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, Eta Kappa Nu and Sigma Xi and will receive his doctorate in electrical engineering from Northwestern University next June.

JUST BACK from a 2-week vacation in Florida, the Psaras family, 1706 E. Lilac, have many happy memories of their trip. Parents, Carole and John, enjoyed the activities in Miami Beach and their children, Jim, Michael and Cathy, were thrilled by their visits to Seaquarium and Cypress Gardens. All of the Psaras family feel the highlight of their trip was the day spent at Diana, Fla., touring the Seminole reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anglada, 1832 Lilac, and their son, Larry, have returned from their vacation tour of circling Lake Michigan. They enjoyed the extra time spent sightseeing in the Mackinac Island area.

Charles and Sue Ridgeway, 1917 E. Lilac, good neighbors who hail from Dallas, are extra happy these days. Becky, their 8-month-old daughter, has recovered almost completely from her illness, myocarditis. Her quick recovery is the "talk of the Vista" and everyone is delighted to see Sue proudly pushing Becky in her stroller again. (AG

Final Summer Park Concert Is Tonight

Dance bands, barbershop quartets and a baton twirling champion are all featured in the program for tonight's concert on the lawn by the Arlington Area Concert Band.

This is the second and final summer outdoor performance by the band, directed by F. C. Schmoyer. The program will begin at 8 at Recreation Park.

HIGHLIGHTING the band's numbers will be "Original Dixieland Concerto" by John Warrington, featuring a Dixieland band with Dave Brunner, trumpet; Al Feige, clarinet; Darcy Sullivan, tenor saxophone; Larry Jauch, trombone; Fred Brace, tuba; and Jay Busse, drums.

The Skyliners dance band, led by Larry Smith of 1 S. Mitchell, will present several familiar tunes.

Barbershop quartets on the program are the Tune-Ups of Arlington Heights and the Fifth Wheelers of Wheeling. Members of the Tune-Ups are Dan Krebsbach, Jack Schuler, Don Frantz and Gene Loughrin. Fifth-Wheelers are Dick Reed, Vern Bertrand, Len Klaproth and Gus Neil.

Baton twirling routines will be presented by Jim Hallett, 15, 725 N. Chicago, national and international boys baton twirling champion.

OTHER SELECTIONS by the band include "Overture for Winds," by Charles Carter; selections from "Gigi"; David Rose's "Holiday for Trombones," which features the nine-piece trombone section; "Cumana"; highlights from "Camelot"; "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert; and "Bugle Calls A-Plenty" by Paul Lavalle.

Ice Cream Shop Open In Arlington Market

A new Bresler ice cream shop featuring 33 flavors opened last Friday at 8 S. Dryden St. in the Arlington Market Shopping Center. William O'Donnell is manager.

The shop features old-fashioned hand-packed ice cream for carry-out sales.

Sundaes, sodas and other fountain recipes are also prepared for consumption in the shop or carry-out. Ice cream cakes and hundreds of fancy molds are used in preparing ice cream desserts.

THE NEW shop is the sixth locally owned and operated store in a national franchise program announced by the Bresler Ice Cream Co. June 26. The chain is expected to expand to 12 by the end of 1962.

The Bresler clown, who helped out at the opening, will be around again during Arlington Market Sidewalk Days, today through Sunday, snapping pictures of the customers with his candid camera.

Two dozen or more of his photographs will be posted in the store next week and the subjects will receive free exactly what they are shown buying in the pictures.

BECAUSE THE Bresler shop features hand-packed ice cream reminiscent of earlier days, the layout has been decorated in a colorful "Gay Nineties" theme by architect - designer Hugh Rose. (A

Bible Lecture Is Set for August 9

MRS. SUNE RICHARDS

An artist-photographer who has devoted her career to recreation of Bible characters will speak in Arlington Heights next week.

Mrs. Sune Richards will lecture on "My Search for the Disciples" Aug. 9 at 8 p.m. at Unity Northwest, 1100 S. State Road. The public is invited, free of charge.

MRS. RICHARDS' lectures are illustrated with her photo-oil portraits of Biblical characters modeled by living persons. Her selection of models is based on extensive research; her work started when she discovered a man who resembled one of the disciples.

She earned a special citation from the Professional Photographers of America for the disciple series, which was followed by 16 photo-paintings of the women of the Bible and 14 of children of the Bible. She gives lectures around the country on each of the series.

Reprints of her work with her descriptions of the characters, have been published in books on each series, the Encyclopedia Britannica and three editions of the Bible. (A

BOB GLASS, of Des Plaines, leads the men with a 559 series; LaVerne Woods of Wheeling is next with a 556 series, and Earl Thompson of Mount Prospect is third with a 526 series.

For the women, Mickey Lovering of Des Plaines leads with a 492 series; Eileen Glass of Des Plaines is second with 454, and third is Jean Trader of Prospect Heights with 439.

Team standings at this point are: first, Wimble Wombals No. 2; second, Hot Shots; third, Mixers.

A CRAZY HATS night was held early in the season, to which everyone wore a hat of his own design. Marguerite Moriarity and Skip Maclennan, both of Mount Prospect, were judges. Prizes were awarded to Mickey Lovering and Jack Moriarity.

Monday evening, July 30, was "Hobo Night," with members appropriately dressed. Eileen Glass and Harold Trader were judges, awarding prizes for the most original costumes. (ACM

Cleaning Available

Coin-Op Cleaning came to Arlington Heights recently with the installation of four Fashion-Care pastel-hued machines in One Hour Cleaners in the arlington Market Shopping Center.

The machines steam and fluff clothes after they have been professionally cleaned, according to Homer Bonnem, manager of the cleaning establishment. This removes many of the wrinkles normally left in the garments by other machines, he said.

One Hour Cleaners has been in Arlington Market since its opening, and Bonnem feels that the addition of the Coin-Op machines will do much to enhance the "one-stop" advantages of the center. (A

Race to Complete Forest View School

THE OPENING DATE of Forest View High School hinges on completion of a sanitary sewer line to the building. Tentative finish date is August 16. Workmen and equipment have brought the line from Busse Road and Dempster St. to Algonquin Road, and are now extending the sewer along Algonqin toward the school. Size of the sewer and extent of work needed is indicated in the above scene taken during excavating operations.

With a September 4 opening day only one month away, Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 officials race to complete Forest View High School.

Classes for 1,500 students in the Elk Grove Township area are at stake.

At the moment completion of the school waits for decision by the Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District.

SANITARY sewer lines, surface drainage plans and construction and site development (including parking lots and walkways) are hinged together. All must be finished before the school can be opened.

While the sanitary district authorized construction of a sanitary sewer line to connect to its main interceptor line, actual connection permit for the high school sanitary line has not been issued. District officials indicate storm drainage plans for the school site must first be approved by Walter Baltis, sanitary district trustee and chairman of the district engineering committee.

The surface drainage plans "suggested" by the sanitary district include a 150x220 ft. detention basin, a deep drainage ditch around the north and east sides of the site and a 42-inch drainage tile along the south border. Storm drainage plans are checked by the sanitary district to guard against sanitary sewers being used for storm drains.

ADDITIONAL cost to the school district for the revised drainage plans is estimated at $25,000 by Robert A. Black, Chicago, site developer.

Norman Toberman, Arlington Heights village engineer, stated he hoped to arrange a conference with Baltis this week to seek final approval of drainage plans for the school site.

Annexation by Arlington Heights of 240 acres in the Golf-Algonquin-State Roads area, including the high school site, cleared the way for village construction of the sanitary sewer to serve the school. Successful bidder on the village project was Scully, Hunter, Scully. Estimated total cost of $47,000, including engineering fees, will be shared by the village, the high school and E. L. Trendel (builder-developer in the area).

Completion is slated for August 16. Construction was started last week.

FINAL SITE development work on the site waits for the sanitary district decision. Work on the north side of the school site, including the main parking lot, will proceed. Work on the south side of the site cannot be done until drainage plans are approved.

Total cost of the high school site development work was estimated at about $350,000. This included athletic fields, parking areas, drainage work and walks. The school deferred construction of one or the two parking lots before asking for bids. Low bid by Black was $305,668.

Limited funds permitted school officials to contract for only $181,037, with the balance of work deferred until next year. Postponed for future development were baseball backstops, tennis courts, fencing, bleachers, field event stations and scoreboards.

Local Youths Among Week's Top Campers

Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights youths have been among the "best campers" named weekly at Trump Lake (Wisconsin) Lodge Boys Camp this summer.

The honor has been received by John Layer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Layer, 110 E. Council Trail, Mount Prospect, and Doug Linn, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Linn, 130 S. Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

ONE CAMPER each week earns the "best camper" plaque awarded for outstanding sportsmanship, outdoor skills and camping spirit. He is selected by the staff and campers.

Other area boys who have attended the camp this summer include David Accurso, John Bickley III, Duane Bootz, Bill and Fred Reimann, Randy Jones and John Layer, all of Mount Prospect; Ralph and Tom Lidge, Doug and Scott Linn, Scott Palmer, Jay Seyfert, John Vetter and James and William Watt, all of Arlington Heights. Fred Reimann, principal of Lions Park Elementary School in Mount Prospect is camp director. (AM

Refuses to Adopt Arlington Code

Two meetings in the past week between Arlington Heights officials and William Alter, builder, failed to persuade Alter to adopt the Arlington Heights building code as the standard for homes he is planning south of the village.

Alter is head of Realty Corporation of America and the builder of Arlington Gardens subdivision.

The village has filed a law suit asking that no Alter subdivision be approved by the county unless it has village approval. The village relies upon state law giving villages certain control over subdivisions within one and a half miles of their boundaries.

VILLAGE PRESIDENT John Wood reported he told Alter Saturday that it seemed that RCA was "squeezing out the dollars" and would leave Arlington Heights to solve the problems.

According to Woods, Alter said he would lose competitive advantages by adhering to the Arlington Heights building code.

Alter met again Monday with L. A. Hanson, village manager, who reported that the meeting made no progress. (A

Space Stand Explained By Democrat

Space communications should be privately owned but publicly regulated in the manner of other American utilities, according to John A. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for Congressman from the 13th Congressional District.

Kennedy explained his space communications stand recently to a meeting of newly elected officers of the Wheeling Township Citizens for Kennedy organization.

PRESIDENT OF the volunteer group is Stanley W. Tucker, 36 S. Salem, Arlington Heights, a maintenance engineer for the telephone company.

Mrs. Marilyn Shuman, 1001 W. Clarendon, Arlington Heights, housewife, is secretary-treasurer, and John Carbery, 428 S. Dale, Arlington Heights, a trust adminstrator for a Chicago bank, is vice-president. (A

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners Dial Daily 392-3060

August's flower is the gladiolus. Few plants are as easily grown or produce such a magnificent display of color as the popular "glad." All that is required for growing these plants is fairly well drained soil and ample water.

Present day glads are derived from species native to South America. Hybridizing by amateur gardeners as well as nurserymen and plant breeders continues to produce new and better varieties each year. Glads belong to the iris family and the flowers and leaves arise from a modified stem called a corm.

It is by the production of corms that glads are propagated. Each year as the glad grows and flowers the old corm is used up. After blooming the plant produces a new corm in which is stored food for the next year. Around the base of this new corm are many small corms called cormels. The cormels are sown in spring and develop into flowering corms in one year.

THERE ARE three major types of glads recognized by the American Gladiolus Society. The Grandiflorus, the Primulinus and the Primulinus Grandiflorus. There has been a great deal of breeding among the various types so that they are no longer defined. The flowers appear in various forms and shapes, and may be either ruffled or plain petaled.

Glads may be planted in borders or grown for cut flowers in beds. Planting may be started in the spring as soon as the ground is dry enough to work safely. To produce a succession of flowers, plantings are made at intervals of about two weeks until July in our climatic zone. These will provide flowers during July, August and September.

Where the growing season is longer, a longer succession of bloom may be obtained. The best depth to plant is determined by the kind of soil and the size of the corms. Large corms should be planted 6 to 7 inches deep in sandy loam and about 4 inches deep in heavy soil. Smaller sizes may be planted shallower.

SMALL CORMELS should be planted in beds or rows in early spring at a depth of about 2 to 3 inches. The soil around these small cormles should not be allowed to dry out until they have germinated.

While the plants are growing, all weeds should be kept down. Very shallow cultivation is required, as deep cultivation is likely to injure the roots. In case of drouth, irrigation is necessary to develop the best quality of flowers. Gladioli do best when grown in a well drained soil and supplied with lots of water.

The flower spikes of most varieties should be cut after the first flower begins to open. Then when placed in water, the flowers will continue to open for several days. Four or five leaves should be left on the plan to permit proper development of the corms for the next season.

ALL BLOOMED-OUT spikes should be removed, and any plants showing yellow foliage should be dug and discarded. The corms usually mature about six weeks after flowering. They should be dug at that time, before the foliage becomes yellow or brown, as they are more susceptible to corm rot if left in the ground longer.

It is desirable to dig when the soil is dry if possible. (BB

Daughtry Attends

Tell of Soviet CD Activities at Meet

Wallace B. Daughtry, Arlington Heights civil defense director, heard the story of Soviet civil defense activities at a two-day meeting held last Saturday and Sunday in Berwyn.

The meeting was attended by CD officials from Northern Illinois.

Col. Robert Ritz talked on Soviet civil defense.

DAUGHTRY reported that Ritz told the conference that 75 million Soviet citizens are trained in basic techniques of civil defense, and that 22 million are members of "self-defense" groups, each of which numbers 50 to 75 persons.

Ritz also reported that all men between the ages of 16 and 60 and all women between 15 and 65 receive 14 to 18 hours of civil defense instruction, and must pass examinations as they progress through the course.

THE MEETING in Berwyn was informed that new buildings being constructed in the Soviet Union contain fallout protection areas, and that the largest cities are being surrounded by "satellite cities" which are 18 to 20 miles from the central city and from each other.

The two-day conference in Berwyn also took up civil defense training programs and procedures, and accounting procedures. The duties of civil defense departments were explained, in case of both natural and nuclear disasters.

The current federal fall-out shelter program was discussed, and a review made of the effects of nuclear weapons.

DAUGHTRY declared that the recent Congressional slash of about half the funds requested for civil defense purposes this year did not mean that the federal government is abandoning the fallout shelter program.

Daughtry said the amount left for civil defense was greater than the total spent the last fiscal year, despite the severe slash by Congress. (A

Luckily the weather was less rainy at Mauston, Wis. during the past two weeks than it was here, and this gave the Walter Fill family of N. Beverly Lane a chance to get in a little swimming while they vacationed in a cabin at Castle Rock Lake. The cool weather was fine for fishing and the Fills and their youngsters, Diane, Ellen and Chuckie, enjoyed this sport. Mrs. Fill's brother and family from Edison Park were their vacation companions.

For Nancy Audette's 10th birthday on July 24 she entertained four friends at Rolling Green Country Club. Her guests, Mary Johnson, Carol Evans, Betsy Drake and Karen Lavin, lunched and swam in the club's pool.

Nancy's brother, Terry, has recently been home on a 10-day furlough from Iceland. Her other brother, Phillip, has just joined the service and is stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky. Phillip hopes to become a paratrooper. The Audette children are the grandniece and nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petersen of 710 E. St. James.

THE PARTY CIRCUIT has been a gay one for the 10-year-old neighborhood girls. The same young ladies attending Nancy's splash party were guests Saturday at Betsy Drake's home for her birthday luncheon. The girls finished off the afternoon with a trip to the movies. Betsy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Drake of 411 N. Beverly.

Because Kathleen Harty's mother will be in the hospital on her August 4 birthday, her ninth celebration was held last Friday afternoon. The McBride, Scully, Neas and Van Veen youngsters were Kathy's guests for a pizza, ice cream and cake party. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harty of 204 N. Brighton.

Get-well wishes are sent to Mrs. Harty for a very quick recovery from leg surgery which she is undergoing this week at Northwest Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brinke weekended recently in Springfield, Ill., visiting friends they met six years ago while vacationing at Alpine in Door County, Wis. Mr. Brinke's July 27 birthday was honored with a family dinner, and on the next day, Saturday, he was further congratulated when neighbors, the Bill Kaspers and the Carl Carlmans, came over for dinner and an evening of cards.

BILL AND HELEN Kasper have just recently returned from a two-week vacation trip to Denver.

Saturday's inclement weather forced another planned outdoor party indoors; but the barbecued ribs that the Lerches cooked for their neighbors, the Meyers, Conns and Drakes, tasted just as good on the breezeway as they would have outside.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to stand guard for freedom in 1962

Some men of Concord in old Massachusetts once got themselves called "Minute Men" because it took them just 60 seconds to come to the defense of freedom, day or night.

In the years since, the Minute Man has become a symbol of our determination to stay strong and to stay free. Other symbols of that determination are U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you buy a Bond today you do more than invest money for your own future. You also show your own personal determination to keep America strong and free right now—because the same dollars you save for tomorrow help the government defend freedom today.

That's why buying U.S. Savings Bonds is a way to be a "Minute Man" in 1962. And Bonds work for you and your country around the clock.

Why not join the ranks of America's modern Minute Men? All it takes is $18.75 and a visit to the Bond window at the bank.

Keep freedom in your future with

Trade Bill Importance Is Stressed for Journalists

By DICK HOFFMANN

"We were offering concessions on swords and scabbards when the Europeans were making offers on steel products."

This, a State Department official explained to a gathering of newsmen at the Chicago International Trade Fair at McCormick Place last Friday, July 27, has been a chief obstacle in achieving equitable trade agreements between the U. S. and Europe.

"This is what the President's Trade Expansion bill is all about," the official commented. "It will allow us to bargain on a broad basis rather than an item-by-item basis."

In ground rules laid down before the briefing, it was agreed that remarks would not be attributed to the speakers. Two State Department officials, Phillip H. Trezise, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Economic Affairs, and Raymond G. Leddy, Senior State Department Advisor to the National War College, Carlisle Barracks, spoke to the group.

THE BRIEFING was sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry. Paddock Publications, Inc. was represented by Stuart R. Paddock, editor-in-chief, and Dick Hoffmann, associate editor.

The official said the trade act was only one of the keys required to solve the trade problems facing the United States and other countries of the world.

Addressing his remarks to the challenge posed by the European Common Market, he cited French electrical computers as an example. "The Common Market members (besides France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and Italy) are now charged a tariff of 10 per cent. It is 17½ per cent for the United States. When the Common Market's internal tariffs go down to zero, it means the tariff we face will be around 14 per cent."

THE SPEAKER envisioned a number of super-national institutions existing by 1970 as a result of European economic union. "The member countries now have common tariffs on agriculture and transportation, and have a coordinated financial and monetary policy; they have a common set of rules and scales for workers and wages." The machinery for political union is seen in the judicial and parliamentary bodies of the Common Market, he added.

"It looks like an insoluble economic union. Greece is now an associate member; the United Kingdom has applied for membership, and Norway, Denmark and Ireland want in."

He said not only the United States, but other countries will be forced to negotiate with the Common Market alliance. "Latin America is afraid formation of the market will limit her exports of coffee and other tropical commodities; Japanese products are now greatly discriminated against in Europe." Ten South American countries and six Central American countries are already in the process of attempting to form their own economic union, it was explained.

"IN A WAY," the official added, "a united Europe is an American plan. It has subordinated the ancient rivalries of Germany and France." Another by-product of the union has been the increasing role a strong and prosperous Europe has taken in assisting the economic development of the underprivileged countries of the world, he pointed out.

The official said he hoped to see a partnership between the U. S. and Western Europe develop cooperation in achieving an international monetary system. "We can't afford to go on with the currency crisis."

The flourishing European economy, the speaker noted, accounts for $100 billion in trade in any given year. "It's the fastest growing market in the world with the possible exception of Japan, which had a considerably smaller market to begin with."

HE SAID Europe was crossing the threshold into the era of mass consumption of durable consumer goods, "something this country has passed through in the last four or five decades." He added: "There is an enormous area for growth. Europeans have about as many telephones as we did per resident in 1912."

He said a mutual lowering of trade barriers would be more beneficial toward American exports than it would be a hinderance to the economy with a greater influx of foreign imports. "We imported $1,700,000,000 worth of goods to Japan last year while importing $1 billion worth of Japanese products. We don't need to worry about what will happen if we bring tariffs down but what will happen if we don't reduce them," he declared.

Another speaker offered a global summary of U. S. policies, explaining their objectives.

The United Nations' goal in the Congo, he said, was a united regime. "When the Congolese government appealed to the UN for help against the return of th Belgians, we could have entered the country ourselves, ignored the situation, or supported a third force—the United Nations. We wanted to prevent a direct confrontation of the two great power blocs—the U. S. and U. S. S. R.—in the Congo."

THE SECESSIONIST movement of Katanga Province persists, he admitted, but observed: "The Congo couldn't exist as a country without Katanga." The mineral-rich province contains 60 per cent of the wealth of the Congo, he explained.

Touching on the tender Southeast Asia trouble spots, he commented:

—In Laos, an independent neutralist state has been created by a 14-nation agreement. It has been the history of tripartite governments that they are chewed up by the Communists. But you can't force a people to take a stand unless they want to, and the recent history of Laos is that it never had a strong central government and its people are mild and pacific, embracing the Buddhist faith. "To expect to create a bastion of anti-communism is impossible."

—Viet Nam, like Laos, has no history as a nation, having once been a part of French Indo-China. Government estimates figure guerrilla warfare to continue in Viet Nam for the next 10 years. "Again, we must consider the non-belligerent nature of the populace. We are engaged in a holding operation until the people are able to defend themselves."

—Latin American governments still follow a similar pattern of coups d'etat and military insurrections. This discourages long-term capital investment to build the economy. Brazil is the Administration's principal worry. It maintains a third of the population and territory of South America and contains immeasurable potential in untapped resources; if it were to fall to a Castro-styled government, it may cast the mold for the rest of South America.

—IN CUBA, privations the populace has suffered under the Castro regime have not "added up to the spirit of revolt." He knew nothing of external plans for overthrowing the government. "Considering the volatile nature of our Latin American cousins and their tradition of power struggles, there could be an outbreak. But Communist regimes have a history of surviving temporary crisis. Their degree of control is so thorough that what would bring down other regimes is not sufficient to topple them."

He concluded: "What we touch on here, gentlemen, is continued, protracted crisis that will be with you and me the rest of our lives."

Harry Stumps for Yates

Truman Blisters GOP In Flash of Old Fire

VENICE, ILL. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman took the political stump in Illinois Saturday, called for defeat of U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) in a blistering speech in which he attacked the Republican party.

The bareheaded Mr. Truman, as soon as he stepped foot on Illinois soil after a plane flight to St. Louis and a motor drive across a Mississippi River bridge, announced that he was campaigning for Rep. Sidney Yates (D-Ill.).

Asked if he was "Here to stump for Yates," Mr. Truman smiled and said "Do you think I'm here for Dirksen."

Mr. Truman gave a 10-minute speech at the Madison County Fair at Highland, Ill., arriving after a motorcade through several Southern Illinois towns bedecked with bunting and flags.

FIVE HOURS later, he addressed a fund-raising dinner in the American Legion Home at Venice where he said "If the Republicans had any real sense of decency, they would be ashamed to show their faces."

Mr. Truman said "They (Republicans) have a day that is all their own — 'Big Business Day.' " He said "You won't find it marked on the calendar because the Republicans celebrate it 365 days a year."

In a vigorous attack on the Republicans, he said "While they stand at the front door proclaiming charity and tolerrance, their supporters are heading the forces of racial, religious and anti-union bigotry in by way of the back door."

"And no one will ever make me believe they are not smart enough to know what is going on."

MR. TRUMAN'S visit was sponsored by the Madison and St. Clair County Democratic forces which gave Mr. Truman a 40,000 vote majority in 1948.

Mr. Truman told the political rally that they could help sideline Dirksen and put Yates in as the second Democratic senator. The other one is Paul Douglas (D-Ill.). (A14

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

THE TRANSITION FROM MILITARY to civilian life took place without incident.

After two weeks of active duty with the United States Air Force Reserve we returned to our desk Monday morning, checked over the mail and past two editions of the paper, and attempted to learn what we missed while wearing the khakis.

Our two week tour in Ohio left us with the impression that there are only two things worth talking about in that Buckeye state. If you didn't think Cincinnati's red-hot Reds were the greatest baseball team around or that Ohio State would be the greatest college football team in 1962, you just weren't "with it."

The same condition probably would exist in the Chicago area, but our entries in professional sports have a tendency to disappear from title contention at the very early stages of their respective seasons.

We attended one baseball game in Cincinnati — a 13-6 travesty with the Pirates that set our national pastime back a few years — and found small consolation in the fact that Chicago's two ball parks are more attractive than Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

We personally would rather have two teams of championship caliber.

One humorous item picked up in our junket to Cincinnati concerned Dizzy Dean, who handles television's Game of The Day, and Waite Hoyt, one-half of the Reds' radio broadcasting team.

One humid day when Dean and his TV gang were in Cincinnati, Hoyt was so hot he took off his pants in the booth. Dean spotted Waite and had the TV camera turned on him.

Waite's wife happened to be listening to her husband but watching the TV screen. She promptly sent him a telegram: "Put on your pants, you fool, and come home."

In any respect, it's good to be back at the typewriter. We're anxious to get started in another school year with football practice slated to get under way in less than a month!

TEXAS, SURPRISINGLY, leads the nation in the number of high school participants in both football and basketball.

The Lone Star state is fifth in the nation in population and tenth in the totals of school age children.

It has 915 high schools which play football with 110,714 players; 1091 high schools which produce basketball teams with 76,209 participating.

That's just something else for Texans to brag about.

IN MAY JIM WEINERT of Highland Park successfully defended his state high school mile championship by edging Tim Renn of New Trier at the tape.

At the time everyone commented on Weinert's courage since it was obvious he was running on guts and with hardly any practice background. He was competing only for the second time all spring because of a leg injury.

The injury was described as an inflamed tendon in the ankle.

The most incredible part of the story did not come to light until after the state meet. Weinert actually ran on a broken foot. X-rays had revealed no damage in the spring, but a second set taken in May uncovered a hair-line fracture of a bone in his foot.

Weinert, apparently, is not set on Wisconsin although he signed its tender. Missouri still is in the picture. Jim would have liked to go to Oregon where great distance running prevails but the school is not interested to the extent of offering aid.

IN MOLDING A REPRESENTATIVE college football team most coaches would like to start off with solid strength at the fullback position on the frosh aggregation.

"I'd like to get 15-20 good fullbacks every fall," vowed Illinois' freshman coach Bobby Herndon. "There's so much you can do with fullbacks."

Perhaps more than any other position, fullback lends itself to change. Good high school fullbacks adapt readily to center, guard, or end. Most of them are rugged, most have some heft to them and most have fair speed at least.

Considering the dip in Illinois football fortunes in recent years, we're confident the Illini grid staff would settle for ends, tackles, guards, centers, quarterbacks, and halfbacks — in addition to fullbacks.

The first football magazine to hit the newsstands picks Illinois for dead last in the Big Ten. Ohio State is heavily favored for the 1962 flag.

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH department:

Green Bay's powerful Packers should have little trouble rolling over the class of the collegians Friday evening in the football spectacular at Soldier Field.

Let's give Coach Vince Lombardi's giants a 17-point cushion and call it 24-7!

Forest View May Share Facilities With Prospect

Forest View High School will have practice sessions for their Falcons' football team, but as of this week there is a question as to where the sessions will be held.

The new high school, located on Goebbert Road south of Arlington Heights, was slated to be completed in time for summer practice sessions. Site development work around the building is now underway, but an acceptable sod for football will not be ready in time for the August 22 pre-season practice.

In fact, the gymnasium building itself will be the last of the five school buildings to be finished, and even locker-room facilities may not be available. School officials have their official "fingers" crossed in hope that the gymnasium facilities will be finished in time for school opening in September.

The school district had sought permission from the Cook County Forest Preserve District to use a parcel of property near State and Higgins Roads for practice. This permission was received, but lack of locker-room facilities at Forest View would preclude even this use.

It now appears the Falcons will be sharing locker rooms and practice field with the Prospect High Knights, at least for the beginning of the practice season.

School spokesmen are quick to assure football boosters that this will not mean sharing of plays or signals—they hope!

13th Annual Paddock Meet

Deadline for Entries Nears; Golfers Eye Tourney Berths

Saturday is the day of decision for golfers in the area served by Paddock Publications.

By nightfall Saturday, Aug. 4, the field will be determined for the 13th annual Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament.

League leaders as of that date qualify for competition in the links extravaganza scheduled for Sunday, August 19, at Golden Acres Country Club.

Entries must be delivered to the Tournament Manager, Paddock Publications, 217 West Campbell, Arlington Heights, by Saturday, August 11, at the latest. Early filing of applications is urged to aid in tourney publicity.

THE TOURNAMENT will be strictly a team affair with a trophy going to the winning squad and medals to members of the first, second, and third place entries.

A dozen golf balls will go to low individual net player regardless of how his team finishes.

Each squad entering the tournament will be assessed $16 to cover greens fees. There will be no other costs to golfers.

PADDOCK Publications sports department will compute handicaps. Eighty per cent of the difference between a player's average 9-hole score for his five best nights and par for the course on which he plays including fractions is to be multiplied by two to obtain the 18-hole handicap.

The nearest figure under, at, or over .5 will be used.

An early entry in the 1962 tournament was determined, strangely enough, by the flip of a coin. The Hagens and Joneses were tied for the lead of the Arlington VFW loop after Monday night's firing, but the Hagens claimed the coveted tourney berth.

ELSEWHERE around the area links circuit, several other tight races have developed with the final night of action determining the actual tourney entry.

In Friday evening play at Mount Prospect Country Club Keefer's Pharmacy holds a slim 3.3 point lead over Arlington Camera. Arlington Structural Steel is only 3½ points on top of Horcher Decorators in the Arlington Twilight division.

Just three points separate Colt Restaurant and Dean Landscapers in the always powerful Old Orchard Scratch League, producer of the 1961 tourney titlist from Webber Paints. Picket Paint has a four-point bulge over Carl's Food Shop in the Mount Prospect Monday loop.

Six teams are in contention in the Mount Prospect Tuesday league while McMahon's and Busse Automotive appear to be the entries from the two St. Raymond's divisions. At the last report McMahon's was 9½ points ahead of Strass Ladies Apparel in League 1, and Busse Automotive was a somewhat comfortable 11½ markers on top of Mount Prospect Savings.

CHUCK PEDERSEN, pro at Rolling Green Country Club, and Rolling Green president William Pailey, of 702 S. Belmont lane, Arlington Heights, proudly display the championship trophy they acquired at the 24th Annual Illinois PGA Pro-President tournament at Edgewater Country Club. Pedersen and Pailey established a new low net record of 70-7—63 for the selective drive-alternate shot competition.

End of the Road

Evanston Eliminates Des Plaines Outfit

As far as Des Plaines is concerned, the 1962 American Legion baseball season is over.

The trail ended for the Ninth District champs Sunday in the First Division eliminations at Berwyn when Evanston hammered out a come-from-behind 5-2 triumph.

Manager Roland Fletcher's outfit submitted its bid for the County title last Wednesday by knocking off Fifth District champ Park Forest, 3-1.

BUT THE string ran out for Des Plaines Friday as Oak Park throttled the Ninth District Club, 4-1, thus laying the groundwork for eventual elimination by Evanston Sunday.

Oak Park and Evanston met for the tournament title Tuesday with a berth in the State Tournament at oWdstock Aug. 9-10-11-12-13 hanging in the balance.

Oak Park, which qualified for the County via the Fifth District, and Evanston, the Seventh District titlist, traded a pair of decisions earlier in the double elimination affair played on the Morton West High School diamnd.

OAK PARK whipped Evanston, 6-1, in the tournament opener last Wednesday, but the North Shore Post bounced back Monday to take a 4-2 contest.

Evanston Wins County Title

Evanston, behind a prolific 12-hit attack, wrapped up the 1962 Cook County American Legion baseball crown by maulling Oak Park, 19-2, Tuesday at Berwyn.

The Seventh District champs broke up a tight 3-2 game with five runs in the fourth inning and then proceeded to turn the contest into a rout.

By virtue of the victory, Evanston will advance to the state tournament at Woodstock, beginning Aug. 9.

Chip Allen tossed a nifty four-hitter at Park Forest as Des Plaines opened with a victory last Wednesday. Along the way, Allen chalked up 10 strikeouts.

Des Plaines broke the ice in the second inning with a single run. Warren Baird walked, moved around to third on Allen's single and scored on Rick DeKreek's single.

AL WATERS
DES PLAINES

A WALK, and error and two singles led to a pair of Des Plaines counters in the top of the fourth. Gary Kraft and Dave Kern started it off with a pair of hits, while an error on Baird's infield smash allowed Kraft to score.

Gene Ciezadlo walked to fill the bases and Kern scored on Dan Humay's sacrifice fly to center.

Park Forest ruined Allen's shutout in the sixth when a single by Bellnap and Rosenblum's double produced a run.

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Des Plaines .....010 200 000—3
Park Forest .....000 001 000—1

OAK PARK'S Ed Hamm collared Des Plaines to four hit Friday en route to a 4-1 win. No less than 1 Des Plaines batters were retired on third strikes.

Four timely extra-base-hits led to the Oak Park triumph. Stan Fasano's homer with a man on in the first accounted for the winners' first two tallies.

A triple by Jimmy MacLaren followed by Dick Kissane's double hiked the Oak Park lead to 3-0 in the second, while Hamm scored the fourth run in the seventh when he tripled and scored on a throwing error.

Caps Banner Sports Week

A solid week of racing for charity at Arlington Park will be concluded Saturday with the 52nd running of the $100,000 added American Derby for three-year-olds at the classic distance of one-and-one-quarter miles.

The six-day charity segment has been conducted by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in conjunction with "All-Star Sports Week," which will go down as one of the biggest weeks in Chicago sports history.

Baseball dominated the spotlight as the big week opened Monday with the 33rd All-Star game at Wrigley Field. The scene will shift to Soldier Field Friday night for the All-Star Football Classic prior to Saturday's American Derby.

ALL PROCEEDS for the week's racing card will be distributed by the Tribune Charities to Chicago's indigent and needy.

And in honor of All-Star Sports week, racing has been at its best at Arlington Park. It started Monday with the $20,000 added Arch Ward Memorial for three-year-olds and upward.

Topping yesterday's (Wednesday) card was the $25,000 added Hyde Park Stakes for two-year-olds at six furlongs.

THE DERBY will mark another local appearance of the popular Ridan. Ridan will attempt to become the 11th three-year-old in history to annex both the Classic and Derby, joining an illustrious camp that already includes Mate, Gusto, Cavalcade, Ponder, Hall of Fame, Mark-Ye-Well, Native Dancer, Errard King, Swoon's Son and TV Lark.

Back in the running for national honors, Ridan annihilated his Classic foes in "off" going two weeks ago, winning as Avelino Gomez pleased, with Ethel Haffa's Mighty Fennec and Fred. W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage "swimming" behind him.

Both are expected to try the brilliant son of Nantallah again, but there'll be new challengers too.

THE C. R. Mac Stable's Black Sheep, hero of the San Vicente at Santa Anita and the Cinema at Hollywood Park, is on the grounds being groomed for the American Derby.

Another arrival is that of Mrs. Frank Turner's Sir Ribot, winner of the California Derby.

Last week's Olympia Stakes at seven furlongs also was expected to uncover an additional challenger or two for Ridan, though the latter, inactive from May 19 when he bowed to Greek Money in the Preakness, until his Classic "spectacular," has never looked better.

WORD HAS IT Jaipur's connections would like nothing better than to ready the temperamental son of Nasrullah for a historic meeting with Ridan in the American, though the former is still in New York as of Tuesday.

Last year's Derby went to Beau Prince with Editorialist second and Flutterby third. Best time for the event was a snappy 2:00.4 turned in by Ponder in 1949.

In Saturday's $28,375 Beverly Handicap for fillies and mares, Kootenai galloped through the rain and mud for a two-and-one-half lengths victory.

A 10-1 shot, Kootenai earned $17,125 to add to previous 1962 winnings of $4,950. Bob Dever was aboard the winner.

L. P. TATE'S Fluoresee finished second a neck clear of the Pierce-Seltzer's fast-closing Mill House. Mary V. Fisher's Goldflower, topweighted at 123 pounds and the 2-1 choice, finished sixth best in the field of 10.

Fourth Estate Stable's Times Two, the second favorite, moved up gradually near the rail, then swung to the outside on the stretch turn. Nearing the eighth pole, she moved into second, two lengths back of Kootenai, then faltered to finish fourth.

Merrick Stable's Mah Moola, the third favorite at less than 5-1, wound up fifth.

MONDAY'S $22,300 Arch Ward Handicap went to Fred W. Hooper's Winonly, a five-year-old son of Olympia. Headed only once at the top of the stretch, Winonly was a solid three-lengths victor.

Jack Welch's Weathertop, with Bill Hartack aboard, placed second, while Bluescope, Mrs. Mary H. Hunter's three-stake winner in Chicago this season and a 9-5 favorite, earned third money.

Sectional Jamboree On Saturday

A team of 31 young athletes will represent Mount Prospect at the Evanston sectional of the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree on Saturday, Aug. 4.

There they will compete against youngsters from other northeastern Illinois towns for the chance to enter the state finals at Sterling, Aug. 23-25.

The sectional will be held on the Northwestern University campus, with track and field events in Dyche stadium. Contestants will register at 9 a.m., and both meets will get underway at 10 o'clock.

THE EVANSTON meet is one of eight sectionals scheduled this summer to select the contestants for the state Jamboree. From an original field of nearly 45,000 entries, approximately 600 will receive the expense-paid trip to Sterling as guests of the Illinois Youth Commission.

The Junior Sports Jamboree, a physical fitness program which has attracted nationwide interest, is sponsored by the Youth Commission with the cooperation of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jaycee chapters in more than 100 communities have conducted local meets this summer, and will provide transportation for hometown winners to and from the sectionals.

BOYS AND GIRLS who will make the trip to Evanston include all first place winners in the meet held here on May 19 at Prospect High.

Sixteen towns are sending teams to the sectional. Communities which will be represented in both the track and swimming meets are Antioch, Dolton, Evanston, Evergreen Park-Oak Lawn, Homewood-Flossmoor, Kankakee, Mount Prospect, Oak Park-River Forest, Waukegan, and Zion-Benton. Four other towns — Chicago Heights, Joliet, Mundelein, and North Chicago — are sending track teams only.

Swimming finalists from the Chicago Jamboree will also be entered in the Evanston meet. Chicago held its own track sectional, with winners going directly to the state finals.

Local boys and girls who will compete in the Evanston track meet are to meet at the south end of the Prospect High School parking lot at 7:45 a.m.

Trophies will be presented to winners and runners-up in men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles, and junior men's singles, (18 and under),

Mac Says

by G. A. McELROY

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO THE BOARD of education of High School District 211, which serves the townships of Palatine and Schaumburg, voted to continue with the "two-two' 'system of school organization which has been in effect the past year. This calls for all juniors and seniors to be housed in one building in the district with one or more frosh-soph schools preparing students for it. In this plan there is one high school housed in two or more buildings. Blue Island has this plan with three frosh-soph feeder schools while LaGrange and Waukegan, like Palatine, have students separated in two buildings.

In this system, the classes at each level are twice as large as in four-year high schools making for more effective ability grouping and making possible special courses for both the gifted and retarded students. Those who operate the plan claim it costs less since it is not necessary to duplicate expensive equipment used in advanced business education, science, industrial arts, etc. The plan also maintains greater unity in the district since all seniors graduate from one school and all students in the district are together at the upper level. The plan increases frosh-soph participation in extra curricular activities and offers the younger students more leadership experiences than does a four-year high.

In view of the fact that the junior-senior group will outgrow the school on Wood Street in Palatine and the frosh-sophs will exceed the 1,600 capacity of the new Quentin Road school by 1964, the Board is planning to build a frosh-soph school on Old Plum Grove Road, east of Hoffman Estates, in Schaumburg Township on one of two sites purchased in that area three years ago. Preliminary plans for a building with 1,600 capacity have been approved by the Board with a referendum scheduled for Saturday, October 20 when the voters of the district will be asked to approve construction. If this building is opened on schedule in September, 1964 it will house frosh-sophs from the Schaumburg area. The school in Palatine on Wood Street will house the Palatine Township frosh-sophs and the five-year-old building on Quentin Road will be the home for the juniors and seniors who will exceed its capacity of 1,600 by 1966.

What does this "two-two" system mean for sports activities? It helped the school become an athletic power in the North Suburban and in state district competition this past year through increased numbers and facilities resulting in better quality athletic teams. A second frosh-soph school means that twice as many of the younger boys will compete in athletics as was the case the past year. It also poses a problem of which frosh-soph school shall represent the district in official sophomore competition in the North Suburban Conference. Will one play league games and the other play a free lance schedule? Will the best team in each sport represent the district? These are problems coming up two years hence. The solution may be membership in a conference where the junior varsity teams play the preliminaries to varsity football and basketball games instead of the sophs as is the case in the Interim Conference.

One point seems certain. Township High School 211 is going to seek a new conference affiliation. By 1964, the total number of high school students in the Palatine-Schaumburg area is expected to exceed 3,000. This past year Palatine High had 600 more students than the second largest in the North Suburban League. In September of this year the differential may become as much as 800 as Palatine High approaches an enrollment of 2,300.

Several years ago North Suburban principals mildly complained that Palatine was outgrowing and would soon dominate the other league members. Last year Palatine won six out of eight championships on the varsity level though two were by forfeits. Realizing that North Suburban membership has only a few years remaining school authorities have contacted the Interim Association, the West Suburban Conference and the realignment committee of the Association of Suburban Conferences for consideration of a change in membership to a league of larger schools.

Increased numbers, improved facilities, and superior coaching add up to high quality groups in athletics, music, and other school activities. For years Palatine has been striving to be good enough to be a contender in all the major sports. In the present league affiliation and with the present school organization the school may suffer by being too strong. This being too good is a problem most schools would welcome. The New York Yankees are too good for the American League, but they do not worry about that problem except to plan to retain that status. In high school competition the solution is not that easy. If you win too much in one league you can change conferences for more even competition or are eventually voted out of your league.

ARCHERY IS BUT one of the many recreational activities included in the comprehensive park district programs available in the area this summer. Handling the archery program at Palatine Park is Larry Lorenz.

Annual Lions Olympics Set For Saturday

The annual Lions Olympics will be held on Saturday morning, August 4, at Recreation Park. The morning activity begins at 9:00 with the Wheel Parade, with awards given for outstanding entries. All participants will receive ice cream bars from the Lions Club members.

Following the Wheel Parade, competition for the boys and girls who qualified for the finals during the past week will be held in the following events: standing broad jump, base running, softball throw, 50-yard dash, and a 200 yard shuttle relay.

Girls and boys will be divided into four age groups with ribbons being awarded to the top three finishers in each event in each age group. The digit class is for those children that just completed first or second grade, migit will be for those that were in third or fourth, intermediate - fifth and sixth and junior - seventh and eighth.

OFFICIATING at the Olympics will be members of the local Lions Club and the Park District recreation staff.

The evening events will consist of individual swimming competition in crawl and back stroke. The boys and girls will be divided into five age groups: 8 and under, 9 and 10, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15 and 16. Starting time of the final will be 7:30.

The annual Lions Olympics is sponsored by the Lions Club of Arlington Heights in cooperation with the Arlington Heights Park District.

An Evanston error on Ciezadlo's grounder scored Baird and Humay counted on DeKreek's sacrifice fly.

But the Seventh District champs roared back to tie the score in the second inning and then surged ahead for keeps in the fifth round.

Barnhart Captures CDGA Junior Golf Championship

Ray Barnhart of Medinah Country Club won the 27th Chicago District Golf Association's Invitational Junior championship at Ruth Lake Country Club last week with a 54-hole total of 215.

Barnhart, who captured the Illinois state high school medal in 1960 as a senior at Downers Grove High, fired a final round of 74 against opening scores of 72 and 69.

Heading into the final 18, Barnhart trailed Crystal Lake's Jeff Jones by five strokes. Jones had set the pace for the first two rounds of play with torrid cards of 66 and 70, but skyrocketed to an 81 last Wednesday and had to settle for a share of second place.

BARNHART, who as a member of the Western Illinois University varsity golf squad qualified for the National Intercollegiate at Duke, had only one bird on the final day, that one coming on No. 18.

Sharing second place with Jones was Jim Jamieson, whose concluding card of 71 was low for the day. Both Jones and Jamieson closed with 54-hole totals of 217.

Sherman Finger III was five strokes off the pace in fourth place, while Barrington's Larry Grelle tied for fifth. A two-time North Suburban Conference medalist, Grelle totaled 222 for the 54-hole tourney.

John Seehausen and Randy Wolf, June graduates from Palatine and Lake Park high schools respectively, competed in the tournament but failed to place among the leaders.

SLICE

by CHUCK PEDERSEN
Pro, Rolling Green Country Club

The left handed golfer is at a disadvantage because he can not fashion or pattern his swing after more experienced men offering advice.

Since the majority of lefties tend to slice rather than hook, I will devote this article to the slicing left-hander.

I have found that a lefty with a slice often points both his right and left foot along the line of flight, with the right side and shoulder too open. This stance results in a drop of the right shoulder, which pulls the clubhead across the ball.

To help correct this fault, I suggest a square stance with both feet pointing outward so that the hips and shoulders are also square to the line of flight. With the left elbow coming off the left hip the only place for the ball to go is straight down the fairway.

Tests Attempt to Discover Merits Of Exercise Break

"Operation Fitness" is under way in Elk Grove Village.

Under the direction of Bob Vormittag, 29 Forest Lane, a series of periods devoted to light exercise are conducted within the village five days a week.

Vormittag is writing his masters thesis on "The Value of An Exercise Break During The Working Day" and is using five groups as a basis for his study: housewifes, factory workers, office workers, research laboratory engineers, and teachers.

THE FIRST GROUP to undergo the tests consists of 12 housewives. For 30 minutes five days a week the women engage in calisthenics and light exercise.

Vormittag is attempting to discover whether the women feel any better after the exercise and are able to perform their daily tasks better.

Each woman went through the Brace Motor Fitness Tests at the end of the first week with the results carefully examined. The same women will go through the identical tests at the conclusion of the first month with a detailed study made of the comparative scores.

Although the housewives currently are the only group undergoing the tests, Vormittag hopes to follow with the others shortly.

Each group will be asked to fill out questionnaires following the respective series of tests.

Final Round Today

Nannini Claims Lead In Evans Golf Meet

Norando Nannini of Sunset Valley Golf Club tied together a couple of sub-par rounds to take a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the Seventh Annual Chick Evans Amateur golf tourney at White Pines.

The 39-year-old native of Italy clipped two strokes off par on White Pines' challenging South Course Tuesday after posting a one-under 69 in his first crack Monday.

Sporting a 36-hole total of 137, Nannini led a field of 104 into Wednesday's third round. The final session will be staged today (Thursday).

THE LOW 44 of that group were cast in the championship flight with the next 30 golfers assigned to the First Flight. The remaining 30 swingers will be shooting for Second Flight honors.

Nannini scored birdies on the first, fifth, 14th and 17th holes Tuesday to offset bogeys on No. 2 and 13. He visited both the rough and sand only once and committed no three-putt blunders.

Trailing Nannini by a single stroke is first round leader Harry Mussatto, golf coach at Western Illinois University. Mussatto backed up an opening 67 with a one-over 71 for a 138-total.

MUSSATTO suffered a nightmarish triple bogey on the 449-yard second hole. His tee shot found a creek, he took a penalty stroke dropping out and his next shot fell behind a tree from where he had to waste a shot getting back on the fairway.

He finally hit the green with his sixth try and then dropped a four-foot putt for the seven.

Three strokes back of Nannini is Carolyn (Tex) Simon of St. Andrews Country Club with a 140 total. Simon also had posted a 67 Monday but slumped to a three-over 73 Tuesday.

Remo Crovetti of Sunset Valley, the third of a trio who fashioned 67's Monday, came in with a 74 Tuesday to tie for fourth at 141. Sharing fourth with Crovetti is Harold Erickson of White Pines.

ANOTHER White Pines representative, Bill McGurn, who doubles as a Chicago Police Dept. detective when he isn't playing golf, is the sole owner of sixth place with a 142-total. He opened with an excellent 68, but sagged to a 74 Tuesday.

Leading the First Flight swingers at 152 are Bob Zender of Evanston, Earl Gipson of Chicago Postal Club, Tom O'Brien of Itasca, Dom Falasohetti of Cherry Hills and Robert Pinksaff (unattached).

Four share the Second Flight lead. They are Al Stanley of Cog Hill, Gus Speropulous (unattached), MikeBroggi of Riverside and Fred Nardull of White Pines.

Yankees' Pitcher Bears Down and Breaks His Arm

Jack Behrens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Behrens, 701 S. Owens, Mount Prospect, has been added to the disabled list by the Yankees of the Mount Prospect Little League.

It seems that the 12-year-old pitcher has developed a little arm trouble.

Going into the last inning of last Tuesday's game with the Cards, the Yanks trailed 2-0, but Jack still held hopes that his team mates would come through with a late inning run splurge. After all they were the Yankees, and they had been flirting with first place all season.

Young Behrens continued to bear down.

As a matter of fact he really put his "arm into it," as the saying goes.

Only trouble is that he broke it.

That's right. Jack's parents explained that he simply threw so hard that he broke his arm.

Now he wears a sling around his neck, and every morning before he goes out to play, he puts his "arm into it."

Rugged Guards Key Packer Ground Attack

Students of football believe the key to the Green Bay Packers' devastating running attack is the world champions' excellent set of guards.

Coach Vince Lombardi flatly labels Jerry Kramer, 6-foot-3, 262-pounder, "the best guard in the National Football league — and possibly the greatest in the history of the game."

Lombardi characterizes Kramer's running mate, Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston, as "a man of extraordinary determination and pride. That makes the difference between an average athlete and a good one."

KRAMER AND Thurston will bulwark the Packer line against the College All-Stars Friday night in Soldiers' Field, Chicago.

Thurston, 6-foot-1, 240 pounder from Valparaiso University, is one of the hardest workers on a Packer squad which Lombardi tabs "the most willing group" he ever worked with.

"I've always gone all out in training," Thurston admits. "When I came up from Valparaiso, people told me I didn't have a chance to be a big leaguer. But I got in shape and stayed in shape. Sure, training camp routine can be dull. But not this year. The opportunity to play the All-Stars before all those people in Chicago gives all of us a really powerful incentive to get in condition quickly."

KRAMER, A Montana native, became one of the finest guards ever developed at the University of Idaho. But his football career, even back in his prep days, has been marred by a succession of discouraging injuries. His massive body is tattooed with surgery scars.

In Kramer's sophomore year in high school, he backed into a lathe in manual arts class and carved a chunk out of his back. The following year, both barrels of a 10-gauge shotgun exploded and shattered his right arm.

As a high school senior, he was chasing a calf, stepped on a board, and the board "sprung up." The sharp end shot thru the upper part of his leg, barely missing an artery.

KRAMER MANAGED to stay out of the injury ward during most of his college career, but in 1960, as a Packer, he sustained a torn retina which required surgery. The injury jinx returned last autumn when a fractured ankle forced him to miss the Packers' march to the N.F.L. title.

But all the old injuries are forgotten, and Kramer is in keen shape for the All-Star game.

"I was so tickled I could have turned cartwheels when I took my first spring and my ankle didn't even twinge," said the big guard. "I feel great!"

Big Budget

The New York City police department's operating budget for the 1962 fiscal year was $249 million, with $264.8 million appropriated for the 1963 fiscal period.

Griffith's Upset Loop Leaders

Al Griffith's gals defeated first place Frank's Beauty Salon, 7½—6½, at Golden Acres Country Club last Tuesday in the Hoffman 59ers Ladies Golf League.

Howard's Family Shoe won over Tri-City Ace Hardware, 8½—5½. Snyder's Hoffman Drugs and Jupiter Cleaners split their points, 7—7. The team standings remain unchanged.

Daily event was "Blind Hole," with winners Helen Sutherland, Gloria Borkenhagen and Dorothy Broadstock.

Team standings are:

Frank's Beauty Salon	107½
Howard's Family Shoe	96
Al Griffith's	84
Snyder's Hoffman Drugs	79½
Jupiter Cleaners	70½
Tri-City Ace Hardware	66½

Hitters Enjoy Big Week; Cubs Tally 17

A limited week of activity in the Mount Prospect Little League was highlighted by some lusty hitting by the youngsters with the Cubs' 17-run outburst against the Bruning Sox heading the parade.

Scoring in every inning with ten runs in the first two frames, the Cubs had little trouble giving pitcher Boll a relaxing 17-4 triumph.

Johnson slapped a home run for the game's long blow. The Sox were held scoreless until the fifth when they erupted for their four runs.

Johns was the losing pitcher.

HOLDING only a 2-1 lead heading into the fourth, the Yankees exploded with five runs in each of the next two frames and coasted to a 12-1 victory over the Braves. Stevens topped Ayers on the mound with Lawing cracking a triple.

Balzano bested Behrens as the Cardinals slipped by the Yankees 5-1. The winners scored two runs in the second and fourth and added a single counter in the third.

In National Junior Pony League action the Lions rocked the Braves 15-0 with six runs in the first, three in the second, and six more in the third. Mike Ellenberger worked on the mound and yielded only two safeties.

Tom Perkins cracked a home run and triple, and Bob Freck chipped in with a double.

MIKE MUELLER, who was author of a no-hit game against the Senators on July 12, yielded only four safeties while striking out 11 as the Lions clobbered the Indians 11-5.

Nick Peneff and Bob DeJonge collected doubles in a game that gave the Lions the National League championship. Overall for the 1962 campaign, the Lions have been rapping the ball at an amazing .348 clip.

Backed by a 16-hit attack, the Lions crushed the Cubs 15-0. Mike Ellenberger again turned in a strong stint on the mound, yielding only four safeties over the five frames.

MIKE MUELLER and Nick Peneff cracked home runs with Bob DeJonge and Jim Dagget contributing three - baggers. Peneff had a double.

Top defensive play for the afternoon was a throw from the outfield by Peneff that cut off a runner trying to score from second on a single.

The Lions pushed over eight of their runs in a wild third inning.

Bergling got the decision as the Indians crushed the Braves 14-2 in "A" league action. Bill Broeren was the losing pitcher.

WALDO AND DeMent had doubles; Richie a triple; and Fassnacht a home run.

In National "B" competition the Tigers rocked the Senators 10-2 with Johnny Trandel claiming the coveted victory. The little hurler also chipped in with two doubles. Szala had a pair of triples for the losers.

The Tigers clinched the National "B" pennant with the victory, boasting a 9-3 standard.

Richie Clark turned in the defensive highlight of the game with a brilliant catch of a line drive in the final inning.

Brinkman Resigns at Race Track

Clarence Brinkman, 311 N. Dwyer, Arlington Heights, has resigned as track superintendent at Arlington Park after nearly 34 years of service.

The vacated post will be assumed by Brinkman's brother, Henry, who abandons a similar position at Washington Park to head the maintenance crew at the suburban plant northwest of Chicago.

Brinkman plans to work for the Village of Arlington Heights Water Department.

He and his wife, Helen, have three married children; the oldest, a boy, is also working for the village.

Add Hi-Way Franchise to Women's League

Hi-Way Recreation of Palatine will be represented this fall in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League. Northfield Bowl franchise has been replaced by the Palatine lanes.

Other bowling establishments in the league, one of the fastest leagues in the suburban area, include Country Lanes at Lake Zurich, Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, and River-Rand and Sim's in Des Plaines.

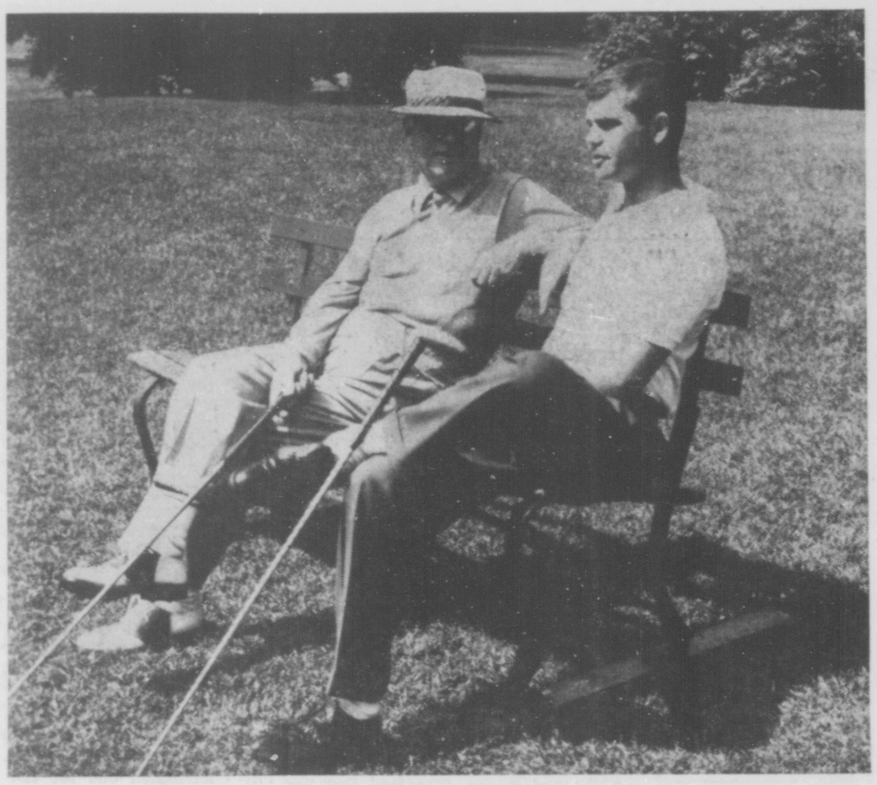
League officers are meeting Thursday of this week to work out details for the new season and expect to have complete rosters ready for publication next week.

Tri-City Ladies

Event of the day in the Tri-City ladies golf league was "Low Gross."

Winners in the nine-hole competition were Martha Ragland, Evelyn Rahn, and Pat Gubbe (A); Marge Carr (B); and Tommy Moore (C).

Winners in the 18-hole competition were Carolyn Erickson (A); Ina Lee (B); and Maxine Horwath (C).



CHATTING ON THE second tee are Chick Evans (left) and Chuck Kittleson of DeKalb. The two golfers were paired together during first round play of the Seventh Annual Chick Evans Amateur at White Pines. Evans wound up with an 83, but Kittleson roared in with a one-over-par 71.

Sox, Cards Hold Leads In LL Play

With less than one week remaining in the regular season the Sox and the Cardinals hold the top positions in the Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball program.

The Yankees are only a half-game from the top in the American League, but the second place Braves are 2½ contests behind the Cards in National League competition.

In the National circuit the Cards whipped the Pirates 9-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Johnson. Following this victory, the pace-setters almost fell victim to the biggest upset of the season.

A DOUBLE by Kranz in the last half of the sixth inning knocked in the winning run and sent the Cards past the lowly Giants 8-7. The Braves then took over sole possession of second place by beating the Giants 8-3.

The Cubs split two games, beating the Dodgers 9-3 and losing to the Pirates 6-5.

In the American circuit the Sox, holding a slim lead over the Yankees, whipped the Senators 11-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Mike Byrnes who also fanned 12. Jacoby slapped out a double, triple, and home run.

THE INDIANS whipped the Tigers 5-3 and then lost to the Senators 9-3, losing ground on the leaders. The Yankees maintained the pace and stopped the Athletics 12-0.

Al Ernst tossed a two-hit shutout for the winners. The Tigers held fifth place, beating the Athletics 8-5.

On Saturday the first game of a three-game World Series will be played at 1:30 p.m. with the following games scheduled for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and Monday at 6 p.m.

In the Junior Division the National League All-Stars whipped the Americans 14-13 in recent action with the big blow a grand slam homer for the Nationals by Salanka.

Park District Play

Pioneer Park Holds Top Slot in Softball

Pioneer Park remains in first place of the Arlington Heights Park District 12-inch softball league with a victory over Hasbrook.

Jumping on Hasbrook pitcher Jim Duke for four quick runs in the first inning ,and then adding six more in the second, Pioneer coasted to a 14-1 victory.

Ed Johnson was the big gun for Pioneer in the first two innings. Hitting a two-run homer in the first, Ed followed this with a three-run blast in the second inning. Mickey Wadzita also had a good day at the plate with two triples and a single.

PIONEER'S defense, which has been tough all season, was stingy once again and allowed Hasbrook only five singles. Hasbrook managed to score their only run in the first inning on singles by Fred Wood and Steve Boltz, an error, and a sacrifice fly by Rick Kanak.

The High School, after suffering two straight defeats, returned to the victory column with two wins over Evergreen and Virginia.

In a close game, which Evergreen nearly pulled out of the fire, the High School won 6-5. Evergreen allowed their opponent to score early and then could not close the gap. The High School pushed across four runs in the first inning and then added two more in the fourth. Ron Gustason, Bill Reedy, and Kevin Johnston each had two hits for the High School.

EVERGREEN waited until the final innings to score. Putting across three runs in the sixth and two in the seventh Evergreen nearly won the game. If it were not for the fact that the High School infield, consisting of Curt Daves, John Kehe, Ron Gustason and Bill Reedy, arose to the occasion with three double plays, one in each of the sixth and seventh innings, the score may have been different.

Tom Lunstedt was the leading hitter for Evergreen with four straight hits; all singles.

Against Virginia, the High School unleashed their power and handed Virginia a 12-1 defeat.

LEADING 5-1, the High School pushed across six runs in the sixth inning. The inning featured seven hits, including a three-run double by Greg Zachawieza. Greg also hit a home run, a two run blast in the first inning.

Curt Daves and Kevin Howell each contributed three hits to the High School offense.

Virginia managed to get only five hits. One of these was a bases empty home run by John Blomquist, to account for Virginia's only run.

WITH THESE two wins, the High School is keeping pace with Pioneer, and is one game out of first place.

Virginia won their first game of the season when they hung a 15-3 defeat on Recreation Park. Earlier in the season, Recreation had defeated Virginia 7-4.

John Blomquist was the difference for Virginia as he hit two home runs, a triple and double, driving in seven runs. Rich Namovicz put Virginia out in front to stay when he hit a bases loaded home run in the third inning.

RICH LE PENNA had himself a field day at the plate with five straight hits; a double and four singles.

Jim Ostler drove in two runs with a double and Noni Santos the other to account for Recreation three runs.

Recreation suffered their second defeat of the week at the hands of Dryden, 15-1.

RECREATION was no match for the heavy hitting Dryde. team. Managing to get only four scattered hits, one a double by Emmett Quill which provided their only run, Recreation could not dent the Dryden defense.

Herb Schneider got Dryden off on the right foot with a three run homer in the first inning. Herb followed this with another two-run blast in the second inning, which featured seven hits and six runs.

Pitcher Tom Carey certainly aided his own cause by banging out a single, double, triple and homer. The homer accounted for three runs.

IN THE FINAL game of the week, Hasbrook pitcher Jim Kanok silenced the bats of Dryden while his teammates were chalking up a 6-0 victory.

A scoreless game for three innings, Hasbrook managed to put across a run in the fourth inning.

The next inning proved to be fatal as Hasbrook scored five big runs. Bruce Stein led off the inning with a single, and Fred Wood tripled him home. After Mike Blasey had walked and Terry Taege reached first by virtue of an error, Rich Kanak put the game on ice with a three-run homer.

Jim Kanak did an excellent job on the mound for Hasbrook in allowing only three hits. Greg Scheck had two of these hits; both singles.

Drivers Prep For 500-Lap O'Hare Feature

Top stock car drivers from throughout the midwest are getting all set for the biggest stock car auto race in Chicago history — the O'Hare American 500, a grueling 500-lap, 125-mile championship for new and late model stock cars at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park Roads, Saturday night, Aug. 11. Race time is 8:30 p.m.

Offering the biggest purse in Chicago racing history with the winning driver collecting a minimum of $1,000 and very likely over $2,000, the classic will start the 30 fastest performers in qualifying time trials in three rows.

AMONG Chicagoland favorites already entered are Roy Czach and Terry Parker of Chicago, Kenny Paulsen of Stone Park, Jim Vandermeir of Arlington Heights, Bill Lutz of Melrose Park, Butch Linden of Buffalo Grove, Roy Martinelli of Halfday and Erik Johnson of Highland Park.

A number of newcomers and out-of-town drivers are also expected to be on hand to give the local favorites thorough tests. These invaders may include an old O'Hare favorite and former champion, Fred Lorenezn of Elmhurst, if he is able to get away from commitments in the south.

Limited seats are now on sale at O'Hare every race night — Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday — and can also be ordered by mail via the ad elsewhere in this publication.

Brodnan Leads Stags to Junior League Crown; Comets Triumph

An extensive Arlington Heights Little League program that began back in mid-May is heading toward a spectacular finish with exciting playoffs currently commanding everyone's attention.

Some champions already have been crowned with others still to be determined as the curtain comes down on what has to rank as one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed by the Arlington baseball organization.

The Stags wrapped up the Junior League championship with an impressive 6-5 victory over the Owls, giving the South Side a prestige title. Johnny Brodnan worked on the mound in the victory with Kevin Koeneman abosrbing the loss.

BRODNAN SLAPPED a homer and triple for the Stags while Stan Mensching cracked a four-bagger for the North Side representatives. Kevin Koeneman and Tom Bebber collected triples.

In a South Side Junior playoff the Stags bombed the Wrens 13-5 with Brodnan again working on the mound. Scott Tremberth was tagged with the setback.

Dave Timson had a four-baseclout for the Stags and Brodnan contributed a pair of triples and double. Scott Tremberth slapped a double for the Wrens.

In a battle between the Northeast and Northwest Intermediate titlists the Northwest Comets picked up a thrilling 5-4 victory.

THE WINNERS pushed over two quick runs in the first inning on sharp singles by Jeff Spindler and Kevin Johnston and never trailed in the playoff encounter.

After picking up a single run in the second the Comets added their fourth and fifth tallies in the third on a towering two-run homer by Ken Koeneman. The Mohawks rallied for three runs in the fourth sparked by singles by Ted Davis and Bruce Mueller.

The scoring was climaxed in the fifth with a long home run to center field by the Mohawks' Ron Hull. A sensational game-ending catch by Ed Seaman shut off any further threat by the Mohawks.

JEFF SPINDLER OF the Comets racked up his ninth win of the season against no losses and the unbeaten. though twice-tied Comets, won their 11th straight contest.

In the Northeast Intermediate League playoff the Mohawks clobbered the Hornets 10-4 with six runs in the third inning. Bruce Mueller received credit for the victory with Dave Tongay slapped with the loss. Mueller fanned 10 and was also a hero at bat with a homer and double.

The Braves solved any scheduling problems by annexing both ends of the National League title chases for 1962. The champs finished the second half with a fancy 8-2 mark.

In three final games the Braves racked up victories over the Dodgers and Twins but fell to the Cardinals.

THE CARDS scored nine runs in the first two innings, then held on for a 12-4 victory. Steve Shawhan was the winning pitcher and he also blasted a homer, triple, and double. Steve rapped out seven homers for the season to lead the league.

Dave Kallman, the losing pitcher, had a four-bagger.

The Braves scored three runs in both the first and fifth although collecting only one safety. Bob Hecht drilled a three-run homer in the fifth, and an error off his long fly ball in the first brought in the three other markers.

MIKE HENNEMAN registered the Dodgers' only safety, a clean single in the fourth. The losers scored with the aid of walks and two infield outs.

Bob Hecht struck out 16 men and tossed a nifty one-hitter as the Braves rolled past the Twins 8-2. Mike Summers got the only hit off Bob, a sixth inning single.

In a makeup game the Giants scored in every frame and humbled the Twins 14-5. Del Brandau struck out 12 for the victory and Tom Brune drove in five runs with a homer and double.

BRAD RUCKER pitched a neat four-hit shutout as the Giants blanked the Angels 4-0. Jim Dahl cracked a double and Pat Loughman a triple for the long blows.

COMING UP WITH seven runs in the fourth inning, the Giants rolled past the Cubs 11-1. Bob Edgerton hit a home run with two on base and also slapped a bags-loaded double for six runs batted in. Bob also was the winning pitcher.

Emmett Quill topped Andy Kehe on the mound as the Cubs stopped the Dodgers 7-1. Quill won his third straight game.

In Intermediate League competition the Seals defeated the Chargers for the Southeast title, 7-1. Ricky Stanfield was the winning pitcher on a yield of only three hits. Johnny Schroeder and Jeff Peterson had triples.

THE MARLINS dumped the Terriers, 14-2, in a playoff for the second half Southwest Intermediate crown. Mart Stahl got the win and was backed by a 15-hit attack. Jack Porter sparked the offensive attack with four hits, including a double and triple.

In a playoff for the overall Southwest Intermediate championship the Marlins and Royals engaged in two games, one ending in a tie, with the Marlins eventually pulling out the title off a 7-3 conquest.

More to Come

In the tie game the Royals scored all their runs in the first three innings while the Marlins pushed over four in the first, one in the third, and three in the fourth. Larry Wert, Mart Stahl, and Tom Swanson contributed homers with Swanson collecting a pair.

THE MARLINS scored seven runs in the first two innings of the second meeting and coasted in with an impressive 7-3 victory. Bob Stigger was the winning pitcher with help from Mart Stahl. Dave Woods had a three-bagger.

The Seals were forced to forfeit to the Marlins for the South Side Junior championship when they were able to field only seven players.

In the Senior League the Bears blanked the Browns 5-0 behind the effective work of Barry Tossi. Bob Grat was tagged with the setback. Steve Tremberth collected the only two hits off Tossi.

THE INDIANS rocked the Hawks 10-4, and the Browns posted a 6-5 victory over the Indians. In final action the Lions edged the Redlegs 7-6, and the Lions stopped the Hawks 6-3.

In the North Varsity League the Vikings took the first half crown by dumping the Eagles. Two games remain to be played in the second half.

The Redwings picked up a forfeit victory over the Rams, and the Wildcats blanked the Phillies 6-0 with John Shartle on the mound. The Knights scored five times in the first two stanzas and edged the Orioles 5-3 with Ernie Lockwood flipping a two-hitter. Ernie also struck out 18 and slapped a home run in a brilliant individual effort.

In the American League the Athletics wrapped up the second half championship and played the White Sox for the American League crown. The A's posted a 7½-2½ mark in second half action.

Gunnell's Clinches Paddock Golf Tourney Berth

Gunnell's Restaurant was virtually assured of a berth in the forthcoming Paddock tournament by increasing their lead to 6½ points in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night Golf League over the runnerup teams of John Stearns & Co. and Kelter Realty.

The Gunnell's squad showed their championship mettle by bowling over the strong Rand Henry Sunoco Station team, 6-1. Warren Erven continued his outstanding play in the No. 3 slot by clubbing through the back nine in 40-5-35 to capture match low net honors in this contest.

John Stearns & Co. slipped a considerable distance back of the leaders when they encountered a stubborn Rodewald Farm Dairy team and came out on the short end of a 4-3 score.

DON MUELLER was the only bright light in a losing game. Don continued his fine play of recent weeks by firing a 38-4-34 on the par 36 back nine.

Kelter Realty continued their steady climb into a contending position by downing Golf Rand Golf Center, 5-2, and moved into a second place tie with John Stearns & Co.

Clarence Peterson, No. 1 man, of the C. P. Floor & Wall Covering team, caught fire on the front nine and took low gross and net honors for the evening with a one over par 36. Even though his great effort gained two points for the C. P. team, they went down to a 4½-2½ defeat at the hands of the Webber Paint foursome.

Fitting Date Set For Boys Needing Mouth Protectors

All boys planning to try out for football at Forest View, Prospect, and Arlington High Schools who have not had teeth protectors made should report to Prospect on Monday evening, August 6 between 6:30 and 8:30.

Members of the Dental Associations in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect will be present to fabricate the molds necessary to make the teeth protectors.

The program instituted in the high schools of District 214 last year has been widely copied throughout the nation. The mouthpiece is molded so as to fit each boy perfectly and practically eliminates injury to teeth and concussions caused by blows to the chin.

No boy may participate in high school football during the 1962 season who is not equipped with a tooth protector.

Boys are requested to enter the east side of the Prospect building adjacent to the flag pole.

More than 200 of the fastest machines and finest drivers in Sports Car Club of America competition go to the starting line Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 4-5 at Meadowdale International Raceway in six national championship road races contested over a total of 440 miles.

Three national point events are scheduled each day over Meadowdale's 3.27-mile course. Racing activities start at 2:15 p.m. on Saturday and 12:30 p.m. on Sunday. Gates will open at 9 p.m. for fans who enjoy clocking drivers in practice laps.

Sunday's feature race, slated for 3 p.m., is for the big cars in the C, D, E, F and G modified classes. These potent machines, taking full advantage of Meadowdale's famed Monza wall and long straightaway, will hit speeds of more than 150 miles per hour.

REGARDED AS the driver to beat is Harry Heuer, 1961 big car champion and captain of the Meister Brauser racing team whose cars have won more races at Meadowdale than any other entrant, past or present. Heuer will be driving the new Meister Brauser Chaparral in which he won Meadowdale's opening feature in May.

The Chevrolet-powered Chaparral has proved to be faster than the former Peter Hand Scarab in which Augie Pabst last October set the track record of 2 minutes, 4 seconds. If the Meister Brauser crew can overcome the new car's chronic brake troubles spectators may see a new record set Sunday.

Pabst, out of big car competition most of this season due to injuries suffered in a crash at Daytona Beach in February, will drive his Stanguellini in Saturday's Formula Junior race. It will be Augie's first appearance at Meadowdale since his record-breaking drive last October. Augie has not yet decided on a car for Sunday's feature modified race.

AMONG THE nationally-ranked drivers included in the all-star array in the feature race will be Alan Connell of Fort Worth, driving a new Cooper; Roger Penske, of Philadelphia in a Telar Special; Jim Hall, Midland, Texas, Chaparral; Bob Holbert, Philadelphia and Bob Donner of Denver, both expert Porsche pilots.

Wayne Burnett in a Ferrari and Ernie Erickson driving a Porsche are two Chicagoans quite familiar with Meadowdale's demanding course and are always in contention. Ollie Schmidt, Jim Scott, Bud Gates, Curt Gonstead and Doug Thiem are other midwesterners capable of meeting the challenge of the invaders.

Elk Grove Dems Bump Greens, 8-6

In the other two games, Village defeated Able Electric 13-7 and the Soft-Tees took a close one from the Waterman Pops 8-6.

Scores Suffer In Twilight Golf Division

The weather last Thursday was perfect but the scoring left much to be desired as St. Raymond's Holy Name Society Twilight Golf League completed its 13th week of play.

The lack of good scores can probably be traced back to the previous Tuesday when the golfers held their 10th anniversary golf outing at Itasca Country Club. Although all the men participating agreed that they had a wonderful time, the scores recorded that day were well above the golfers normal scoring; in fact, only three of the 72 golfers were able to come in under 90.

In spite of many tens and twelves recorded on various holes, Bob Reedy wins the "honesty award of the week" for counting every stroke and taking a 15 on the Par 5, 5th hole.

IN LEAGUE 1, McMahon's defeated Illinois Range by a 7½ to 4½ count while the 2nd place Strass Ladies Apparel team edged Ackerman Insurance 7 to 5. Third place Friedrich's Funeral Home took an 8 to 4 decision over fourth place Trapani Plumbing and the Safford Stamps team walloped Meeske's by an 8½ to 3½ margin.

In League 2, Busse Automotive defeated Jake's Pizza 8 to 4 to continue in 1st place, while Mount Prospect Savings moved into 2nd place at the expense of Keefer's Drugs by drubbing them to the tune of 10 to 2. Van Driel's moved into 4th place by downing Kirchoff Insurance 8 to 4. Kruse's Liquors dropped Moran Furs from 4th place by winning an 8 to 4 verdict.

With only one week of play remaining to decide on the first place entries for the Paddock Tournament it looks like both McMahon's and Busse Automotive have the positions pretty well sewed up, as can be seen from the following standings:

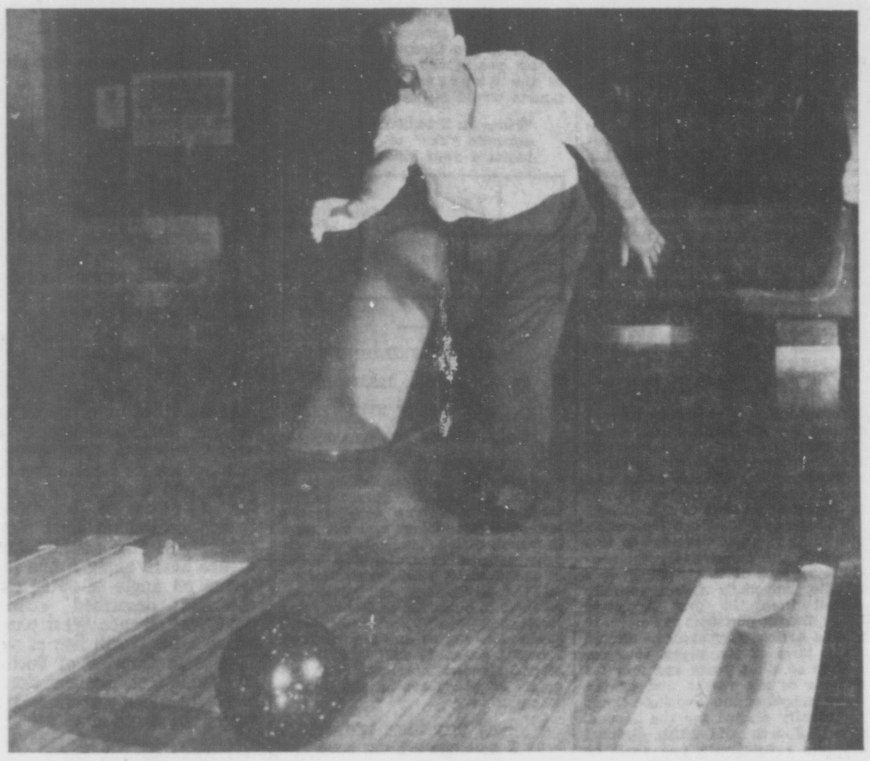
LEAGUE 1
McMahon's	93
Strass Ladies	83½
Friedrich's Funeral	79½
Trapani Plumbing	72
Safford Stamps	71
Meeske's	70½
Illinois Range	68
Ackerman Ins.	58½
LEAGUE 2
Busse Automotive	100½
Mt. Prosp. Sav.	89
Keefer's Drugs	88½
Van Driel's Drugs	83
Moran Furs	81½
Kruse's Liquors	74½
Jake's Pizza	67½
Kirchhoff Ins.	61½

HOT CORNER:

Jack Kilroy 40-6-34; Jay Groh 41-6-35; Joe Grittani 44-9-35; Harry Browne 46-11-35; Jack Kassberger 51-18-33; Walter Mase 51-16-35.

BIRD MEN:

Jack Kilroy — 15th and 18th holes; Joe Grittani — 3rd hole; Jay Groh — 5th hole; Ed McAuliff — 9th hole; Ed Giuntini — 13th hole; Bob Ryan — 13th hole; Denny St. Denis — 15th hole; Ed Baker — 15th hole.



MARTIN R. COSSENTINE, 64-year-old auditor from Hempstead, N.Y., was the men's winner of the recent nationwide "Bowl Down Cancer" contest. He won a two-week vacation to Europe for two and a home cruiser as grand prize in the contest sponsored by Bowling Proprietors of America in cooperation with American Cancer Society.

Speedway Action

Irving Posts Track Record at Waukegan

Chopping nearly 13 seconds off the existing track record for 50 laps, youthful Ed Irving of Waukegan captured his first feature win of the season and bested the top Wisconsin entries that have held a stranglehold on Waukegan Speedway competition for several seasons.

Irving took advantage of a front row starting position and lost little time in building up a sizeable advantage over fellow competitors, finishing nearly a quarter lap ahead of point leader Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee.

Irving shared honors for the night with another Lake County speedster, Swede Erickson of Gurnee, who turned in the fastest time trial at a speed of 50.11 mph. Erickson, however, experienced more of the bad luck he has been plagued with for several seasons. His car caught fire in the feature event and he dropped out after only three laps.

HEARTBREAKER of the night was the efforts of former champion Greg Krieger of Milwaukee who moved into second spot on the third lap and gave Irving his toughest race, challenging for the lead on several laps. But his car began overheating and the radiator finally blew on the 47th lap and he wound up with only a 15th place.

Stillman had taken over second on the 36th lap when Krieger began slowing down and it looked for awhile that he might be able to catch Irving. But slower traffic held Stillman back, and Irving came home the winner with an average speed of 51.11 m.p.h. for the new record.

Krieger had held the old record for 50 laps at a speed of 50.39 m.p.h. set on July 31, 1960. Stillman as the '58 and '59 champion beat out defending champion Bill Strom of West Allis by another quarter lap. Fourth place went to Ron Larsen of Racine, while Jim Ouellette, Hales Corners came in fifth.

DARV NISSEN, Zion, took top honors in winning the 15-lap semi-feature in a race stopped on the eighth lap when leader Bob Norman of Trevor, spun into a stalled car and caught fire. Wayne Miller, Barrington had spun out and Norman slid into him. Bill Bohn, Kenosha took second. He averaged 48.36 m.p.h. in taking the win.

Over 30 cars were on hand for the sportsmen division race events which were swept by the top three Milwaukee area drivers, two of which made their first appearances at the Waukegan site. Roger Regeth, New Berlin, won the 12-lap feature followed by Fred Zack, and Gino Wagner. Wagner, from Cudahy, also won the 8-lap heat race, while Zack turned the fastest time of the night, 40.45 m.p.h. The feature stated 28 cars with half as many finishing. The event was stopped on the 4th lap by a mass pileup accident that all but blocked the track on the main straightaway.

Cold, damp weather, coupled with a fog, held the attendance down to only 2,100 persons, but drivers still shared in a prize purse amounting to $1,165.00. With the sportsmen entries and the modified cars on hand, over 75 cars appeared on the championship program.

DEMOLITION CARS will take over the track Sunday for the special mud race event called off three weeks ago due to rain. The track will be watered down after the modified feature and the demo cars will attempt to go for ten laps on the slick surface. Those making the event without serious mishap will be demolished in a demolition event.

The event will be staged in addition to the regular program of modified and sportsmen stock car racing held for 11th time this season. The modified feature race is set for 25 laps. Eddie Stillman, Milwaukee, will head a field of nearly 50 cars and drivers for the Aug. 5 race.

Time trials will start at 7:15 with the first race getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The speedway is located just west of Waukegan on West Washington

Kronn Posts 35, Paces Scratch Play

Bob Kronn, in a steady workman-like fashion, squeezed a 1-under-par 35 from Old Orchard's back nine to pilot his Colt Restaurant's team to a seven point win over Nelson's Realty team in the latest Scratch league play.

Kronn's win over Ted Erickson, who was under par in last week's melee, was enough to carry the rest of the team and to retain their 1st place birth by 3 points.

The 3-point edge over the 2nd place Dean Landscaper's outfit might play a decisive factor in the Paddock Tourney berth, as next week's schedule pits Len Arnold's green prowlers against the first place Restaurateurs. Hark ye golfers and watch, for as the last putt shall drop we will know who shall represent the scratch league in the forthcoming tournament.

ROBERT REILAND, the double R man, continued his winning ways by scoring his tenth straight victory at the expense of the tenacious port side golfer Dan Musser. Long hitting Bob has compiled an envious record by defeating some of the league's best.

Reiland's win for the Karsten team was the only bright spot for the team as the C. P. Floor and Wall Covering team took 5½ points under the guidance of "Pete" Peterson who dropped a 45 foot putt on the number 2 hole.

FBK Realty smothered the 444 Press men when Don Hager's 36 and 38's by Bill Hugo and Ralph 'lucky' Becker were good for seven points. Keeley's press men saved a point on halves by Bob Sederberg and Al Greene.

Arlington Structural Steel strengthened its hold on first place by defeating fourth place Beisler-Griffith Insurance Center 8-4 in the Arlington twilight league. Second place Horcher Decorators managed to win over Koops Mustard but it was not enough to gain any ground on the leaders.

Individual honors went to Bill Appleby, who was low man for the night with a 40-7-33. Birds again were plentiful with Appleby getting two while P. Chimes, E. Koops, G. Blaar, C. Jevne, L. Haines Sr., L. Schomburg, L. Haines Jr., R. Panek, and J. Andrup all settled for one each.

With one week to go before selection to the Paddock Tournament the team standings are:

Winkelman's Stuns Phil's In Key Match

Winkelman's Shell Service came up with a big 8½-1½ victory over Phil's Pure Oil last week in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League which knocked the Oilers out of first place and gave Winkelman's the league lead by 2 2/3 points. Thus, with only one night of play remaining to determine the division representative in the Paddock tournament, the prediction that the Oilers were home free was somewhat premature.

Winkelman's pulled out all the stops to get the job done. Walt Double, their ace "A" player, contributed three points to the cause as he downed Glenn Adams of the Oilers in a close match and gained a bonus point for low individual net. Roy Hawkinson wrested two points from Art Hammerstrom as Art's game soared under the pressure. Jim Viger got in his licks against alternate Rees Miller and contributed 1½ points to the cause, and Alex Sekus came up with one point as he halved his match with Ed Hendricks.

Winkelman's garnered their final point for taking low team net.

IN ANOTHER important match Licht's Paint Store remained in third place after squeezing out a narrow 5½-4½ victory over Kirchhoff Insurance, but their position was threatened by Wille Lumber and Fuel who scored a nice 8-2 triumph over Kruse's Tavern and moved to within 2½ points of the Paint Store.

Actually it's still anybody's guess as to who will represent the division in the Paddock tournament. The top six teams are less than ten points apart and any one of them could turn up in top position after next Tuesday's play.

Lowest scores of the evening were the 38's posted by Walt Welky, Len Arnold and Gene Raasch, and the 39 posted by Ken Sophie. Birdies were reported by Rollie Becker on 5 and 9, and by Gene Raasch and Harrison Dod on 13.

Cook County Women's Crown To Nancy Roth

Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., registered a 54-hole total of 238 to capture top honors in the 48th Annual Cook County Women's golf championships at Timber Trails Golf Club.

Miss Roth, who was visably bothered by the high winds that hampered the final round of play last Thursday, skyrocketed to an 85 for the final 18 but her earlier rounds of 76 and 77 provided a comfortable margin over the rest of the field.

The 23-year-old champion had previously won the Florida State Amateur title in 1960 and the Hollywood city championship the past three years.

SHE SCORED only one birdie in the final round, sinking a 45-foot putt on the 18th hole, and racked up six bogeys and two double bogeys.

Pulling up in second place four strokes behind Miss Roth was Bonnie Jean Byrne of Addison Golf Club. Miss Byrne, also bothered by the wind last Thursday, finished with an 82 after opening rounds of 76 and 84 for a 54-hole total of 242.

Rae Ann Wiegert, the current Rockford city champion, placed third at 252, one stroke less than Penny Kerndt's total. Miss Kerndt is the defending CWDGA titlist.

ANN FLOOD of Itasca Country Club turned in the best effort of the area entrants with a 260-total which was good enough for ninth place.

Mrs. Jackie Groot of Arrowhead tied for 13th at 271, while Elmhurst's Betty O'Hearn was 15th at 272. Marge Holda of Mount Prospect Country Club shared the 17th position with Mrs. J. Brown of Twin Orchard, both girls turning in 277-totals.

Donna Patek of Golden Acres totaled 278 strokes to tie for 19th place.

Beverly Golfers Advance

Beverly Lanes moved into third place in the St. Colette golf league by taking 3½ points from Lortie Plumbing.

Carp got the win and also registered low individual net while Hoss managed a tie.

Quadriga Manufacturing Company downed Dack Steel on wins by Dolleslager and Simonsen while Dack took lw individual net.

JIM'S SERVICE and Clark Brass battled to a tie with wins by Rademacher and DiPinto for Clark. McAbees' 35 net was good for the low individual net and Padals' win added up the points for Jim's.

Vandy Real Estate claimed three markers from first place F. J. Die Mold. Wins by Hickey and Rafferty were all that were needed for Vandy's triumph.

F. J. Die Mold	10
Vandy Real Estate	9½
Beverly Lanes	9
Lortie Plumbing	7½
Quadriga Mfg. Co.	7

Rahling Captures Illinois State Jaycee Golf Title

FREEPORT, ILL., (UPI) — Bill Rahling, Evanston, battled high winds and came out with a 76 last week, good for the title in the Illinois State Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tourney on a 36-hole total of 149.

John Bailey fired the low score of the day, a 74, and finished second with 150. Roger Abbott, Freeport, tied with Rahling after 18 at 73, slipped to 78 and wound up third, a stroke behind Bailey.

Tied for fourth were Jim Beall, Lockport, and Jerry Diamond, Peoria, 153. Beall then won the playoff with a par-5 on the first hole of the sudden death. Diamond had a bogey six.

RAHLING, Bailey, Beall and Abbott gained the right to compete in the National Jaycee Tourney at Huntington, W. Va., in August.

Other finishers were Marv Rezabek, Chicago, and Dave Oglesby, Decatur, 154, and Jerry Robinson, Sterling, John Mulliken, Champaign, Phil Aldridge, Bloomington, John Whittle, Aurora, Dan Sola, Rockford, and Bill Bart, Peoria, all with 156.

John Proctor, III, Flossmoor, captured the first flight with a 161, and Bob Abdnour, Streator, won the second flight with a 163.

Area entries Doug Lytle, Warren Luebcke, and Joe Paul failed to place in the stiff competition.

Hole-in-One

Pat Smith, 139 Maple Court, Palatine, recorded a hole-in-one Tuesday morning on the third hole at Arlington Country Club.

Pat used a seven iron for her ace on an 80-yard hole.

Keefer's Climbs Into League Lead In Friday Action

Keefer's Pharmacy moved past Kruse's Restaurant into first place in the Friday Night Men's League at Mount Prospect Country Club last Friday with an 8-2 victory over Mount Prospect Liquors.

Joe Wylie, with a 40-5-35, engineered two points for the victors.

Arlington Camera clobbered the Mount Prospect State Bank squad 7.5-2.5 to nail down second place as the league moved into the showdown week for the Paddock inter-league tournament.

FRED GARLOCK'S 37-7-30 was good for three points for the Camera Shop, and Stan Grabarek's 40-6-34 added two more.

The Kruse team, which has been hovering in and out of the top spot all year, dropped to third after suffering an 8-2 loss at the hands of the Esquire Barber Shop.

This Friday's action pits Keefer's against Kruse's in what could be a showdown for the tournament berth. Arlington Camera is matched against ninth place Doyno Motors.

THE DOYNO squad all but ended the hopes of the fourth place Pro Sport Center Friday, handling the Sportsmen a 7-2 defeat.

In other action, Mell and Paul's Drive-In edged Wille Fuel and Lumber 6.5-5.5, and Jif's Standard Service beat F.B.K. Realtors 7-2.

Harold Lins joined Garlock in the select sub-40 circle with a 39. Don Quigley matched Wylie and Grabarek at 40.

Birdies were carded by Ed Herkert on one, George Miscevich on two, Garlock on seven and nine, Fred Turner on seven, Ken Arnold on 11, and Lins, John Burck, and Dick Boylan on 13.

The league will hold a special mixed two-ball foursome event this Sunday, August 5, at 1 p.m. Reservations should be made Friday at the scorer's table.

ARTICLE AMENDMENT

Article VI

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Courts

The judicial power is vested in a Supreme Court, an Appellate Court and Circuit Courts.

Section 2. Administration

General administrative authority over all courts in this State including the temporary assignment of any judge to a court other than that for which he was selected with the consent of the Chief Judge of the Circuit to which such assignment is made, is vested in the Supreme Court and shall be exercised by the Chief Justice in accordance with its rules. The Supreme Court shall appoint an administrative director and staff, who shall serve at its pleasure, to assist the Chief Justice in his administrative duties.

Section 3. Judicial Districts

The State is divided into five Judicial Districts for the selection of judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts. The First Judicial District consists of the county of Cook. The remainder of the State shall be divided by law into four Judicial Districts of substantially equal population, each of which shall be compact and composed of contiguous counties.

SUPREME COURT

Section 4. Organization

The Supreme Court shall consist of seven judges, three of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and one each from the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Judicial Districts. Four judges shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of four shall be necessary to a decision. The judges of the Supreme Court shall select one of their number to serve as Chief Justice for a term of three years.

Section 5. Jurisdiction

The Supreme Court may exercise original jurisdiction in cases relating to the revenue, mandamus, prohibition and habeas corpus, such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review, and only appellate jurisdiction in all other cases.

Appeals from the final judgments of circuit courts shall lie directly to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases involving revenue, (b) in cases involving a question arising under the Constitution of the United States or of this State, (c) in cases of habeas corpus, and (d) by the defendant from sentence in capital cases. Subject to law hereafter enacted, the Supreme Court has authority to provide by rule for appeal in other cases from the circuit courts directly to the Supreme Court.

Appeals from the Appellate Court shall lie to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases in which a question under the Constitution of the United States or of this State arises for the first time in and as a result of the action of the Appellate Court, and (b) upon the certification by a division of the Appellate Court that a case decided by it involves a question of such importance that it should be decided by the Supreme Court. Subject to rules, appeals from the Appellate Court to the Supreme Court in all other cases shall be by leave of the Supreme Court.

APPELLATE COURT

Section 6. Organization

The Appellate Court shall be organized in the five Judicial Districts. Until otherwise provided by law, the court shall consist of twenty-four judges, twelve of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and three each from the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Judicial Districts. The Supreme Court shall have authority to assign additional judges to service in the Appellate Court from time to time as the business of the Court requires. There shall be such number of divisions, of not less than three judges each, as the Supreme Court shall prescribe. Assignments to divisions shall be made by the Supreme Court and a judge may be assigned to a division in a district other than the district in which such judge resides with the consent of a majority of the judges of the district to which such assignment is made. The majority of a division shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of a majority of the division shall be necessary to a decision of the Appellate Court. There shall be at least one division in each Appellate District and each division shall sit at times and places prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court.

Section 7. Jurisdiction

In all cases, other than those appealable directly to the Supreme Court, appeals from final judgments of a Circuit Court lie as a matter of right to the Appellate Court in the district in which the Circuit Court is located, except that after a trial on the merits in a criminal case, no appeal shall lie from a judgment of acquittal. The Supreme Court shall provide by rule for expeditious and inexpensive appeals. The Appellate Court may exercise such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review. The Supreme Court may provide by rule for appeals to the Appellate Court from other than final judgments of the Circuit Court. The Appellate Court shall have such powers of direct review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

CIRCUIT COURTS

Section 8. Judicial Circuits

The State shall be divided into judicial circuits each consisting of one or more counties. The county of Cook shall constitute a judicial circuit and the judicial circuits within the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Appellate Districts, respectively, shall be as established from time to time by law. Any judicial circuit composed of more than one county shall be compact and of contiguous counties.

There shall be one circuit court for each judicial circuit which shall have such number of circuit and associate judges and magistrates as may be prescribed by law; provided, that there shall be at least twelve associate judges elected from the area in Cook County outside the City of Chicago and at least thirty-six associate judges from the City of Chicago. In Cook County, the City of Chicago and the area outside the City of Chicago shall be separate units for the election or selection of associate judges. All associate judges from said area outside the City of Chicago shall run at large from said area, such area apportionment of associate judges shall continue until changed by law. There shall be at least one associate judge from each county. There shall be no masters in chancery or other fee officers in the judicial system.

The circuit judges and associate judges in each circuit shall select one of the circuit judges to serve at their pleasure as Chief Judge of such circuit. Subject to the authority of the Supreme Court, the Chief Judge shall have general administrative authority in the court, including authority to provide for divisions, general or specialized, and for appropriate times and places of holding court. The General Assembly shall limit or define the matters to be assigned to magistrates.

Section 9. Jurisdiction

The Circuit Court shall have unlimited original jurisdiction of all justiciable matters, and such powers of review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

SELECTION AND TENURE

Section 10. Election or Selectio

All of the judges provided for herein shall be nominated by party convention or primary and elected at general elections by the electors in the respective judicial districts, judicial circuits, counties, or units. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide by law for the selection and tenure of all judges provided herein as distinguished from nomination and election by the electors, but no law establishing a metnod of selecting judges and providing their tenure shall be adopted or amended except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House, nor shall any method of selecting judges and providing their tenure become law until the question of the method of selection be first submitted to the electors at the next general election. If a majority of those voting upon the question shall favor the method of selection or tenure as submitted it shall then become law.

The office of any judge shall be deemed vacant upon his death, resignation, rejection, removal or retirement. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of judge, the vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the voters at an election as above provided in this Section, or in such other manner as the General Assembly may provide by law as set out in this Section and approved by the electors. Whenever an additional judge is authorized by law, the office shall be filled in the same manner as in the case of a vacancy.

Section 11. Retention in Office

Not less than six months prior to the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office, any judge previously elected may file in the office of the Secretary of State a declaration of candidacy to succeed himself, and the Secretary of State, not less than 61 days prior to the election, shall certify such candidacy to the proper election officials. At the election the name of each judge who has filed such a declaration shall be submitted to the voters, on a special judicial ballot without party designation, on the sole question whether he shall be retained in office for another term. The elections shall be conducted in the appropriate judicial districts, circuits, counties and units. The affirmative votes of a majority of the voters voting on the question shall elect him to the office for another term commencing the first Monday in December following the election. Any judge who does not file a declaration within the time herein specified, or, having filed, fails of re-election, shall vacate his office at the expiration of his term, whether or not his successor, who shall be selected for a full term pursuant to Section 10 of this Article, shall yet have qualified.

Any law reducing the number of judges of the Appellate Court in any District or the number of Circuit or associate judges in any circuit shall be without prejudice to the right of judges in office at the time of its enactment to seek retention in office as hereinabove provided.

Section 12. Appointment of Magistrates

Subject to law, the circuit judges in each circuit shall appoint magistrates to serve at their pleasure; provided, that in Cook County, until and unless changed by law, at least one-fourth of the magistrates shall be appointed from and reside in the area outside the corporate limits of the City of Chicago.

Section 13. General Election

As used in this Article, the term "general election" means the biennial election at which members of the General Assembly are elected.

Section 14. Terms of Office

The term of office of judges of the Supreme Court and of the Appellate Court shall be ten years and of the circuit judges and associate judges of the Circuit Court six years.

Section 15. Eligibility for Office

No person shall be eligible for the office of judge unless he shall be a citizen and licensed attorney-at-law of this State, and a resident of the judicial district, circuit, county or unit from which selected. However, any change made in the area of a district or circuit or the reapportionment of districts or circuits shall not affect the tenure in office of any judge incumbent at the time such change or reapportionment is made.

GENERAL

Section 16. Prohibited Activities

Judges shall devote full time to their judicial duties, shall not engage in the practice of law or hold any other office or position of profit under the United States or this State or any municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, and shall not hold office in any political party. Compensation for service in the State Militia or the armed forces of the United States for such periods of time as may be determined by rule of the Supreme Court shall not be deemed "profit."

Section 17. Judicial Salaries and Expenses

Judges and magistrates shall receive for their services salaries provided by law. The salaries of judges shall not be diminished during their respective terms of office. Judicial officers may be paid such actual and necessary expenses as may be provided by law. All salaries and expenses shall be paid by the State, except that judges of the Appellate Court for the First District and circuit and associate judges and magistrates of the Circuit Court of Cook County shall receive such additional compensation from the county as may be provided by law.

Section 18. Retirement, Suspension and Removal

Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article relating to terms of office, the General Assembly may provide by law for the retirement of judges automatically at a prescribed age; and, subject to rules of procedure to be established by the Supreme Court and after notice and hearing, any judge may be retired for disability or suspended without pay or removed for cause by a commission composed of one judge of the Supreme Court selected by that court, two judges of the Appellate Court selected by that court, and two circuit judges selected by the Supreme Court. Such commission shall be convened by the Chief Justice upon order of the Supreme Court or at the request of the Senate.

Any retired judge may, with his consent, be assigned by the Supreme Court to judicial service, and while so serving shall receive the compensation applicable to such service in lieu of retirement benefits, if any.

Section 19. Judicial Conference

The Supreme Court shall provide by rule for and shall convene an annual judicial conference to consider the business of the several courts and to suggest improvements in the administration of justice, and shall report thereon in writing to the General Assembly not later than January thirty-first in each legislative year.

Section 20. Clerks of Courts

The General Assembly shall provide by law for the selection by the judges or election, terms of office, removal for cause and salaries of clerks and other non-judicial officers of the various courts; provided that a clerk shall be selected or elected for each Appellate Court District.

STATE'S ATTORNEYS

Section 21. Selection—Salary

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article VI will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO

JUDICIAL ARTICLE
AMENDMENT

Explanation of Judicial Article Amendment

This amendment would give the state an integrated court system in which all judicial power would be vested in three levels of courts: the Supreme, Appellate, and Circuit Courts. In lieu of other existing courts there would be divisions of the Circuit Court—the only trial court.

The Supreme Court would consist of seven judges, as at present, but with three elected from Cook County and one from each of four districts in the remainder of the state. The boundaries of these districts, except for Cook County, could be changed from time to time by law. The Supreme Court would exercise administrative powers over the court system as a whole.

The Appellate Court would have five districts identical with those from which the judges of the Supreme Court would be elected. For the bulk of litigation the decision of the Appellate Court would be final.

The present Circuit Court districts would continue until changed by law. Each county would always have at least one associate Circuit Court judge. Justices of the peace and police magistrates would be merged into the Circuit Court as magistrates thereof until the expiration of their terms. Thereafter, the duties and functions of these offices would be performed by magistrates appointed by the Circuit Court, serving at the pleasure of the Court.

Incumbent clerks of all courts, the bailiff of the Chicago Municipal Court, and other non-judicial personnel will continue in office until the expiration of their terms. Thereafter, the General Assembly will provide for the selection, terms, removal, and salaries of such officers.

All salaries and expenses would be paid by the state and additional compensation may be paid in Cook County by the county.

All new and successor judges would be licensed attorneys at law. All judges would devote full time to their judicial duties. They could not be officers of a political party.

Judges who are incumbents on January 1, 1963 and thereafter would run against their record, and without party designation, rather than against an adversary candidate, in the appropriate general election. Any further fundamental changes in the method of election would require a two-thirds vote of both Houses of the General Assembly and ratification by a majority of the electors voting on the proposition.

The terms of those who are or will become judges or associate judges of the Circuit Court would be six years; the terms of judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts would be ten years.

You and Your Problems

Growing Violence Is Worrisome to Reader

by DR. GERARD G. NEUMAN

Dear Dr. Neuman,

When I read news stories about boys who commit serious robberies and even murders, it makes me very uneasy. Often these ae honest, well - brought - up boys who come from decent homes. Some were considered model children in school and in church. You would think they would be the last ones to get into trouble—yet they do such terrible things.

How can parents ever be sure about their children?

Mrs. P.

I have to start by saying that no one can ever be absolutely sure about another person. Life itself is unpredictable and we all learn to live with uncertainties. In general, we have a good idea about what to expect, and this is what guides us most of the time.

DR. NEUMAN

However, children generally don't commit serious crimes just "out of the blue." Usually there has been a history of various kinds of behavior problems. These may have seemed minor problems, when the child was very young. The parents may have done nothing about them because of the feeling that "he'll outgrow it."

AS THE child developed, he probably did outgrow the early problems, but there would be new difficulties showing up when he started to play with other children or entered school. Again the parents may have comforted themselves by blaming the other "bad" children or the school authorities who "didn't understand him." We all want to believe well of our children, and it is hard to see that their behavior is not what we should expect it to be.

So although the danger signals were present for a long time, nothing may have been done about them, even though medical and school authorities tried to help the parents see that the child was struggling with a problem he couldn't handle.

SOMETIMES the parents have tried to do something about the behavior problem. For example, if a child was a truant from school, the father may have personally taken the child to class every morning and let him know that he would be severely punished if he did not stay in school. School attendance may have improved, but a new problem would appear. Now the boy was in a class, but off in a day dream most of the time. So the parents would hire a tutor and somehow get the child to pass his schoolwork. Then the teachers would complain that he was picking on younger children. And so it would go, each behavior difficulty being seen as a problem in itself, with no understanding that they were all symptoms of a deeper, much more serious struggle within the child that would lead to the final violent explosion.

Behavior problems are not "problems" in themselves. They are the symptoms—the "danger signals"—of deeper trouble that needs to be understood. That is why there is no one answer to why the children you describe commit such serious crimes as robberies and even murders. A study of such children reveals the individual set of circumstances that led them into such behavior, but usually there were warnings about the danger ahead.

Women from Other Nations Visit Fair

MR. AND MRS. ALI BINKAYA of Ankara, Turkey toured the Chicago International Trade Fair in McCormick Place opening day. At a special booth set up by the City of Chicago, the Turkish Consul and his wife were told about Chicago's Centennial by Ernest R. Rather, right, of The Chicago Committee of One Hundred. (SF

Language barriers crumble, miles dwindle and customs blend when women get together — no matter what corner of the earth each refers to when she says — "in my own, my native land — we do thus and so."

Actually, women find the world is very tiny and methods used to bring up children, cook, sew, care for a home and entertain are much the same the world over.

While visiting the Chicago International Trade Fair in McCormick Place last week during Opening Day festivities, the various special events were attended by foreign dignitaries, their wives and exhibitors from 25 different countries.

WHILE SEEING the merchandise of the world and talking with the exhibitors about their wares is fascinating, the real fun of visiting the International Trade Fair, I have found, is seeing and talking with the women from the other lands.

Some are the wives of exhibitors, some are wives of diplomats stationed in America and some are here as members of the cast of "The Big Show - Celestial Circus."

No matter what language the visitors from across the seas may speak in their homes, when they are in America they converse with Americans in true, pure, perfect English. It's really rather humbling to hear them use such flawless grammar and to hear them speak with such an apparent knowledge of America.

THIS WAS especially noted during my visit with Mrs. Ali Binkaya, of Turkey, as I sat next to her during the American Hemisphere dinner. She is the wife of the Council General from Turkey stationed in Chicago.

Mrs. Binkaya, a beautiful, statuesque, dark - haired, dark-eyed woman made an especially pleasant impression on all the men and women seated at our table in the White Room the evening of the gala opening of the Trade Fair.

We found she was extremely well versed in American ways and had a wonderful knowledge of our country. She had the ability to make us feel as though we had known her for many years.

SHE SPOKE of the apartment where she and her husband and three children live in Chicago. She told with obvious pride about the accomplishments of the two older children, ages eight and five, who have been able to learn to speak English very easily in the one short year the family has lived here.

She remarked that the two oldest had also been able to speak Italian very well when they lived in Rome. "Yasmine," she said, "likes very well attending public schools here and has been made to feel at home."

The Binkayas laughingly call theirs an International Family since the oldest child was born in France, the middle one in Rome and their four-months old baby in Chicago.

A VIEW OF Lake Michigan from the window of their apartment is especially enjoyed by the family as it reminds them of the sea of their native Turkey.

The Consul General, too, seems just like any other good husband and father from America or other part of the world.

Obviously proud of his beautiful wife, he also spoke in glowing, fatherly terms about their children, their home in Chicago, their home in Turkey and of his pleasure in his family—which he noted has an aptitude for becoming a part of whichever corner of the globe his work takes him.

Which bears out another fact—behind every successful man is a woman—no matter whether it's Turkey, America, France, or Timbuktu.

And helping people of the world become acquainted in an informal way, in an atmosphere of friendship coupled with business, is just one of the many functions of the International World Trade Fair—in fact—one of the nicest functions I would like to report.

Offers Research Course

A new college subject, research as a science, will be taught next fall at the University of Illinois, by Prof. Joseph T. Tykociner, 84, an internationally-famous electrical engineer. He is best known for invention at Illinois 40 years ago of sound-on-film motion pictures.

For many years he considered the idea that research could be studied and ideas associated with it systematized into a science. Two years ago he published a book presenting these ideas and proposed the name "zetetics" from the Greek word for investigate.

This fall he will come out of retirement to teach the first course in this subject, intended especially for students who plan to go into research. The class is open to seniors and graduate students from all areas of the university.

PURPOSE OF zetetics, Prof. Tykociner has explained, is "to collect and systematize all information about research activities, including creative processes, inventions and solution of human problems."

The course is described as "an introduction to research activity in general and in relation to various fields of knowledge; origin and growth of sciences and arts and their classification; selection of problems and methodology connected with their solution; and creativity in research exemplified by examples of historical importance."

Now It Can Be Told

It's the Small, Elegant Head Of Dancing Waves for Fall

Small elegant heads of "Dancing Waves" is the hair fashion forecast for fall and winter according to area beauticians, members of Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Inc., who have just returned from the national convention in Minneapolis.

The forecast was kept a deep, dark secret, even to those in the business, and was revealed for the first time at the convention by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the NHCA.

Following the "Dancing Hair" of Spring and Summer, the new trend has new dimension with large, soft waves. Gone is the stiff and rigid look, the exaggerated proportions of former seasons, and in its place is a happy balance between fact and imagination.

HORIZONTAL OVAL

VERTICAL OVAL

"DANCING WAVES" was designed to add grace to both tall and short women and the sweep, drape or flirt of the waves is designed into either a vertical or horizontal oval.

The vertical oval is gently accentuated with close, head-hugging sides, lending grace to the short woman. It stresses a greater interest in waves at the back, which can be dressed up or down, but always giving the small head look.

The horizontal oval is designed for the casual, young look that features gentle fullness at the sides expressed in wave patterns, soft curls or a combination of both. Width is at the eye level for added eye appeal.

AREA hairdressers also returned with the news that titian tones will be the most important hair colors for the season, ranging from the palest titian blonde shades to the deepest reds. Make-up will be ladylike with warm complexion tones and lips and eyes emphasized. Cranberry reds will be among the most popular lip shades.

Suburban Press to Honor Homemakers

Paddock Publications' newspapers will take part this fall in a nationwide search for the "Suburban Homemaker of the Year."

The program, planned as a tribute to all American homemakers who play such a vital role in our community and family life, will be sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc., of which Paddock Publications is a member. The Foundation, a non-profit national organization of suburban newspaper publishers, is concerned with the development of better communications media for the suburban communities which now comprise such a large segment of our national life.

THE HOMEMAKER Award program has been made possible through a public service grant to the Foundation by the American Dairy Association which recognizes the contribution being made by suburban newspapers in the vital field of communications.

Foundation member newspapers throughout the country will select a "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" from their communities. Selection will be made on the basis of outstanding family and community service. From this group of suburban homemakers a "National Suburban Homemaker of the Year" will be selected by a panel of judges made up of prominent personalities in the fields of education, suburban family living and civic affairs. The award and a cash grant of $500 will be presented to the homemaker chosen for this national honor at a ceremony in Chicago in mid-November.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT of the standards which will be used in selecting the northwest area "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" will appear in Paddock Publications soon.

"We know that our community has a great number of outstanding homemakers, and we are proud to play a part in this Award program which will recognize and honor their contribution to our community's way of life," said Marianne Scott, Women's Editor of Paddock Publications. (SF

Breaking of Tradition

It is very difficult to break a family tradition. Particularly when it concerns one of my young. Any deviation from what they consider the norm, brings a storm of protest. Don't try to monkey with their birthdays.

MARY

It has been customary for us to decorate the Christmas tree on December 20 because that is a birthday and that is what we do on that birthday and don't you forget it. We have a birthday in the middle of the summer too. After we got past the day of pinning the tail on the donkey and a trip to Kiddieland, arose the problem of what shall we do now.

It was my very own clever idea to pack up the entire neighborhood with picnic stuff, charcoal burners, coolers and hie ourselves to the beach for the day. Once there, we had the birthday party and cake and all. The birthday girl got such a boot out of it that it immediately became an annual affair.

Which for three years was all right as the weather cooperated. This year was something else again. We offered her movies, a trip to Ravinia and the world with a fence around it. It wasn't until I substituted a trip to Riverview that the look of obstinate determination broke into a tentative smile. It was agreed that two families of us would go complete with all of our kiddies.

I thoughtfully took a couple of the older ones aside and explained to them with tears in my eyes that I get vertigo from one step up a ladder. And, would they please see to it that she was safe on the things that go way up and then come zipping down? They assured me that I didn't have a thing to worry about. I was to take the smallest one on the merry-go-round and there my responsibilities would end.

Evidently this casual relegation of me to the class of the weak, infirm and chicken-hearted did something to my adrenalin. I not only insisted on going on all the things that go way up and way down, I went on all the things that jerk around too. This old mass of protoplasm hasn't had such a good all round shaking up since 1936 when I went the last time. Which is a long time between shakes.

I tried the stepladder today and nothing has changed. I sway with dizziness at a height of two feet. I certainly hope the weather is nice enough for the beach next year. I like the beach. It's so level. (SF

Mt. Prospect Infant Welfare Plans Gala Randhurst Prevue

Summer activities have been interrupted for members of Mount Prospect Center of the Infant Welfare Society, who have been asked by The Fair Store, Wieboldt's and Carson Pirie Scott and Company, to assist in staging a lavish "Randhurst Prevue." An elaborate, black-tie affair, the sneak prevue will be held Saturday, Aug. 11, and will include an extravagant champagne dinner and fashion show to take place in the Pavillion Restaurant of the new shopping center.

Mount Prospect Infant Welfare, which will benefit from the prevue, felt greatly honored to have been asked to mail the 100 elegant, engraved, gold and white invitations to their friends and residents of the Northwest Suburban area. Helping with the final arrangements for the gala were Mrs. William Eilbrach, Mrs. William Stanton and Mrs. William Anderson, members of the Mount Prospect Center who met recently in the Travertine Room of Wieboldt's State Street Store.

GUESTS AT the prevue will have the opportunity to see the new shopping center and dine in Carson's Pavillion only a few days prior to the grand opening of Randhurst. Following dinner, top Chicago models will show the new fall look in fashins and furs.

Since tickets are at a premium, Mrs. Eilbracht, chairman of the evening, has asked that she be contacted at CL 3-7187 by anyone wishing further information.

Mount Prospect Infant Welfare Center has been active for six years, contributing time and money to the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago, whose primary interest is in providing free medical care to needy families in the city's under privileged areas. (S

Judith Vandy, Wayne Rolfs Wed in St. James Church

Rich in traditional significance was the June 30 wedding ceremony which united Wayne T. Rolfs and the former o'clock wedding took place in St. James Catholic Church, Arlington Catholic Church Arlington Heights, where the couple originally met. Rev. John Lane acted as officiating clergyman and soloist was Margaret Trettenbach, mother of the groom's godchild.

Billy Grandt, cousin of the groom, carried the same ring cushion that the groom had carried 17 years earlier at the wedding of Billy's parents. Joy Vandy, sister of the bride, was flower-girl.

THE BRIDE'S veil was adorned with lily of the valley as was the rose bouquet she carried. Both the bride's and groom's mothers had selected lily of the valley to be the centflower of their wedding days.

A penny in the shoe, something old, new, borrowed, and blue completed the traditional import of the day.

Deanna Olson, the groom's sister, was matron of honor. Other bridesmaids were Kathy Curtis, Connie Edwards, Joan Johnson and Sue McDonald. They were dressed in pale pink, floor-length silk organza modified bell shaped dresses trimmed with red cummerbunds and rose appliques.

JIM VANDY, brother of the bride, was best man. Other attendants were Roy Marsh, Tom Muran, Glenn Olson and Mike Spinello.

The bride wore a Pandora original gown of white taffeta with the only adornment a pearl applique on the bodice and on the back folds of the dress.

Mrs. Vandy chose a brown silk organza dress with matching coat trimmed in embroidered pique complemented by an orchid corsage and a large white picture hat trimmed with flowers.

The groom's mother wore a pale aqua silk organza full-skirted dress trimmed with a bodice of white lace. Her straw picture hat was covered with the same fabric.

THE BRIDE, daughter of the Chester Vandys of Arlington Heights and a graduate of St. Patrick Academy, attended Marquette University, and was last employed as third grade teacher in St. James Catholic School. Adco, Inc. employs the groom, a 1956 Arlington High School and a 1960 Northern Illinois University graduate, as marketing consultant. Mr. Rolfs is the son of the Virgil Rolfs, 204 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfs' weeklong honeymoon at Lake Lawn, Delavan, Wis. was followed by the groom's 2-week Army Reserve summer camp obligation. They are now residing in their new home in Rolling Meadows. (Jenart Studio(S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Vacation Deluge

Dear Peg:

I can't remember being anyplace where a thunderstorm is more frightening than at the cottage. This little 6-room retreat, on White River, 10 miles north of Indianapolis, was the place where our family spent every summer since the time I was born. And now it has become the happy place that Bob's and my children look forward to visiting — with their cousins — every summer. Nestled in a deep woods, overlooking the river, it is lovely and peaceful when the sunshine is bright and warm, but when a storm comes up quickly and the lightning crashes all around you, it can be a pretty scary place!

Such a storm came up yesterday. All the children, including Dottie and Debbie, and I had driven over to a nearby shopping center for groceries — mother had gone into Indianapolis earlier to do some errands. As we came out of the store and started for the car, we noticed a big, black thunderhead approaching swiftly from the west. In the east thick, whipped cream clouds still shown in the bright sunlight, but we knew it would only be a matter of minutes before the storm would be on us. Somehow we managed to reach the cottage just as drops of rain started to splatter on the windshield and just after a flash of lightning and almost simultaneous clap of thunder, we rushed into the cottage.

The cottage seems so small in the midst of the rage going on overhead and around you, and you are sure that any minute the lightning will hit one of the many tall trees surrounding the cottage. However, the violence leaves as quickly as it comes and it's not long before all you can hear is the water running out of the gutters and pouring down onto the pebbles below and the drops of rain falling from the oak and maple leaves outside.

The river has been too high for the children to play in — ordinarily it's no more than three or four feet at its deepest place near the cottage — so they've been going to a nearby pool. When it's too chilly for swimming the boys play with the "crashmobiles" or get their Nana to play "Fish" with them and the girls either dress each others' hair in the latest styles or apply and re-apply their fake fingernails.

How these little gals change! Last year it was dressing up and giving plays for us — this year it's fancy hairdos and fingernails. But, happily, whatever they're doing, they love doing it together.

My love,
Patty

Maintain Food Stockpile To Insure Against Hunger

A home stockpile of food and water is the best insurance against hunger if a disaster, either man-made or natural, strikes your town. To help you maintain an adequate reserve supply, O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist, makes these suggestions:

Stock water for drinking and food preparation. In moderate weather you need at least one-half gallon of water per person per day. This amounts to about seven gallons per person for a two-week period. You can also meet some of the need for liquids by storing large quantities of fruit and soft drinks.

CHANGE THE stored drinking supply every three months, especially if you know from experience that undesirable tastes and odors will develop.

If you want to have water for bathing, brushing teeth and dishwashing, you will probably need another seven gallons.

In buying or preserving foods for the stockpile, consider the needs and preferences of your family. Foods your family enjoys should head the list. Be sure that all foods will last for several months without refrigeration. Choose ones that can be eaten with little or no cooking.

Remember to include special kinds of milk and especially prepared foods for infants, toddlers, elderly persons and others on special diets.

Whenever possible choose cans and jars in sizes that fill your family's need for only one meal. This is especially important for foods that spoil rapidly after being opened.

STORE CANNED and jar foods in the original containers. Put packaged and dried foods in tight metal containers to lesson the chance of insect or rodent damage.

If your home freezer is located where you would have safe access to it in an emergency, you might count on foods in it for some of your reserve supply. Food spoilage in a well-insulated home freezer does not begin until several days after the power goes off. However, if electric service is not restored in 12 hours, eat or cook the most perishable items before they spoil. If other foods show signs of spoilage, throw them out before they spoil the rest of the food.

It is a good practice to rotate canned foods at least twice a year. Rotate foods in paper boxes every three months. This insures a good-tasting reserve food supply. As you use food on the reserve shelf for meals for unexpected company and the family, replace it, putting the older foods in front of the new supply.

Store food and water in a handy area. This area may be a shelter, basement, unused room or storage cellar. It should be dry, clean and cool, with a temperature of 32 to 70 degrees F. Be sure the area is large enough for your family to stay in for more than a week if necessary.

Bulletins with detailed information on building and maintaining a family food and water stockpile are available at your local Civil Defense Office or county home adviser's office.

Sunglasses Must Protect

Protecting your eyes from invisible light is as important as comforting them from bright sunlight, especially during long periods of exposure.

Properly designed sunglasses should eliminate the invisible rays of infrared and ultraviolet radiation, according to the American Optometric Association, now holding its 65th Annual Congress in Chicago.

Potent rays, which are used to dry paint, broil steaks, kill bacteria and produce a golden sun tan, are abundant even on days when visible light is not too bright.

CLOUDS, which screen light rays, let through certain ultraviolet and infrared radiation, so don't be fooled by an overcast day.

If you are planning to spend a lot of time outdoors at the beach, on the lake or driving cross - country, quality sunglasses, especially those professionally prescribed of ground and polished glass, will save wear and tear on the eyes.

Excessive energy from unfiltered sunlight will cause squinting, tears and, if endured for several hours, will bring a reddening and irritation of the outer covering of the eyes.

There is experimental evidence that such inflammation can reduce your ability to see at night.

MOST recommended colors are a neutral gray or smoke color, but gray - green and brown are also acceptable. Filters such as red, blue, orange and yellow are not advised because they can seriously affect color vision.

Lenses should extend far enough out to cover the entire field of vision.

For people who wear glasses, the Amrican Optometric Association recommends the purchase of prescription sunglasses, which will provide the right correction and more effective screening of sunlight. Many optometrists advise against clip-on sunglasses because they fail to control light around the edges of the field of vision and are only partially effective. (S

Two Arlington High School graduates who are now students at Southern Illinois University, Carol Louise Trendel, daughter of former Arlington Heights residents, the Howard J. Helicopter Flight Starts Pair on West Indies Trip

After a wedding reception in Brookwood Country Club, Addison, relatives and friends of newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor, gathered at the home of the bride's parents to bid them "bon voyage" and a "happy landing" as they prepared to leave on a honeymoon trip.

Their means of departure from the Schaumburg home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Troch was unique and added a lasting impression of the July 7 ceremony which united the former Sharon Ann Troch and the son of the senior John McGregors of Libertyville.

A CHARTERED helicopter, decorated with a huge "Just Married" sign, whisked the couple away, heading for the direction of O'Hare International Airport. It was the "first leg" of a trip most brides dream about — a honeymoon in the romantic West Indies.

Earlier in the day the pair exchanged vows before Pastor Spangler in St. Luke Lutheran Church of Park Ridge. Carrying out the all-white theme, white mums decorated the altar and bows trimmed the pews. Thomas Daniels and Mrs. Louella Trecker served as soloist and organist for the 1 p.m. service.

IN PRINCESS STYLE, the bride's gown was of rose point lace and taffeta peau de soie, designed in chapel-length. The full skirt had appliques of rose point lace, iridescent sequins and pearls. A 2-tiered bouffant veil held in place the aurora borealis crystal crown; flowers were white orchids and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids and the matron of honor carried bouquets of white miniature carnations combined with variegated ivy and small dracena leaves. Their romance blue silk organza over taffeta sheaths featured removable bouffant skirts.

MATRON OF HONOR was the bride's sister-in-law, Charlene Troch of Des Plaines. Taking the roles of bridesmaids were Judy Sailor of Glenview and two Park Ridge girls: Karen Grunschel and Judy Bauer.

Donald M. Volino of Libertyville was best man while Robert Troch Jr., the bride's brother; Robert Thornton, Park Ridge; and Donald McGregor, brother of the groom, served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Troch wore a pale pink peau de soie dres and the groom's mother chose a pale green silk. Both had white orchid corsages.

THE NEWLYWEDS plan to make their home in Wheeling. Miss Troch attended the University of Arizona and her groom is a former student of Arizona State at Tempe.

Pair Arrive At Country Club Reception In 1929 'Oldster'

A pleasant surprise awaited newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Plote, following their June 23 nuptials in Christ Evangelical Reformed Church, Des Plaines. Parked at the curbside was a "Graham Paige," vintage 1929, ready to transport them to Chevy Chase Country Club, scene of a wedding reception for 500 guests.

Providing the humorous idea and chauffeur service was the groom's brother, Laurence Plote of Palatine, who served as best man. The ceremony, double ring, was performed by Rev. R. K. Wobbe at 5 p.m., amid a background of white gladioli and mums.

FOR THE WEDDING of the former Janice Rae Goede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goede of 1801 E. Palatine Road, Arlington Heights, and the son of the Ernst F. Plotes, Central Road, Palatine, three songs were furnished by David Blaylock, soloist, and Gary L. Jenkins, organist.

They were "The Lord's Prayer," "The Wedding Benediction," and "The Wedding Prayer."

A sheer floor-length sheath of imported silk was worn by the bride. Detailed with fitted bodice, it had a square neckline with re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls for highlights. Accenting the overskirt was a detachable train with a cummerbund trimmed in the same manner.

FASHIONED BY her sister, Barbara Goede of Hyde Park, who served as maid of honor, was the bridal crown of pearl and crystal, fastened to an elbow-length veil in bouffant style.

The bride's only jewelry was a blue sapphire pendant, a gift of the groom. Flowers were white plumeria and Miss Goede also carried a white Bible. Yellow Glamellias with ivy, in cascade design, contrasted the fern green silk organza over taffeta gowns worn by the maid of honor and bridesmaids: Mrs. John Carlson of Palatine and Mrs. John Brown, Arlington Heights.

Gowned the same was flower girl, Christine Plote, 4, of Palatine, whose outfit was completed with miniature glamellias. Both mothers were attired in pale blue and white accessories. Mrs. Goede's dress, a ribbon knit, was accentuated with a pink cymbidium. Mrs. Plote's was made of organza and lace and she wore a beige cymbidium corsage.

Others attending the groom were ushers: Robert Hummel of Palatine and Howard Redeker, Prospect Heights. They were among guests at the reception who bade the new Mr. and Mrs. Plote a safe journey before departure on a honeymoon trip to northern Wisconsin.

Graduated from Arlington High School and Northern Illinois University, the bride also studied at Bryant Stratton Business College. She is now employed at United Airlines and her groom, a Palatine High School graduate, is self-employed at United Air Lines and tractor.

They are now at home in Palatine. (Jenart

'Import Fair' Slated For Designer's Shop

Summer is the season for world fairs: in Seattle, in Chicago at the International Trade Fair, and in Arlington Heights an "Import Fair" by Petersen's Designer's Shop starting Aug. 2 and extending through Aug. 18.

As the Scandinavian flags signify from the outside of the store in the Elms Shopping Center, Scandinavian imports of all kinds are being featured during the two-week display. From furniture and lighting fixtures to table linens, tableware and wall hangings, the exhibit emphasizes craftsmanship and good design, and contains items of interest for every member of the family.

SOME OF THE most unusual designs on view are a group of dining tables which answer the needs for the growing family with limited dining area space. One of these, a Swedish import by Dux, is an oval extension design, measuring 37 by 48 inches without leaves, (See photo). Unusual feature is that this table is split the long way; thus with one leaf added, it becomes round, with two leaves, a generous 48 by 77 inches. What's more, it's especially sturdy when opened, and because of it oval shape, looks attractive when closed and pushed against the wall. (See photo.)

Equally versatile and ingenious in design concept is a 39-inch square refectory table, a Danish import from Moreddi. The leaves pull out from each side, snapping securely into place. When open the table thus doubles in size, seating six comfortably. Such an easy-to-operate table can do extra duty as a desk, sewing table, and so on and — requires no storage of leaves.

A third unique table on display is a three-legged round design created by the famous Hans Wegner. Although only four feet in diameter, it seats six easily by means of compact three-legged chairs which fit neatly between the table legs.

CHAIRS OF all shapes and sizes can also be seen at Petersen's Import Fair. There's a fully upholstered platform rocker in walnut by Dux, another rocker by John Stuart with exposed walnut frame, and a Bangkok teak armchair, also by Stuart, which won an American Institute of Interior Designers International Design Award for 1962. (See photo.) Other furniture on special display are a shipment just arrived from the St. Lawrence Seaway of Mogenskold (Denmark) dining tables, chairs and occasional tables, also a group of wall hung, walnut bedroom units.

TABLE TALK at The Designer's Shop August Import Fair will be inspired by this oval extension design, a brand new Dux (Swedish) import. Table splits the long way rather than crosswise, becoming round when one leaf is added, and a generous 48 by 77 inches, with both leaves. The shop is located in Arlington Heights. (Soc Proving that art and utility go hand in hand is the group of imported accessories, tableware and table linens on exhibit. Of special interest is a collection of Dansk table linens from Finland in a myriad of colors and original shapes, also cotton and linen placemats from Finland and Sweden including a group of gay provincial Swedish prints on linen, and a colorful printed cotton collection called Merri Mekko from Finland.

For placement on top of the mats or cloths, there is a wide tableware selection, from stainless steel, teak serving pieces, faience china from Arabia of Finland, Notsjoe crystal from Finland, and ceramic and china dishes from Gustavsberg, Sweden.

FROM SWEDEN, too, are the hanging light fixtures with solid or printed cotton and linen shades which remove for washing. And from Sweden and Finland, in a wide palette of colors, are woolen and linen draperies and upholstery fabrics.

Visitors are invited to the Fair, weekdays, nine to six, and on Monday, Thursday and Friday evenings till 9. (Soc

North Woods Vacation Rough on Television

by BETTY AINSLIE

NORTHERN WISCONSIN — It is possible to live without television? Yes, it can be done. All you need are a few miscellaneous things like a boat, place to fish, water swi, swim and dance. A batch of sunny weather and you can manage nicely without that large one-eyed monster.

Not that I'm against television, heck it's probably the eighth wonder of the world and a marvelous waster of time. But it is fun to discover that there are really things to do without TV or radio.

Suddenly the family plays games together of an evening, reads, fishes and you don't know or care a thing about what is going on in the world. For a real change of pace it is wonderful.

Up here in Northern Wisconsin, nestled back in a deep forest on a big lake dotted with small islands, you can almost feel that brown Indian in full feathers paddling his canoe silently beside your metal boat.

STANDING ON the shores of hidden lakes among white birch trees, with deer and bear in abundance, you feel a flash of the old pioneer spirit.

The air is soft and cool. Filtered through hundreds of pine trees, it's so cool and fresh you can't seem to breath it deep enough. And it is so quiet. Have you forgotton how wonderful it is to just be sitting someplace that is noiseless?

Your nerves unwind in the stillness and with the only sounds the ones of wind through trees or water lapping at sandy beaches your own voice lowers at least an octave when you yell at the kids.

Up here there's one grocery store where the manager slices off meat just the way you want it fresh from sides of beef aging in his cooler. There is even sawdust on the floor and no problem over selection of frozen foods, there aren't many.

NO PLANES, no trains, no jets just chipmunks to feed and train — humming birds and wrens to watch at close range.

People smile — speak — and have a certain friendliness forgotton in city suburbs. They all have time to help me catch up on all the news that has happened during the past year. Where the fishing is good and what sons and daughters are married or have new babies.

Our worm woman, a steady vendor of this necessary bit of fishing equipment for our five years here, never changes. Her little house with its general assemblage of assorted woodsheds looks like some giant witch has swept the whole thing together with her broom into a tidy pile. She's plump and friendly and she always remembers our names and where we are from.

She remarks on the growth of the kids and shows us her new giant sized rabbits, while we rub the ears and get swatted with the tails of two, black, hunting dogs that share her one room cottage.

SHE'S EXPLICIT in her instructions about caring for her worms, and proud as punch when she has the report that we managed to snare some big ones with her squirming, juicy fish bait.

"Keep them covered tight now, or all the big ones will get out and poof goes your best bait."

Seems to be a special comradship between fishermen. Maybe they can smell out each other—like the little sign in our favorite eating place states, "old fishermen never die, they just smell that way." But strangers are friends as sizes and varieties of fish are compared.

Being city born and bred and coming from a long line of non-fishing folk I was a mite doubtful of the sitting paralyzed in a boat clutching a fish pole. That was five years ago. A cottage on a lake? Not for me. But I've changed . There is something about sitting still out in a boat with a big glob of blue sky above you and birds singing fit to split their throats and just water and trees all around that is mightly quieting to the spirit.

ONCE YOU'VE had the pull of an inquisitive fish on the end of your line and finally landed a big one all by yourself, you not only hooked the fish you hooked yourself. You're a goner—you'll get up at dawn or hate to come in after dark if you can be enticed by just one more bite.

If you enjoy good food there are places which serve home-cooking better then mother ever made and at reasonable prices. Places where the cook herself comes out of the kitchen to smilingly accept your compliments on her cooking. Places where you must never be in a hurry as your order is cooked for you.

Where Smorgasbord means ham, chicken, beef, Swedish meat balls, at least ten kinds of salads with special dressings, large tureens of sliced fresh fruits blended with sauces handed down from mother to daughter and pastries with crusts that break at a touch, and home baked rolls and bread—where the cook herself urges three and four helpings.

Brisk, cool air and outdoor sports builds good appetites so leave calorie counters at home. A cottage doesn't have to mean toil for Mom. Suppers out can give her a vacation too.

SO I'M FOR every family whether the children are big or small to find themselves a cottabe some Summer on an almost forgotton bit of civilization on a lake and do a little roughing it around the edges. Like getting along without TV or radio, discovering quiet, getting the chance to sort out your thoughts and dreams while you hold a fishing pole in your hands.

Try it at least once, even though you never eat fish or have always spent a vacation sightseeing from one spot to another. Just try slackening your pace for once and waste a little time for a change. I just betcha you'll like it.

"FLEA MARKET" was one the popular booths set up July 25 on the grounds of Fairhills Farm when members of Countryside Farm School for Retarded Children staged a Garden Bazaar to benefit the school which is located on Shirley Road. (S

Travel and Adventure

It Has 'Everything'

The Time for Mexico Trip Is 'Any Time'

by JEANNE WELCH

"What's the best time of year to visit Mexico?" asks a reader. "Any time you're lucky enough to be able to go there," say I, a lover of all things Mexican except fried red beans.

May to September is the so-called rainy season in many parts of Mexico, but rains, while daily, are of short duration and only make the scenery more lush and green. In resort towns rates are lower then, too.

On the other hand, in January or February it is pleasant to read the Chicago weather report of zero temperatures and snow while lying in the sun at Acapulco or one of the lesser known but equally as sunny coastal beaches.

Mexico has so many facets, such variety, that it can meet the demand of almost any vacationer. Like cosmopolitan atmosphere? Mexico City is as cosmopolitan as you could wish, with fine restaurants, many of them specializing in French cuisine, museums, good music, Diego Rivera paintings all over town, excellent hotels, the stunningly modern and beautiful University of Mexico.

ALL THIS, plus the intriguing old section with its walled courtyard houses where one is sure mantilla clad senoritas listen to lovers' serenades while duennas lurk discreetly in the background.

There, too, is Chapultepec Park, with its woods and stream set in the middle of the city. Particularly on Sunday it is filled with picnicking families and with horseback riders, often in the costume of the cabellero and with saddles massively trimmed in handworked silver.

Living costs in Mexico City are not inexpensive. Hotel rates and meals are about the same as they would be in Chicago for comparable quality. There are bargains to be had in shopping, a delightful pastime which can consume many hours. Don't buy the first things you see, however, do some comparison shopping first.

DON'T OVERLOOK the "dime stores" where silver perfume bottles and handmade silver jewelry can be had for less than $1 in U. S. money.

If I were making a first trip to Mexico and had only two weeks to spend, I would make Mexico City my headquarters, for I perfer to learn much about one place, rather than a little about many, but this is a personal preference.

There are one day tours to nearby villages such at Toluca where you can see a touch of rural life as the farmers bring their wares to be sold in the open market. Ask your hotel's travel desk about such tours, and ones of two, three days or a week's duration.

THE MOST POPULAR tour takes in Cuernavaca, a colonial town where many retired Americans live, and Taxco, the famed silver city, where a combination of hills and cobbled streets make walking a challenge.

While there are many quaint- and inexpensive - villages in Mexico, touring them on your own, or driving your own or a rented car, are not recommended for a first visit, unless your Spanish is fluent and your spirit adventuresome.

For a first visit and a two-week stay you will want to fly and American Airlines, which will soon celebrate its 20th year of flying to Mexico, has a variety of convenient flights, both are simple. No passport is required. only a tourist card whic is good for six months and allows you to take into the country all personal belongings, duty free. For entrance back into the United States you must show evidence of vaccination within three years.

Wherever you go in Mexico, if you go with an open mind, a light heart and eagerness to see how other peoples live, you will enjoy yourself. (T

Syd Mandel Exhibit at Golf-Mill

An exhibition of paintings by Syd Mandel will be presented in the Golf Mill Theatre art gallery during the entire month of August.

Mandel is a graduate from DePaul University School of Law. He has had no formal art training other than in the private painting classes of Harry Mintz, well-known Chicago artist and teacher.

SAYS MANDEL: "I'm a Saturday painter now, but one of these days I'm going to relocate south into the sun and just paint and paint."

"The majority of Mandel's paintings are clowns. He paints clowns because they have no hidden meanings, no symbolisms, no sermons, no horrors . . . Clowns are colorful, interesting people, who paint on grins and present a happy face to the world, no matter how miserable they might be.

Free coffee is served every evening in the Golf Mill Theatre's color TV lounge, adjoining the art gallery. (SOC

Rest and Store

Cleverest idea for a dual purpost rest-and-storage spot is a bench with box frame and hinged top made of Douglas fir 2x4s and 1x8s with padded top that can be brought in during the winter.

Placed against the garage or along a shady side of the house, it is much used.

Thick Forest

The 25.5 million acres of the Douglas fir region comprise only 5.3 per cent of the commercial forest land in the U. S., but have 30 per cent of its timber.

Wildlife Dilemma

Busy Beavers Blink At Zone Regulation

MADISON, WIS., (UPI)—Taxpayers would save thousands of dollars if they could teach busy beavers to heed zoning regulations.

The state is creating many large artificial impoundments for wildlife habitat at a cost of thousands of dollars each. At the same time, small beaver ponds a re being created by the hundreds annually at little expense.

The trouble is, however, that beaver dams on slow-flowing trout streams do much more harm than good, and when beaver populations are high, cutting may destroy 3,000 to 4,000 acres of timber each year.

A REPORT recently completed by the Wisconsin Conservation Department on the relationship of beaver to forests, trout and wildlife said that 333 beaver ponds surveyed during the past 12 years produced 115 duck broods or about 2.3 ducklings per pond annually.

The ponds also were beneficial to deer, according to the report written by wildlife biolgist George Knudsen. Deer or sign of deer was found at 86 per cent of the ponds surveyed and deer beds often were found in the sedges and grasses of abandoned ponds. Increased production of grass, aquatic plants and shrubs around beaver ponds creates good grazing and browsing conditions for deer.

In addition, open areas produced by the ponds are often the only openings left in areas of extensive forest cover, the report said. The ponds also serve to cool off deer during hot summer months.

MANY FISHERMEN have no use for the beaver ponds because they get too warm in summer and too cold in winter. The dams retard stream flow and spread water over large and shallow areas, causing a general rise in water temperatures in summer that can be fatal to brook trout.

The dams also act as barriers to spawning runs and silt from the ponds kills trout eggs. In addition, flooding around the ponds destroys shade producing trees.

They are useful, however, during drought periods when the ponds may be the only sections of streams containing water and can function as sanctuaries for the few remaining trout.

SOMETIMES, more adaptable fish take over the ponds and can become ideal fishing areas for northerns and smallmouth bass.

The report said about 185,000 of the 925,000 licensed fishermen in Wisconsin fish trout and "it is apparent that the trout streams of the north have a tremendous recreational and economic value."

The report also said the contribution of beaver ponds in fur and game to trappers and hunters every year often outweigh that of the timber that would have been produced at the site.

"Since however, timber is essential to the nation's strength, it should be given priority on those areas where forest managers deem it most important," the report stated.

THE REPORT recommended that the conservation department classify and inventory trout and non-trout waters and allow special beaver trapping seasons in areas of streams where natural beaver movement is great. It also recommended that trappers be informed of active colony locations to allow "clean-up" operations where beavers are not wanted. (T

Beachcombing Figures In a Glamour Program

Looking for adventure this summer? It's as near as your patio and may be found on weekends or vacations. It's relaxing and beachcombing with a new angle; shaping your fall look by preparing and disciplining your figure now; and an easy glamour routine for every girl worth a whistle.

Have your fun and relaxation in the prettiest ways. Make your every move a graceful one, adding up to better posture, greater poise and firmer muscles. Show off your new swim suit or play togs by consciously walking gracefully. Pick up those droopy shoulders, pull in that tummy and stride forth with your head held high.

INSTEAD OF plopping down in a slovenly slump, prod yourself into a graceful posture whether sitting or reclining. Always be aware of forcing lazy muscles to work. Before long, the right way, the prettiest way to walk, stand, sit or lie in the sun will become routine.

The nicest part about this beachcombing glamour is that you do what comes naturally, only you do it with forethought. No strict, hard setting up exercises. Just a little more effort and a little more awareness of striving for good postures.

For instance, when you lie face downward, stretch yourself out from the tips of your fingers to the tips of your toes. Feel the tug on your tummy, shoulders and diaphragm. Or if you prefer lolling face up, stretch your arms down close to your sides, and point your toes out. Be enthusiastic when trying to attract the attention of a friend. Instead of waving with one arm, raise both arms up high, even higher.

STAND WITH both feet firmly on the ground and separate legs for proper balance. The friend will come running, and you'll have gone a step forward toward toning up all your muscles.

When you're sitting, every once in a while clasp your hands over your knees, stretch your legs out, point your toes and rock. This will strengthen back, arm and leg muscles and slim ankles.

Frame your face with a softly feminine casual hairdo. It can be "in the works" while you're sitting. Follow your usual setting pattern, but fasten the curls with bow clips. These are single prong pin curl clips dressed up with all sorts of charming bows. They can be had in a wide range of pastel grosgrains, gay gingham patterns, fancy Roman stripes, bonny Scotch plaids, and luscious summer velvets. Clear, red, white and blues in the Americana family make a charming all-over setting for patriotic pretties.

THE WONDERFUL feature about such a bow clip setting is that you look lovely and no one can tell that your hairdo is in the making. When it's time to leave the basking and dress for other activities, your curls will be firm, springy and ready for a smart brush-through hairdo. And if you're really on the beam fashionwise, you'll finish off your creation with some of the bow clips poised at eye-catching points. You might even perk up a tired dress or sweater by adding matching or contrasting bow clips to the neckline, on the pockets or on the belt.

Whatever's in store for you, the balance of the summer, you can make a glamorous adventure of it and pave the way for unending grace, charm, poise and figure control. (S

Grandma Solves Garden Problem

Lively Tots Are Challenge

by GISELA FRERICHS

Dearly as I loved my little grandchildren, I dreaded having them in my garden. They were too lively for my small property, always dashing about, laughing and chatting, and — falling into my flower beds.

Not that these apartment-raised youngsters didn't love flowers. Little Diane delighted in smelling them. She stuck her tiny nose into every blossom and — trampled all flowers nearby. Davy listened wide-eyed when I showed him the blazing beauty of a celosia I was going to use in an arrangement. But if he didn't grab for the flower then, he would break it off later to carry it triumphantly home to his daddy. I had lost many a potential prize winner this way. It took a rainy day to bring a solution to this problem.

We were having lunch at the kitchen table and gazing out into the drenched garden. "Look at my poor, wet flowers," I said.

"And your poor, wet chickens, Grandma!" Davy chimed in.

"But, Davy," I said, "I have no chickens,"

"Yes, you do," he insisted. "They crept in through your fence. Your neighbor said they want to visit you."

BEFORE I could figure out what he meant, he dashed out with little Diane trailing behind. All I could do was take an umbrella and follow. The children were huddled around my neighbor's sempervivum which had crept over to my side of the fence.

"They are chickens, aren't they, Grandma?" asked Diane.

I hesitated, puzzled, Then I remembered. My neighbor, like many gardeners, often referred to the sempervivum as hens and chickens but I had never stopped to wonder why. Nor, I'll wager, had she. But suddenly, now, I saw the plant with the fresh vision of the children. The little rosettes clustered around the big mother plant like little chickens gather around the mother hen. The children gently stroked the small, fleshy rosettes as if they were live, little chicks. The whole garden took on a new kind of life for me.

"Of course, they are chickens," I answered, "and what's more, I even have a cock for the hen and chickens."

I POINTED to my fiery-red celosia. The children agreed it had a striking resemblance to a cocks comb. Though I was doubtful about my pink astilbe and a goat's beard looking alike, the children didn't object to a pink goat. Their imagination was not limited. They squealed with a mixture of delight and horror when I presented my cleome as the biggest spider flower there is.

From then on I surprised my grandchildren with a new flower-animal on everyone of their visits. Dragons I had galore, counting all my snapDRAGONS DRAGON heads and false DRAGONheads. There wasn't a shortage on tigers either with a TIGER lily at the porch and a bed of TIGER flowers (I used to call them Tigridia) along the garage.

Perfecting my garden took some time. It is aglow now during spring and summer with PEACOCK and PARROT tulips, with LARKspur, OSTRICH plumes, and BUTTERFLY weed. In partly shaded corners flourish speckled GuinEA HEN flowers, DOGtooth violets, and FOXgloves. One day I even surprised the children with a few ELEPHANT ears.

But, best of all, Davy stopped breaking off flowers. He doesn't want to kill his LEOPbane and BUTTERFLY gladiolus. And how delightful it is for me to watch little Diane tiptoeing among her pets. Gingerly she touches her CRANE's bill, fusses with her CATmint, and cuddles the wooly LAMB's ear. She is forever asking for new pets. Now she wants a skunk. Well, why not. There are SKUNK cabbages, aren't there? (SOC

Information Given By Iris Specialist

For best results, Illinois gardeners should plant or transplant tall-bearded iris and daylilies between Aug. 15 and Sept. 30, according to G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist.

To help you select reliable and up-to-date varieties, the University of Illinois College of Agriculture offers leaflet H-644, "A List of Top-Notch Tall-Bearded Iris Varieties," and leaflet H-645, "Recommended Daylily Varieties." The lists include the 100 varieties that are most popular with members of the American Iris Society and the American Hemerocallis Society, respectively. Varieties are listed in order of total number of votes received. A large majority of the varieties mentioned sell at reasonable prices.

TOPPING THE iris list are Blue Sapphire, Violet Harmony, Sable Night, Frost and Flame and Mary Randall. High on the daylily list are Frances Fay, Fairy Wings, Cosette, Salmon Sheen and Bess Ross.

More information about iris is found in U. S. Department of Agriculture Home and Garden Bulletin 66, "Growing Iris in the Home," available from county farm or home advisers. Information about daylilies is found in University of Illinois College of Agriculture Circular 716, "Daylilies for Every Garden," available for 50 cents plus tax from Office of Information, 112 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana. Tree Roots Get More Air Through Soil's Aeration

Drilling holes in your spotless lawn may seem a weird way to help your trees, but it works like a tonic.

Trees, just as humans, need air to survive. They must have air not only above ground for the leaves but also below for the roots, for they have no respiratory system comparable to that in animals. Air, free though it is, can get sadly short underground when soil compaction occurs due to lawn mower, roller, foot traffic and similar activities.

Aeration is one of two major benefits of drill-hole feeding, states Jack Wikle, research horticulturist of the Davey Tree Expert Co. The method not only permits ready access of air to root systems, but also supplies directly the mineral elements necessary for vigorous growth.

DRILL-HOLE feeding, sometimes called the perforation method, consists of drilling a series of equally spaced holes over the entire root system. Into each hole is placed fertilizer and humous-forming materials, generally to a depth of 18 inches or more. These holes also provide channels which permit excess water to drain and allow ready entry of air with its vital supply of oxygen.

When this method is employed year after year, points out the Davey scientist, there are created hundreds of "breathers" around a tree and aeration and moisture supply approach the optimum. New feeding roots take advantage of this situation, too.

Thus, there is applied to the home grounds' tree the same principles of soil improvement that the farmer or gardener employs in cultivating his soil. Such 3-in-1 shots of air, food and water bring about an improvement in the soil environment reaching to considerable depth.

Spanish Luncheon Dishes Made Exciting with Eggs

THE SPANISH USE EGGS in extraordinary ways. Shown here in background are egg-filled baked tomatoes. In foreground, eggs top a spicy casserole of garlic-flavored beans, first simmered in Spanish olive oil, with asparagus as a garnish. (SH

For something really different in a luncheon or supper dish, serve Spanish eggs. The Spanish use eggs in extraordinary ways, creating meatless dishes that are both exotic and hearty.

Baked stuffed tomatoes we all know about, but tomatoes brushed with olive oil, then filled with raw eggs which cook right into the tomato shell during the latter half of the baking, is something new.

A STILL MORE unusual egg dish is native to Seville, the romantic city of southwestern Spain renowned for its Flamenco dancers and its graceful Moorish architecture.

As exotic as the fretwork in a Moorish palace is this combination of broad beans (or limas can be substituted for an American version), onion, tomato and garlic simmered in olive oil, with eggs baked on top of the beans and green asparagus spears for garnish.

HUEVOS A LA SEVILLANA
(Eggs, Seville Style)

1 package frozen Fordhook limas
¼ cup olive oil
2 slices white bread, in cubes
1 small onion, chopped
1 small tomato, peeled and chopped, or 1 tablespoon catsup
1 or 2 garlic cloves, minced
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
8 stalks green asparagus
4 to 6 eggs

Saute bread cubes in the olive oil; remove browned crumbs to shallow casserole (10" round or square baking dish, 1 inch deep). Add onion to oil in skillet, tomato (or catsup) and garlic, cook until onion is soft.

Add water, salt and beans, cook until beans are tender. Transfer beans to casserole, placing over bread. Break eggs over the beans. Arrange asparagus stalks around the eggs.

Bake in pre-heated oven 350 degrees just until eggs are firm, about 20 minutes. Serves 3 or 4.

TOMATES RELLENOS AL HORNO
(Baked Stuffed Tomatoes)

6 medium tomatoes
3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil
Fresh or dried tarragon
Salt, pepper
6 eggs

Slice blossom end from each tomato, scoop out a little of pulp (enough to hold an egg). Brush all over with olive oil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and a little tarragon. Place in oiled baking dish and bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes or until tomatoes are soft but still firm enough to hold their shape.

Break an egg carefully into each tomato. Return to oven until eggs are set but yolk still soft. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Be Queen, Not Slave Of Barbecue 'Realm'

If you've become an overworked slave to the barbecue, burned to a point of frustration every time any one mentions an outdoor dinner or party, simmer down. You don't have to be a slave. Get off the old routine of meals on the open range.

Play it cool and plan menus with only one main treat to be done over the coals, and prepare the rest in the comfort of your kitchen, far in advance of the dining hour. It's only being outdoors that makes it fun, in wonderful summer time.

THE BARBECUE course can be something as simple as a few appetizers done on skewers over a small hibachi—let the guests broil their own. While they are enjoying themselves over a hot "stove" you can put the finishing touches to your feast in queenly fashion.

If the men folks demand a good, hearty meal, make it a solid entree of meat or fowl roasted on a spit, and let the spit do the work. Casseroles of potatoes, macaroni or noodles need only to be reheated and the vegetables can be bedded down in the salad and served up cold.

YOU'LL HAVE no trouble in finding a variety of dishes and goodies for barbecue menu planning. You'll see them in profusion everywhere. The trick is to use only one to a meal, for swift service to guests, such as the following chicken recipe.

Chicken-In-A-Basket

This is a help-yourself meal that's fun and leaves no dish-washing aftermath. Prepare the chicken in advance and serve it cold, but do serve hot corn-on-the-cob, wrapped in aluminum foil with butter and seasoning, ready to eat after grilling.

Little individual baskets take the place of plates. If you don't have them, they are not expensive, and you'll find them useful throughout the year for many things. Line each basket with a sturdy paper napkin.

SET THEM out with paper cups filled with cole slaw, corn relish, bean salad or whatever suits your fancy, just so it can be served in a small paper cup, and a big bowl of potato chips. The buffet line starts with the baskets and ends up at the barbecue for a piping hot treat of corn.

This is a finger and fork affair—something the men folks love. (SH

Olive Oil Basis Of Foreign Fare

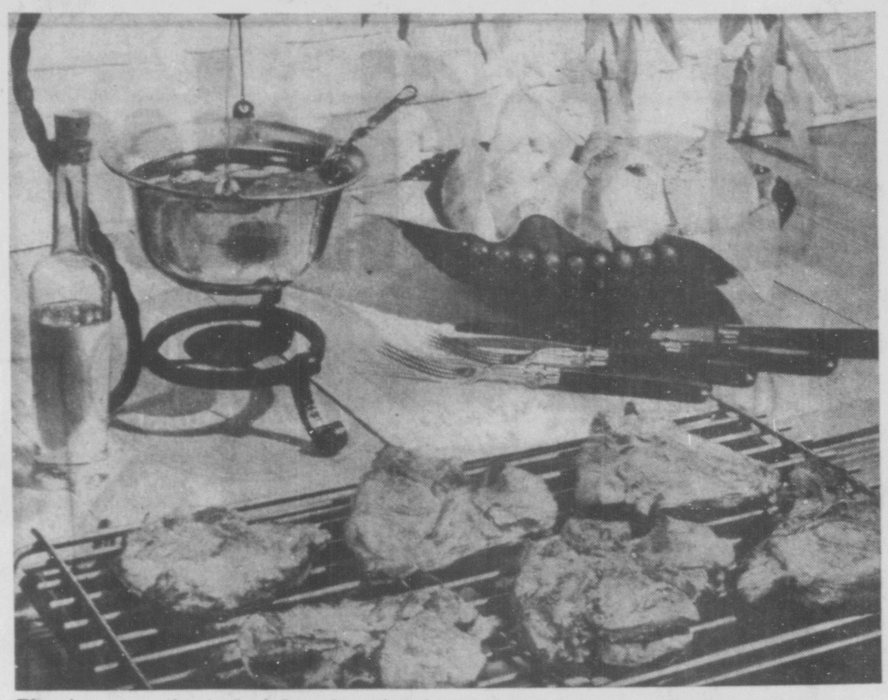
Does it make any difference which oil you use in the kitchen? All vegetable oils are high in the important unsaturated fatty acids.

However, there is a difference in flavor, and in preparing dishes of foreign origin, the cooking oil or fat, more than any other single recipe ingredient, gives each country's cuisine its distinctive characteristic.

Olive oil, for instance, is the basis for all the Mediterranean cuisines — Spanish, Italian, Provencal French, North African and Middle Eastern. Spain produces 65 per cent of the world's supply of olive oil and Spanish olive oil is even exported to Italy.

Olive oil is a pure unsaturated vegetable oil, the only cooking oil that does not require refrigeration. (SH

Basque Style Veal Chops Is 'Souvenir' from Spain



Planning a vacation in Spain? If so, you will have lots of company en route, for now that it takes only eight hours by jet from New York to Madrid, inexpensive, exotic Spain is a more popular tourist spot than ever. Last year, TWA carried over 50,000 Americans to the land of bullfights and paella; since April of this year, the company has stepped up its Madrid schedule to include daily jet flights, many of them non-stop between Idlewild and the Spanish capital.

The easiest souvenirs to bring home from an overseas visit are new recipes typical of the country. But even if you never leave home, you can enjoy Spanish flavor in your own backyard.

MANY AMERICANS visiting Spain for the first time are surprised to learn that the cuisine is not "hot" at all, instead seasoning is simple, with generous use of garlic, onion, and parsley. Olive oil is the basis of all Spanish cooking, and for authentic flavor, it is important to use a fragrant Spanish olive oil.

Charcoal grills are used as much in Spain as here at home. In fact, in the Basque country of northern Spain, meat is grilled over charcoal out of doors throughout the year, not just in summer. Basque men, who count themselves dedicated gourmets, do the cooking.

INSTEAD OF beef steaks, veal chops and steaks or baby lambs split in half are more often chosen for the grill. "Chuletas" of veal, sometimes cut two or three inches thick, are a Basque specialty. So to make the veal more juicy, the steaks are marinated in an olive oil and garlic mixture before cooking.

These will be served with a simple tossed green salad, dressed with olive oil, salt, pepper and vinegar.

Since our veal is cut differently, it is easier for us to use loin veal chops, but ask the butcher to cut them about twice as thick as usual. The amount of garlic used in the marinade may sound excessive, but this is what gives the veal excitingly different flavor.

Or, instead of chops, you might want to try a rolled veal roast, cooked on a spit over charcoal. A roast is treated much the same way, but marinated longer beforehand, and cooked more slowly.

BARBECUED VEAL CHOPS, BASQUE STYLE

6 veal loin chops, 1 to 1¼ inches thick
½ cup Spanish olive oil
3 or 4 garlic cloves, minced
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Pinch of Oregano
2 tablespoons vinegar

Punch the chops all over with a barbecue skewer. Combine oil, minced garlic, parsley, the oregano rubbed between fingers, and the vinegar. Brush well into the holes in the meat. Let stand an hour before grilling.

Place on rack 4 inches above heat; grill slowly. Brush once or twice with marinade to keep meat moist. When beautifully browned on both sides, remove from grill, sprinkle with salt.

SPIT-ROASTED VEAL SHOULDER

Boneless rolled veal shoulder, about 6 lbs.
¾ cup Spanish olive oil
¼ cup vinegar
5 or 6 garlic cloves, minced
½ cup minced parsley
½ cup dry red or white wine

Meat should be rolled and tied by the butcher, but without any covering of suet. If purchased already rolled with a blanket of suet around the outside, be sure to cut away the suet. Punch the meat all the way through, with big holes, using a barbecue skewer.

Combine remaining ingredients, brush into holes in the meat with a pastry or barbecue brush. Let stand in marinade at least 3 hours, brushing once or twice again to make sure marinade penetrates to center of meat. This means preparing the meat in the morning, to be roasted in the afternoon.

Impale on skewer, roast 6 inches from charcoal fire, brushing with marinade as it turns on spit. Insert a meat thermometer in the center of the meat, until it registers 175 degrees, or allow 30 minutes to the pound (3 hours).

Replenish fire occasionally but do not allow it to get too hot. If an electric rotisserie is used, set temperature control at 375 degrees. Brush occasionally with marinade as meat turns.

Meat will shrink as it cooks, but this should be enough to serve 10 persons, with 2 servings each. Slice horizontally while meat remains on spit.

Beauty Treatment For Salad Bowls

How do you feel about washing your wooden salad bowl? Many gourmets insist the salad bowl should never be washed, only wiped dry with absorbent paper. However, most Americans prefer washing it after every use.

The trouble is, grease-cutting detergents tend to remove the "seasoning" and permit wood to absorb water. This may cause the bowl to crack.

THE SPANISH Olive Oil Institute suggests a periodic beauty treatment for salad bowls: coat the clean dry surface lavishly with olive oil and leave it over night. If it seems dry in the morning, apply another coating.

When the wood has absorbed as much olive oil as it will take, wipe with paper toweling. The wood will have a deep lustrous color and will be impervious to water or stains.

Also good for cutting boards, wooden counter tops and other wooden kitchen ware. (SH

Secret of Making Perfect Croutons

Croutons are a delightful accompaniment for soups and salads and a vital ingredient in Caesar Salad. They can be made ahead and stored in a covered container in the refrigerator. Trim crusts from stale bread, brush both sides with Spanish olive oil and cut the bread into small cubes.

Toast in a skillet over moderate heat or bake, spread out on a baking sheet, at 350 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes until golden. If done in a skillet, turn once.

For Caesar Salad, add a sliced clove of garlic to ¼ cup of Spanish olive oil, heat until garlic browns, then remove and discard garlic, add the bread cubes and saute over moderate heat until evenly brown. (SH

Attractive Floors Sell Older Homes

A wise buyer carefully inspecting a house from attic to basement is sure to consider the condition of floors, a strong selling point especially when dealing with an older home.

Allied Chemicals in its Product News warns the hopeful home salesman not to let shabby looking floors discourage prospective buyers.

Older homes are generally constructed with hardwood floors downstairs, soft white or yellow pine upstairs.

Pine floors usually suffer most, especially in children's rooms.

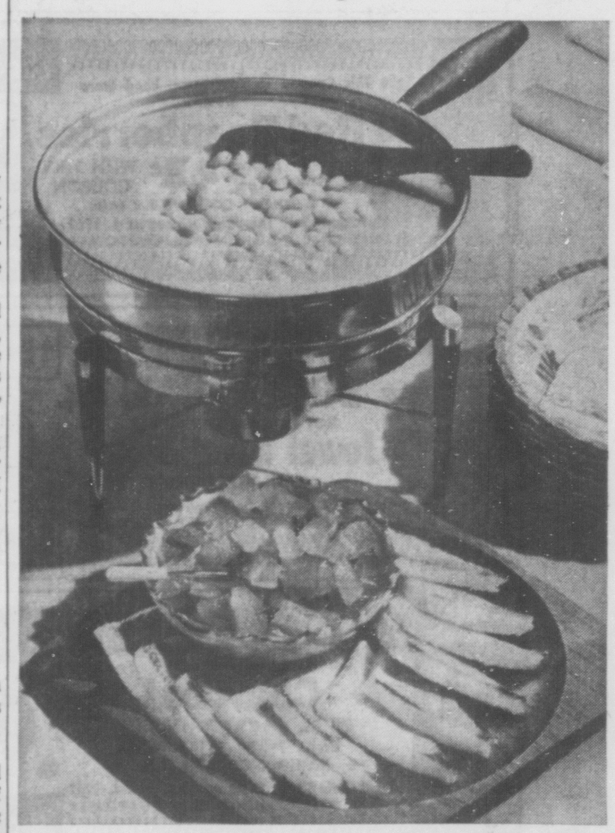
REFINISHING can be easy and inexpensive. Wax, oil and grime can be removed and wood surfaces sanded.

The choice of a good floor finish is the most important factor in floor rejuvenating, asserts Allied.

For wear and durability, the experts recommend one of the new oil-modified urethane clear coatings which resist abrasion, mars, and scratches and last two or three times longer than conventional finishes.

Clear urethane coatings can be brushed, sprayed or rolled on floors two coats thick for a high gloss finish. (SH

Old Time Favorite Features Dry Beans



Here's a newcomer to the supper party favorite, Welsh Rabbit. With the addition of plump, large white beans, it becomes more substantial eating. Cooked in and served from your chafing dish buffet-style, it may well become your "specialty of the house" for parties indoors or out.

Better double the amount. The unusual flavor and texture of the beans add a delicious difference to this variation of Rabbit.

BEAN RABBIT
(6 servings or more)

2 cups cooked and drained large white dry beans
1 can (10½-oz. size) condensed tomato soup
2 cups (½ lb.) shredded American Cheddar cheese
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 egg, slightly beaten

Heat over hot water in chafing dish or double boiler the soup, cheese, seasonings. Quickly add slightly-beaten egg, stirring constantly until blended. Then carefully stir in the cooked, and preferably hot, drained beans.

Add dashes of salt and pepper; ½ cup minced onion cooked in butter may be added. When hot, serve on crisp buttered toast, with watermelon pickles and a beverage.

To cook beans: Soak overnight one cup washed beans in 2½ cups cold water. Or, to shorten time, add beans to the measured amount of hot water. Bring to boiling point rapidly. Boil two minutes only. Cover and let stand for one hour. Then bring beans and the soaking water to the boiling point. Reduce heat to simmer.

Cover tightly and cook 1 to 1½ hours or until beans are tender, but not mushy. While hot, using a sieve or slotted spoon, lift out of the liquid the desired amount of beans for the cheese dish.

This amount gives 2½ cups of cooked beans. The beans used in this recipe were Idaho Great Northerns. (SH

SUBURBAN PRESS FOUNDATION — ADVANCING FAMILY COMMUNITY LIFE

THURS., AUG. 2, 1962

Right of Dissent Is Facing Crucial Test

The question of whether passing out of leaflets of a political, social or reli- anti-litter ordinances has been decided anti-litter ordinance has been decided many times.

Each time the matter has been brought before the United States Supreme Court, the right to distribute such non-commercial information has been upheld.

It is unfortunate, therefore, that laws are still being enacted which can be interpreted to mean that such activity can be curtailed.

The village managers of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect recently informed women associated with a group known as "Women for Peace" that if they passed out handbills on village streets they would be violating anti-litter ordinances in force in both communities. The leaflets opposed nuclear testing by any nation.

The women consulted the American Civil Liberties Union and were told that such action infringed on their constitutional rights of freedom of speech and the press. When the villages were also informed of this fact, they gave their consent to the distribution.

The U. S. Supreme Court, in a 1951 decision, observed: "The easiest cases are those in which the only interest opposing free communication was that of keeping the streets of a community clean. This could hardly justify prohibiting dissemination of information by handbills." There are five other Supreme Court decisions which uphold this right.

In this instance, the village managers appeared to act in good faith in enforcing the ordinances they are instructed to uphold. The fault lies with the law itself.

Too often, municipalities, legislatures and other law-making bodies enact legislation with no thought to the constitutional rights involved. If there are not specific guarantees for such rights, it becomes an invitation to law-enforcing agencies to interpret such laws as they see fit.

The danger in such general legislation is apparent. A long history of arbitrary and presumptuous encroachments on civil liberties exists.

While bureaucrats and self-appointed censors have always flourished, there seems to be a more subtle danger which has crept into our national life. This is an intolerance of unpopular opinions. The right to dissent, the right to hold a minority view, is being challenged today as never before. Orgar'ization man, the zealot, the true believer, and all their faceless counterparts insist on a monolithic totality of viewpoint; there is no room for divergence of opinion. This is the path of the automaton. It has already been traveled by those enemies of freedom whose influence we fear so strongly in the current crisis of conflicting ideologies.

Are we to slowly sacrifice our freedoms in the name of those freedoms? The tendency to do so is with us now. It shows a lack of faith in democracy and in its ability to arrive at correct conclusions only by permitting the widest possible debate and dissent on the issues of the day.

We should encourage the tolerance shown recently at the University of Wisconsin when, on successive weeks, a member of the U. S. Communist party and a member of the John Birch Society were permitted to address the student body.

Democracy has nothing to fear except the stilling of the voices of debate.

A 'Dear John' Letter

John Justin Smith
Chicago Daily News
Dear John:

We read your column on the suburban press with interest. The mayor and George Henley (he runs Henley's Hardware Store) dropped in and suggested we write to thank you for advertising the suburban press (not that we'd bow to the pressure of advertisers or local political friends).

We're glad to see that you think New City, the Catholic magazine which carried the article by our executive editor on the suburban press, "generally . . . deals squarely with our city." (Since you live in Libertyville, we don't think you'll feel offended if we call it "our" city.)

You seemed somewhat piqued over having our editor, Charles Hayes (we rural folks call him "Charley"), writing about the suburban press since he's a member of this fraternity. It's a good point. It's almost as silly as having you sing the praises of the Daily News (you fellows in Chicago do sing praises, don't you? Maybe we've got you mixed up with that Sandburg fellow).

Thanks for mentioning that since 1950 eight representative suburban publishing groups in the Chicago area experienced a circulation growth of 113 per cent. We didn't expect you to add that all of the Chicago daily newspapers, except the Sunday edition of the Sun-Times, have lost circulation. But, then, what are statistics? Bah.

We tried to envision what life would be like without a daily newspaper, as you suggested. It would be unbearable (we're Li'l Abner fans). That, of course, is a cynical remark. It almost sounds like one Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, might make. Bob (we call him "Bob" out this way) was quoted recently as saying: "The media of mass communications are not a means by which the people may understand their public affairs but are media of entertainment."

That's a rather sweeping indictment. We don't believe that Charley's criticism was quite that harsh. He did mention that metropolitan dailies should concentrate on that which they do best in providing regional, national and international reporting and analysis, rather than attempting to compete with suburban newspapers with zoned sections, suburban stringers and separate suburban editions. It's something like a rose fancier tending the dandelion patch.

What he was trying to say, John, if you don't mind the advice of some ham writers, is that the growth of the suburban press will continue to insure variety and diversity in American newspapering since more and more mergers of the metropolitan giants are occurring. (You're probably aware of this, although we're glad you didn't take it as hard as that fellow who couldn't keep his old swivel chair.)

We're pleased to see that the Chicago Better Business Bureau gets such a unanimity of support. You're to be lauded for taking the initiative to listen to that dentist from Stickney who came to you with his story of scandal. Your editorial calling for renewed atmospheric nuclear testing had a lot more style than those supporting such action which appeared in newspapers in Topeka, Los Angeles or Asbury Park. (Nothing like a little editorial homogeneity.)

We would like to point out one little error in fact which appeared in your column. Paddock Publications began a series describing the plight of local migratory workers titled "Shame of the Suburbs" in February 1957. A similar series ran in the Daily News in 1959. But, then, what are dates? Bah.

Sincerely,
The gang at the Paddock

School Bans Orwell Book

Cite 'Objectionable' Plot of Novel, '1984'

PRINCETON, WIS. (UPI) — On the recommendation of a local dentist 275 persons have voted to ban from public schools George Orwell's novel "1984," which deals with "thought control" and evils of totalitarian government.

Dr. Sam Garro read two pages of the novel at the annual school meeting last night before the novel was declared to be "not proper reading" with "objectionable plots."

Only person to speak for the novel, which is considered a classic satire on what could occur in a machine age society, was Gary Gruenwald, a student who came to the meeting with his parents.

School Adminstrator R. C. Calhoun said he hadn't read the book but indicated he intended to now that it had been banned and added "I'm sure it will be a best seller up here now."

CALHOUN SAID HE assumed that the teachers who used the book were competent to decide whether it was fit to be read by high school students.

"Banning a book isn't a subject to be brought up at a public meeting . . . you could read two pages from almost any book, even the Bible, and convince a crowd the book is obscene," Calhoun said.

After banning the book, electors voted to have a pamphlet entitled "Who is tampering with the soul of America?" distributed to teachers and pupils in the public school system. They also voted to urge Calhoun to review all books thoroughly before permitting them to be used in school.

Quotoons

It is said that secrets must never be entrusted to others, and rightly so, but aren't secrets the hardest things to keep to ourselves?

The value of something should be determined more by its permanence than by its scarcity, and that is why a happy marriage is more valuable than diamonds or wealth.

Some brides start out as women who can't cook but do anyway and, after a while, they become women who can cook but don't.

I don't mind being questioned by grown ups; it's when youngsters begin questioning me that I'm not sure of myself.

My work has always been a source of so much happiness to me that my pay checks have looked more like dividends.

Critic's Corner

Fear of Involvement

by JOHN REDDY
Palatine News Editor

An old barn in Palatine was destroyed by fire earlier this year. As the structure blazed away a crowd of onlookers gathered on a parking lot of a nearby supermarket.

Not until the building was well consumed with flames was there an alarm turned in to local fire fighters. And then the alert was sounded via a police car radio.

I have no way of knowing what was passing through the minds of the observers who gathered to watch the high winds fan the blaze. But I feel confident that someone must have considered notifying the fire department.

To speculate further, I would imagine also that some one of the observers must have reasoned: "Surely someone already has turned in an alarm."

To continue this flight of fancy, I would suggest that a number of spectators were "too sophisticated" to hazard racing for a phone only to suffer the embarrassment of being told that "someone already has notified us, thank you."

REDDY

Now to bring this whole thing down to first hand experience, I'll admit that there have been a number of occasions when should have done something, but was just too darned fearful of embarrassing myself — of getting involved.

On one occasion before entering the newspaper business, I observed a station wagon of a local government agency pull up in front of a tavern. The three occupants of the clearly marked vehicle were in the tavern more than an hour, between 2 and 4 p.m. on a Thursday.

I SHOULD have taken the license number, called an official of the agency, and given my name. But I didn't. I didn't want to get involved.

The unfortunate thing is that the kind of person crass enough to pull such a stunt is basing his action on what he fairly well believes is a fundamental weakness of human nature—that people simply don't want to get involved.

There are times in our society when a person is called upon to perform some function he'd rather not bother with, or for which he is not prepared to handle.

It's my opinion that a person who says he would have done something, but didn't because he didn't know what to do, is clutching at an old and well worn alibi. The average individual, if he really wants to, can figure out an appropriate solution for most any dilemma which may engulf him.

It may be only a temporary remedy, but the consequences often are less damaging than taking no action at all. The same frame of mind which prevents a person from calling in a fire alarm is similar to that of an individual who doesn't want to cast a vote in an open primary election because it could result in his becoming "involved."

IN THE MEANTIME, the barn burns down and the voter who did participate in the primary has voted in a village or county dimwit whose management is conducive to employes spending two workday hours in a tavern.

Unfortunately, there are times when knowing precisely what to do is as important as taking the appropriate action. The motorist who sees an overturned car, but who has no idea of how to provide emergency first aid, is better off heading for the nearest phone.

All too often, however, the inquisitive person pulls over to the side of the road just to observe. If he does proceed with emergency assistance, chances are he may do more harm than good.

The big thing, however, seems to be the acceptance of the fact that there are some circumstances that require an individual to respond. Simple inaction is a socially degenerating function.

Jesuit Palaeontologist:

Great Thinker Who's An Even Greater Man

by MARTIN E. MARTY

At a cocktail party, a lady said to a palaeontologist (after he had gone on, and on, and on): "This is very interesting, if you're interested in it."

I would have to say the same thing were I in the presence of most any palaeontologist. The fossil world, the history that is pre-history, the speculation about origins that make up his world somehow are beyond me.

Yet, were I asked to name the people of our time that I would most want to meet, surely in the top five or ten would be Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, a palaeontologist. He died on Easter Day, 1955 (he had wanted to die on the "day of Resurrection") while in New York. I do not recall the obituary and am sure I had never heard of him during his lifetime.

MARTY

His field of studies was remote and technical. Most of his findings were not printed. He was a Jesuit, and his conclusions were often quite controversial; and in obedience to his superiors, they were not printed. Since his death friends have undertaken them.

FIRST, IN English, came his greatest, "The Phenomenon of Man." Then "The Divine Milieu," an almost mystic depiction of human history. Now the most personally moving of all, "Letters from a Traveller." (Harper $4.00).

Palaeontologists have to go where the diggings are, and Teilhard was everywhere: China, Africa, with intermediate stops in France and America. He seemed to be tireless, though these letters reveal many of his tiring personal agonies.

The Vatican has recently issued a "monitum," or warning against ambiguities and errors in his thought. I can understand the warning, even though I may regret it. The book is not on the "Index," is not forbidden to Catholics — but they are to "handle with care."

From the viewpoint of Christian teaching in the classic tradition, there are daring reaches which may (or may not) contradict the historic vision.

Teilhard certainly did not want to be a heretic; he was an extremely, intensely spiritual Christian man, as these letters show. He was a loyal Jesuit; the letters again reveal how he uncomplainingly followed the Order's discipline.

But he felt that the modern scientific world view and the evolutionary scheme not only were not threats to Christianity and religion: they enlarged, enhanced the vision.

I am not sure he hooked his Christian thought to the proper possibility in the modern world. But his experiment can help others.

FOR IN EVERY day Christians have had to use the thought patterns, philosophies, and languages of their own day to discuss eternal truth.

Teilhard had amazing intuitions and poetic graces, enormous zeal and love for the Lord of his faith.

He suffered the fate of becoming too popular; the door he opened was being walked through by so many Catholic thinkers that a "go slow" was issued.

The church has often in the past canonized those it first mistrusted. I am not sure this will happen to Teilhard; confusions and errors in his thought seem immediately obvious.

But the scientific world and religious world seldom can join in being grateful for the same great thinker (usually these are two different worlds). Teilhard was a great thinker. The picture in these letters is clear; he was an even greater man.

But Judge Raps Separation

School Segregation Suit Is Dismissed

(UPI) — A federal district judge Tuesday dismissed a Chicago anti-segregation suit, but warned: "Chicago cannot deny the existence of de facto segregation."

Judge Julius J. Hoffman said a recent ruling of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals compelled him to dismiss the suit brought by Negro parents against the Chicago school system.

The suit charged that gerrymandered school boundaries and school site selections added up to a system of "De Facto" racial segregation of Chicago's schools.

HOFFMAN SAID the appeals court in a similar suit originating in Illinois' St. Clair County ruled that administrative procedures had not been exhausted. He dismissed the Chicago case on the same grounds.

The judge added, "By one means or another our schools will be integrated. Our country cannot suffer the losses incurred through racial separation . . . It is painful to speculate on the amount of talent the nation loses through failure to provide Negro children with sufficient opportunity."

Cities Reap Tax Harvest

MADISON, WIS., (UPI) Wisconsin gives its municipalities more money from taxes than any other state, according to a report by the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin.

Under Wisconsin's tax-sharing formula, counties and municipalities receive 53.6 per cent of the revenues collected by the state.

The report said New York came closest to Wisconsin in the proportion of general revenues devoted to local governments with 49.99 per cent in general revenues paid to localities.

CALIFORNIA is third highest with 47.4 per cent, the report said, while all other states pay less than 42 per cent. Figures compiled for Midwestern states showed Illinois with 31.8 per cent, Indiana with 34.9 per cent, Iowa with 27.5 per cent, Michigan 41.1 per cent and Minnesota 41 per cent.

The report also said Wisconsin's aids, grants and taxes shared with local units of government "with no strings attached" was $30.85 per capita last year, compared with the national average of $4.51.

Raps Charges Of Democrats

I think that the comments Joseph Tumpach made about the county government here in DuPage need some answering. In your editorial pages I'd like to direct a few remarks at him.

Is your Democratic organization so desperate for publicity that they must resort to the type of tactics that were reported in the Elmhurst Press on June 28? I refer to your demand for audits of the county offices and your references to a "deal" and giving Mr. MacDonald a "nod" at the convention.

I have lived long enough in, and know enough Democratic politicians from Chicago, to realize we have something good and decent here in DuPage County. We enjoy good government that is on a sound financial basis . . . certainly nothing like the Democrats have been giving us from Washington . . . nor the Cook variety that is dished out without recourse to the people of Chicago and Cook County.

We hear constant talk of the Democrats moving out from Chicago in sufficient numbers that they will soon outvote the Republicans and take over the "good government" we enjoy. I've got news for you, Mr. Tumpach. Many of the people living in DuPage right now are the "newcomers" from Chicago. They moved here to get away from the political machine forced on them by the party boss of Chicago and Cook County.

THEY MOVED here to live under good government where a tax dollar collected was spent wisely by Republican officials giving the taxpayer a dollar's worth of service. Here in DuPage we don't have the loafing payrollers, the ghost payrollers nor one man or a machine telling us what to do and how to do it. These Democrats you say will outvote Republicans, Mr. Tumpach, are today voting Republican . . . yes, voting for good government that is financially sound.

I sincerely hope that the citizens of DuPage County will continue to realize that good government is in existence right here in DuPage County under a Republican administration. We don't need (and the voters prove year after year that we don't need) a Democratic machine (like Chicago's) in DuPage County.

Another thing you cannot seem to realize is that Ray MacDonald wasn't given the "nod" by anyone except the duly elected committeemen of DuPage, that voted their constituents' votes for Ray last week. Jerry Weeks fought a good fight. He certainly was a qualified candidate. The voters thought MacDonald was a better man and nominated him to run on the Republican ballot in November.

THE REPUBLICAN committeemen serve without pay. They receive nothing in salary for serving as a committeeman except headaches. Yet they still fight for re-election term after term. Can you name me one committeeman of the Donkey variety from Cook County or Chicago that isn't on the machine payroll either as a working employee (that doesn't work) or one of Mayor Daley's famous ghost payrollers? I don't think you can.

Don't you dare tell the residents of this county they have a machine here. The machine is in Chicago . . . let it stay there.

Letters to the Editor

'Closets for Children' Way To Keep Them Off Streets

Your July 26th Fence Post devoted a great deal of space to a very narrow point of view.

It seemed to me that a few of the areas childish, childless couples were venting their ever-smoldering wrath upon the much maligned majority of the populace, which is to say parents and their children.

Contrary to your rose-colored editorial and its spleen-venting supporters, the fact remains that children have always has a penchant for playing in streets just as their parents did before them.

A few parents have been totally successful in keeping their children off the streets. Only a few have succeeded because it is still illegal to lock children in closets.

Until such time as your paper decides to espouse a "closets for children" campaign, may I humbly suggest that we all should stand behind such measures as are needed to improve the safety of our streets.

My own pet peeve: the Marble-head who thoughtlessly leaves his car parked at the curb instead of in his driveway. His empty driveway could very well cause an empty crib in a neighbor's house.

Point Farewell Rare Occasion

Just a line to tell you how glad I was that you gave such a prominent place in the Herald to General MacArthur's West Point farewell.

The old-fashioned virtues of patriotism, integrity, selflessness and courage seldon seem to have a place in either private conversation or public discussion—much to the loss of all of us.

The General said a number of things which very much needed to be said and which truly deserve repeating. It would have been a great loss had these words only been heard by the relatively few men to whom they were originally addressed.

There are rare occasions when words of inspired eloquence coming from a MacArthur, John Glenn, Churchill or Eisenhower remind us of the proud heritage of the past and the bright promise of the future. I know you will continue to seek out those words and present them to your readers.

Nature's Way Tops Spraying

To the home gardeners who have been reading Tom Edward's six-part series on DDT: wherever we live, we will find some kinds of insects. Try nature's way.

A clump of chives will keep aphids off your rose bushes. Plant basil near kitchen door or patio—keeps away flies, and mosquitoes are repelled by basil. Intercrop tomatoes with cabbage. Intercropping rosemary, sage, or peppermint with cabbage plants repels cabbage butterflies.

FOR CUCUMBERS, plant radish seeds in each hill. After vining, cucumber beetles can be driven away by mixing a handful of wood ashes, and equal amounts of hydrated lime in two gallons of water, spray upper and lower sides of plants. Same goes for cantaloupe.

Use up your kitchen wastes, such as asparagus water, and mashed ends, pour around tomato plants. Coffee grounds encourage worms. Sprinkle crushed egg shells around tomato and cabbage plant, discourages cut worms. Try ground up hot peppers, mixed with equal amount of water and one half tablespoon of soap powder, (to make it cling) spray on plants. Shallot onions ground up in food chopper, adding equal amounts of water, strain through cloth, spray on roses.

AND FLOWERS! Plant african marigolds and cucumber together. Good between tomatoes. Bury a hand full of rusty nails around zinia plants for mildew. Geraniums good among roses and grapes. There are so many more ways of repelling insects, instead of using poison sprays.

Classified Ads Earn Bouquets

Although I've been a subscriber to your excellent paper since moving here four years ago, last week was the first occasion I had to place an ad in your classified ad section. I ran a 14-word ad offering my car for sale and the response was terrific. We had 17 calls from practically all the areas served by your papers, and sold the car to the fourth caller.

My college student daughter has obtained summer employment for two years through reading your want ads, and my 16-year-old son recently secured his first job through an ad in your paper. Oh, yes, my wife works part time too, at a job she read about in your paper.

While I'm writing I may as well tell you how much the entire family enjoys your paper, with especial accolades to Bob Frisk for the coverage he provides in sports.

This letter certainly was not solicited, but I thought maybe you might like a bouquet along with an occasional brickbat which may come your way.

Chief Answers Police Critic

In regard to Mrs. Jeanne H. Harris' letter to the editor, Mrs. Harris, you have a perfect right to your opinions and if you wish to criticize the Mount Prospect police, that is your prerogative. But! Please stick to the facts. I would like to suggest that you question your son again and get the true story.

Your boy was brought into the station with your permission to give us a complete description of the driver of the car and other pertinent facts that he could remember. Then, he was returned home. If he did not come in the house for three hours, we have no control over that.

Due to past incidents, I assume your boy possibly resents the Mount Prospect police. We do not employ "tough Cop tactics," as you state. If your boy told you this, you should question him again. This, I wish you would do.

We have a statement given willingly by your boy, which is different from what he must have told you — according to your letter in the Mount Prospect Herald.

Teenage Try At Blackmail

THE NICE YOUNG MAN, by Walter L. Harter. Holt, Rinehart & Winston. 192 pages. $3.50.

Tom Atwood was just getting his roots planted in a small Eastern town he planned to call home when the roof fell in.

It began when a voluptuous high school girl came to his photographic studio to pose for some pinup pictures. She had gone into the dressing room to get ready when Tom heard the front door slam.

The Act Begins

The girl rushed out of the dressing room, "her blouse hanging open—as though someone had grabbed at the collar and ripped it down—exposing a scanty brassiere and a lot of white skin."

"She flung herself at me. Her arms closed tightly around me and her lips dragged across my face.

"Then she tore away and ran into the entrance hall—into the arms of her father."

Hometown Hero

That was the beginning of a scheme to blackmail Tom Atwood, a scheme planned by a teenage girl and a "nice young man" who was the apple of the town's collective eye, and could do no wrong.

WALTER HARTER

Walter L. Harter's first Rinehart suspense novel is a fast-paced, fascinating account of Tom Atwood's defense of his family and reputation against a youth with a twisted mind and a town with a closed mind.

JUST BROWSING

A NEARNESS OF EVIL, by Carley Mills. Pyramid Books. 191 pages. 50 cents.

A fictionalized version of a sordid murder case of the 1940's, the story of a jaded pervert who surrounds his seductively beautiful daughter with an aura of evil and corruption until she too, prefers pseudo-men. The details of these ugly lives and the daughter's violent death may fascinate some, but I found them boring and a bit disgusting.

REMBRANDT, by Gladys Schmidt. Dell Publishing Co. 767 pages. 95 cents.

An ambitious and successful word portrait of Rembrandt Van Rijn, this book makes the tempestuous and tormented painter come alive in all his vitality, both as a man and an artist. A lengthy book but one written in an engaging style. This was a Literary Guild selection when published in a hardcover edition.

H.M.S. DEFIANT, by Frank Tilsley. Ballantine Books. 252 pages. 50 cents.

A sea saga of the rather average variety—certainly no Hornblower — but with some well-drawn characterizations and enough action to keep the story moving. About a British frigate in the Napoleonic wars, her somewhat prosaic captain and a sadistic first mate, and the variety of men who make up the mutinous crew. The movie stars Alec Guiness as the captain.

THE GRAND ALLIANCE, by Winston Churchill. Bantam Books. 777 pages. $1.25.

Here, in Churchill's epic prose, is the third volume in his history of "The Second World War." This is an unabridged account of the United States' entry into the war after Pearl Harbor, the North Africa desert campaigns, the completion of the grand alliance with the entry into the war of Russia. Complete with maps and diagrams. — J.D.

Science Fiction Has Real Flavor

HOSPITAL STATION, by James White. Ballantine Books. 191 pages. 50 cents.

In an original science fiction novel for Ballantine, author James White has pictured life in a mammoth hospital in space where day-to-day routine is never routine, since both the patients and doctors come from throughout the galaxy and some are pretty odd specimens by earth standards.

White manages to endow these strange creatures with personalities and individual characteristics which make them seem altogether plausible. The author has a readable and literate style and the episodes related move along swiftly.—J.D.

Neuman Gives Teens An Out

I recently read an article in the July 12 edition of Paddock Publications titled "Teenage Son Won't Perform Any Chores," written by Dr. Neuman, that has caused much consternation among many parents of teenage children that I know, including myself. I for one, know that I will make sure that my children don't read your paper again until I first edit the columns such as this.

It is possible that the man in question did not go about it the right way in getting his 15-year-old son to do the job he was told to do, but to say that it is not right to give a child a responsibility in the home is just the out these kids are waiting to hear.

I agree with him that youngsters are not adults, but when they are youngsters they are not being formed into what kind of adult they will eventually be. My children, and most children, from the time they are very small, are taught, or should be taught, at home, in Sunday School, and church, that in this life we must learn to love our families and neighbors, and do things to help each other.

This article teaches them to be selfish and lazy. That is the way too many teenagers are growing up these days, and I dread to see what kind of adults they will grow up to be. Our children should be taught to want to do for each other, not be forced to do it.

I don't care how much money a family has, the children must learn the fundamentals of helping one another, or when they do grow up, their selfish lives will make that much more a bitter world to live in. Dr. Neuman says that parents shouldn't insist the boy do what they want — and intimated it is "a good way of getting out of jobs we don't want to do ourselves."

I'll say these remarks are going to leave the door open for many a youngster to get out of doing anything he doesn't want to do, thereby adding a few more useless citizens to this already turbulent world.

Advertising's third dimension

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension—thickness. Thickness is represented by circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered.

You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise or service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness . . . or circulation . . . is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers.

It is important for you to know whether circulation is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insigne assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing organization whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. They can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinions, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by traveling ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness.

Insist on facts. Be ABC sure!

Shady Lane Presents Family Play

You think you have problems?

"Slightly Married," current bill at Shady Lane Playhouse, concerns a family that really has problems.

The head of the house and his good wife are about to become grandparents, but the joy commonly associated with such an event is somewhat dimmed by the fact that their loving daughter had overlooked the formality of putting a Mrs. before her name.

HOW TO ESCAPE the inevitable dilemma is a problem that the family eventually overcomes, but in a family way of course.

Reservations for the comedy may be secured by phoning 815-568-7218. (Bill

"A Raisin in the Sun," a play that set up a number of important "firsts" when it was originally produced in New York, will be the next attraction at the Herb Rogers Tenthouse Theatre in Highland Park.

Claudia McNeil will re-create the role she originated on Broadway. The show opens Aug. 7 and runs through Aug. 19.

WRITTEN by Lorraine Hansberry, the play was the first ever to reach a Broadway stage that had been written by a Negro woman.

It was the first to be directed by a Negro director, and it was almost the first play to depict the life of a Negro family with neither a chip-on-the shoulder attitude nor as a call for a crusade.

CLARK GABLE, in his memorable role of Rhett Butler, and Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O'Hara in David O. Selznick's production of "Gone With The Wind." One of the great motion pictures of all time, the film is being presented in tribute to the Year of the Civil War Centennial starting Monday, Aug. 6 at the Dundale Drive-In Theatre.

El Cid Epic Opens At Catlow Theatre

History numbers but few figures who have stirred the imagination of poets, damatists and balladeers as much as Spain's much revered warrior-hero who was born Rodrigo Diaz de Bivar but is best known as El Cid.

The exploits of this courageous nobleman on the battlefield, his unquenchable devotion to his God and king and his turbulent and undying love for the beautiful Chimene are brilliantly told in "El Cid," which opens a special engagement on Friday at the Catlow theatre, Barrington.

The Samuel Bronston presentation co-starring Charlton Heston and Sophia Loren comes here after being a sensational hit as a road-show attraction in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Dallas and scores of other cities.

This epic film spectacle in Super Technirama Technicolor was named one of the best 10 motion pictures of the year by many metropolitan newspapers and outstanding national magazines, including the New York Times and Time Magazine.

HESTON is cast as the warrior who dreamed of peace, the romantic figure who early in his life was tried as a traitor but later acclaimed, even by his enemies, as "El Cid," a term adapted phonetically from the Arabic "Seid," meaning lord or leader.

Miss Loren portrays Chimene, the beautiful Castilian noblewoman, both fiery and proud.

The cast of thousands includes Raf Vallone, Genevieve Page, John Fraser, Gary Raymond, Hurd Hatfield, Massimo Serato and Herbert Lom.

Edgewater Featuring Comedian

Jackie Mason is an actor starting Aug. 7.

The young comedian, who left the pulpit to convulse TV and night club millions, starts in Sam Locke's fast-moving comedy, "Fair Game," at the Edgewater Beach Playhouse. The run is for two weeks, from Tuesday, Aug. 7 through 19.

FOLLOWING THE play each performance, Mason will drop his role as a New York garment center Lothario, Lou Winkler of Winkler Frocks, Inc. He will do an extra performance of 15 to 20 minutes of comedy routine, doubling the pleasure for audiences.

"Purlie Victorious," the record-breaking hit co-starring Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee, closes its four-week engagment Sunday, Aug. 5. (Bill

Week's Best Food Buys

Time and conditions correct the peaking meat cost comments of two weeks ago as beef and fresh pork soar to seasonally high cost levels, and push retails ahead of them.

Poultry lines ease off and produce takes its scheduled price tumble on seasonal factors previously reported.

ADVANCING meat costs carried through July, a little longer than expected, and probably will reflect by pushing food costs up on the August BLS consumer price index.

The University of Illinois consumer service survey for the period ending August 4 notes that active demand and reduced cattle supplies, off 10 per cent on the week and one-third less than year-ago, forced live market quotes up 1 cent. Wholesale beef costs moved up as much as 4 cents on chucks, 2 cents on rounds and 1¼ cents for the whole carcass.

Higher replacement costs on ribs and loins are also a factor to consider. Retails are firmer, too, accompanied with fewer value opportunities. Those retailers promoting chuck roasts will be doing so at virtually cost level, according to survey sources.

HOG ARRIVALS are seasonally low, off 20 per cent from last week, and of generally poorer quality during this interim period. Live costs advance as much as ¾ cent to reach the highest average price point since December, 1958. Wholesale fresh pork climbed 2½ cents on loins and 1 cent on butts, ribs proving an exception by falling ¾ cent. Fresh pork retails are up accordingly, averaging a total 4 cents per pound over the past two weeks. Smoked lines are relatively steady to provide spot bargains.

Lamb receipts are seasonally small although 20 per cent greater for the week, but costs remain steady at live markets and steady to off ½ cent at wholesale. Retails hold steady.

FRYERS seemingly are poised for a drop but for the moment record firm at supply and retail levels, and provide little opportunity for consumer saving. The turkey market is stable despite some substantial bookings by major trade factors, and retails remain unchanged.

Egg markets are unsettled as stocks accumulate at terminals. Store prices remain steady.

Produce lines swell in volume and frequently fall in price to cheap levels. August shows a long list of value opportunities as more lines seasonally peak.

The U of I consensus bargain buy list of staple lines this week shows: meats— chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and ground beef, beef rib roasts and luncheon meats; poultry—turkeys; produce — cucumbers, carrots, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, sweetcorn, peaches, grapes, plums and melons.

Retail pricing patterns are somewhat more significant this week, too.

Beef — blade cut chuck roasts are sometimes featured at 39 cents (just about wholesale cost) but more often quote 59-65 cents, round bone roasts 75 cents, sirloin tip roasts 99 cents - $1.09, rib roasts 1-4th cut 79-85 cents, 5-6th cut 65-69 cents, sirloin steaks infrequently featured at 89 cents, more generally $1.09, porterhouse 99 cents promotionally to $1.39, rib steaks 89 cents, round steaks 95 cents but lower on promotion, and ground beef prevailing 55 cents.

Pork - against a cumulative 4 cent increase, consensus retails show portions cuts of ribs at 53 cents and loins 65 cents, center chops 99 cents, spareribs 53-55 cents, fresh butts, 49 cents and steaks 59 cents, with narry a feature trend in sight. Bacon at a steady consensus 75 cents typifies the processed lines.

Lamb — prevailing steadiness holds leg roasts at 69 cents, shoulder roasts 49 cents, shoulder chops 79 cents, rib chops, 98 cents - $1.09 and loin chops $1.35 and up.

Poultry — fryers range from a prevailing 39 cents for whole birds to 43 cents for cut-up portions, turkeys continue in the 39-49 cent slot, and eggs price steady at 49-53 cents for grade A large white. (SH

Try Roasting Corn on Cob With Savory Tomato Sauce

GARDEN FRESH CORN on the cob tastes extra delicious when it is roasted in a savory tomato sauce made in a jiffy with an envelope of tomato soup. The time is right for trying this new idea, for corn, the most popular of summer-vegetables, is now in plentiful supply.

Corn on the cob is probably the most popular vegetable of the good old summertime. In particular, it goes hand in hand (no pun intended) with all the good things you barbecue on the outdoor grill; steaks, hamburgers, chicken, kebobs.

Next time you cook outdoors, try this marvelous recipe from the Lipton Kitchens for foil-wrapped corn on the cob roasted in a savory tomato sauce over hot coals.

THE SAUCE is made in a jiffy with a half envelope of tomato soup mix and a half cup of water added to melted butter or margarine. These blend well together to make a delicious sauce that is poured over the ears of corn which have been placed on individual squares of aluminum foil with thin slices of onion.

After wrapping the foil securely, roast over the hot coals for about 10 minutes.

Be sure to cook enough of these taste-tempters. You'll find they go over real big with the "young fry" in the family.

ROASTED CORN ON THE COB

½ cup butter or margarine (1 stick)
½ envelope Tomato Soup Mix (4 tablespoons)
½ cup water
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
4 medium size fresh ears of corn, husked

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan and remove from the heat. Stir in tomato soup. Blend in the water, stirring to thicken the sauce. Place each ear of corn on a piece of aluminum foil (10x12 inches) with one or two slices of onion.
inches) with one or two slices of onion.

Spread sauce over the corn. Wrap in the foil and seal all openings. Bake in a hot (425 degree) oven for 12-15 minutes or roast over the hot coals of a fire about 10 minutes, turning the corn occasionally. (SH

Spoon Lickin' Good— Homemade Plum Jam

Small boys may not understand about the laws of sanitation, but they know a good thing when they taste it.

Few things taste better to children than peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Jam is as good, maybe a trifle better, than jelly with peanut butter. It is also cheaper and more quickly made and easier to spread than jelly.

ALL BERRIES, slipskin grapes, apricots, peaches and plums can be turned into delicious jam. Reliable recipes come with the better known brands of fruit pectins. The cooking is quicker and the yield larger when pectin is used.

However, if your plums are tart and you don't want to use pectin, here is a good way to make the jam. Better make several batches if you want the children to leave any for the breakfast toast.

PLUM JAM
(Use any tart variety)

8 cups chopped plums
6 cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups water

Wash, drain, pit, chop and measure plums. Add sugar, salt and water. Boil rapidly until mixture thickens. This will be about 9 degrees F. above the boiling point of water in your locality. Pour boiling hot jam into pint or half-pint fruit jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight.

Note: Jam may stick and scorch if not stirred constantly while cooking. (SH

Hints on Freezing Peppers by U. of I.

URBANA — Homemakers who are deluged with green peppers from the garden may find freezing a practical way to cut the surplus.

According to University of Illinois foods researchers, frozen green peppers may be used satisfactorily in many cooked dishes and casseroles.

They recommend preparing the peppers for freezing by simply cutting them into halves or quarters, removing the seeds and membranes and packing them as tightly as possible into polyethylene bags.

Frances O. Van Duyne reports in the summer issue of Illinois Research that the plain-pack method gives more satisfactory results than the brine-pack method currently recommended in some published directions.

TESTS AT the U. of I. show that the plain peppers retained considerably larger amounts of ascorbic acid than those packed in a brine. Furthermore, the dry-pack method is more convenient to handle both before and after storage than the brine method.

Taste-wise, the plain peppers cooked after freezer storage had a slight edge over the brine-packed ones.

But when the plain-packed peppers were thawed and rated without cooking, they retained their attractive bright green color, but they lacked crispness and were strong in flavor. (SH

DuPage Symphony in Program Wednesday

Selections from Puccini's "La Boheme," favorites by Jerome Kern; and the operetta "Brigadoon," will be featured in the DuPage Symphony Chorus program Wednesday in Elmhurst.

Amos W. Cappelli will direct the performers in the program which is a part of the "Music under the Stars" series at Wilder Park.

The chorus which will make its first summertime appearance in the Elmhurst concert is rehearsing at the First Congregational Church in Glen Ellyn prior to its appearance.

A NEW GROUP which has been organized less than a year, it has gained a reputation for fine ensemble singing.

The chorus will hold regular rehearsals Wednesday evenings beginning in September.

Auditions for the special Christmas program which will include a fully staged version of the opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be planned for August.

Information concerning the chorus and its activities can be obtained by telephoning HOpkins 9-3294. (Bill

Masque and Staff To Present Farce

"White Sheep in the Family," a three-act comedy, will be the fall production of Masque and Staff, Elk Grove Village's drama group.

Casting selections were announced this week by director Shirley Johnson who will be directing her seventh play since the group was organized three years ago.

The story concerns the foibles of a highly respected and aristocratic family whole talents include such things as forgery and safe-cracking.

THE PROBLEM arises when the son, Peter announces he intends to renounce the family heritage and earn an honest living.

How the family solves this dilemma and preserves its "honor" remains a mystery until the final curtain. No one will be seated during the last 15 minutes.

Featured in the cast will be Guy Marsh and Diane Africk as James and Alice Winter; Rosemary Kalaway as their daughter, Pat; Wally Meyer as the son, Peter; and Liz Romero as Angela Preston, Peter's fiancee.

Don Walker will play assistant commissioner John Preston, and Kay Bumpas will portray the absent-minded vicar. Also in the cast are Diane Johnson as a cockney maid, and Dick Africk as Sam Jackson, the "fence."

THE PLAY was originally presented on the London stage where it enjoyed great popularity.

This will be the first major production of the 1962-63 season for Masque and Staff. Performances are set for the first two weekends in October at Dempster Junior High. (Bill

ROSEMARY KALAWAY

Musical Director Hired by Players

The Best Off Broadway Players, hoping to be able to cast "Guys and Dolls" in August, announced this week that John M. Shaw has joined the group as musical director.

Shaw is music coordinator for Wheeling School District 21 and teaches seventh and eighth grade music classes there. In addition, he is organist and choir director for the St. Francis Xavier Church in Wilmette. He has his Master of Music degree from De Paul University.

Jim Hughes, play director, who joined the BOB players in the midst of their last production "Showboat," says he is looking forward to working with Shaw.

BOB'S PRESIDENT, George Palmer, reveals that things are really looking up for the Players, and predicts "Guys and Dolls" will surpass anything they have ever done.

Auditions, which are open to the public, are being held at Foster's Dance Studio, 18 N. Bothwell St., Palatine, on Aug. 6, 9 and 13 at 8 p.m. Singers, dancers and character parts are being offered.

Those trying out for singing roles may bring their own material, if they wish, although the score of "Guys and Dolls" will be available to them. Piano accompaniment will be provided. The reading will be done from the "Guys and Dolls" script.

For more information, call Palmer, FL 8-0156.

Final Week At Ravinia Coming Up

A diversified sixth week at Ravinia, closing the 1962 symphony season at the North Shore park, will present the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of the celebrated French conductor Andre Cluytens, with world-famous pianists Eugene Istomin and Byron Janis as soloists, plus two concerts by jazz notable, Benny Goodman, and his band, recently returned from a "swinging" tour of Russia.

The New York City Ballet, appearing for the fourth consecutive season, again will close Ravinia's summer program with six performances, Aug. 7 through 12.

CLUYTENS, the final guest conductor of the 27th symphony season, also conducted the fifth week's series of concerts when his soloists were Istomin and Joan Sutherland, renowned soprano.

Istomin's solo with Cluytens on Tuesday evening, July 31, will be Mozart's "Concerto for Piano, C minor, No. 24, K. 491." In a single appearance this season, Byron Janis, a favorite of Ravinia's audiences, will play Liszt's "Concerto for Piano, No. 2 A major" and the Rachmaninoff "Rhapsody on a Theme for Paganini for Piano and Orchestra, Opus 43" on Saturday, August 4. Week's Best Food Buys

Time and conditions correct the peaking meat cost comments of two weeks ago as beef and fresh pork soar to seasonally high cost levels, and push retails ahead of them.

Poultry lines ease off and produce takes its scheduled price tumble on seasonal factors previously reported.

ADVANCING meat costs carried through July, a little longer than expected, and probably will reflect by pushing food costs up on the August BLS consumer price index.

The University of Illinois consumer service survey for the period ending August 4 notes that active demand and reduced cattle supplies, off 10 per cent on the week and one-third less than year-ago, forced live market quotes up 1 cent. Wholesale beef costs moved up as much as 4 cents on chucks, 2 cents on rounds and 1¼ cents for the whole carcass.

Higher replacement costs on ribs and loins are also a factor to consider. Retails are firmer, too, accompanied with fewer value opportunities. Those retailers promoting chuck roasts will be doing so at virtually cost level, according to survey sources.

HOG ARRIVALS are seasonally low, off 20 per cent from last week, and of generally poorer quality during this interim period. Live costs advance as much as ¾ cent to reach the highest average price point since December, 1958. Wholesale fresh pork climbed 2½ cents on loins and 1 cent on butts, ribs proving an exception by falling ¾ cent. Fresh pork retails are up accordingly, averaging a total 4 cents per pound over the past two weeks. Smoked lines are relatively steady to provide spot bargains.

Lamb receipts are seasonally small although 20 per cent greater for the week, but costs remain steady at live markets and steady to off ½ cent at wholesale. Retails hold steady.

FRYERS seemingly are poised for a drop but for the moment record firm at supply and retail levels, and provide little opportunity for consumer saving. The turkey market is stable despite some substantial bookings by major trade factors, and retails remain unchanged.

Egg markets are unsettled as stocks accumulate at terminals. Store prices remain steady.

Produce lines swell in volume and frequently fall in price to cheap levels. August shows a long list of value opportunities as more lines seasonally peak.

The U of I consensus bargain buy list of staple lines this week shows: meats— chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and ground beef, beef rib roasts and luncheon meats; poultry— turkeys; produce — cucumbers, carrots, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, sweetcorn, peaches, grapes, plums and melons.

THE AUGUST calendar of produce values includes (indicates peak supply month): fruits — avocados, black berries, blueberries, grapes, lemons, limes, nectarines, peaches, pears*, plums*, raspberries; melons — cantaloupe, casabas, crenshaws*, honeydews*, persians, watermelons; vegetables —beans, beets, cabbage, corn*, cucumbers, eggplant*, escarole*, garlic*, green onions, lettuce, okra, swiss chard and tomatoes*.

Retail pricing patterns are somewhat more significant this week, too.

Beef — blade cut chuck roasts are sometimes featured at 39 cents (just about wholesale cost) but more often quote 59-65 cents, round bone roasts 75 cents, sirloin tip roasts 99 cents - $1.09, rib roasts 1-4th cut 79-85 cents, 5-6th cut 65-69 cents, sirloin steaks infrequently featured at 89 cents, more generally $1.09, porterhouse 99 cents promotionally to $1.39, rib steaks 89 cents, round steaks 95 cents but lower on promotion, and ground beef prevailing 55 cents.

Pork - against a cumulative 4 cent increase, consensus retails show portions cuts of ribs at 53 cents and loins 65 cents, center chops 99 cents, spareribs 53-55 cents, fresh butts, 49 cents and steaks 59 cents, with narry a feature trend in sight. Bacon at a steady consensus 75 cents typifies the processed lines.

Lamb — prevailing steadiness holds leg roasts at 69 cents, shoulder roasts 49 cents, shoulder chops 79 cents, rib chops, 98 cents - $1.09 and loin chops $1.35 and up.

Poultry — fryers range from a prevailing 39 cents for whole birds to 43 cents for cut-up portions, turkeys continue in the 39-49 cent slot, and eggs price steady at 49-53 cents for grade A large white. (SH

Try Roasting Corn on Cob With Savory Tomato Sauce

GARDEN FRESH CORN on the cob tastes extra delicious when it is roasted in a savory tomato sauce made in a jiffy with an envelope of tomato soup. The time is right for trying this new idea, for corn, the most popular of summer-vegetables, is now in plentiful supply.

Corn on the cob is probably the most popular vegetable of the good old summertime. In particular, it goes hand in hand (no pun intended) with all the good things you barbecue on the outdoor grill; steaks, hamburgers, chicken, kebobs.

Next time you cook outdoors, try this marvelous recipe from the Lipton Kitchens for foil-wrapped corn on the cob roasted in a savory tomato sauce over hot coals.

THE SAUCE is made in a jiffy with a half envelope of tomato soup mix and a half cup of water added to melted butter or margarine. These blend well together to make a delicious sauce that is poured over the ears of corn which have been placed on individual squares of aluminum foil with thin slices of onion.

After wrapping the foil securely, roast over the hot coals for about 10 minutes.

ROASTED CORN ON THE COB

½ cup butter or margarine (1 stick)
½ envelope Tomato Soup Mix (4 tablespoons)
½ cup water
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
4 medium size fresh ears of corn, husked

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan and remove from the heat. Stir in tomato soup. Blend in the water, stirring to thicken the sauce. Place each ear of corn on a piece of aluminum foil (10x12 inches) with one or two slices of onion.
inches) with one or two slices of onion.

Spread sauce over the corn. Wrap in the foil and seal all openings. Bake in a hot (425 degree) oven for 12-15 minutes or roast over the hot coals of a fire about 10 minutes, turning the corn occasionally. (SH

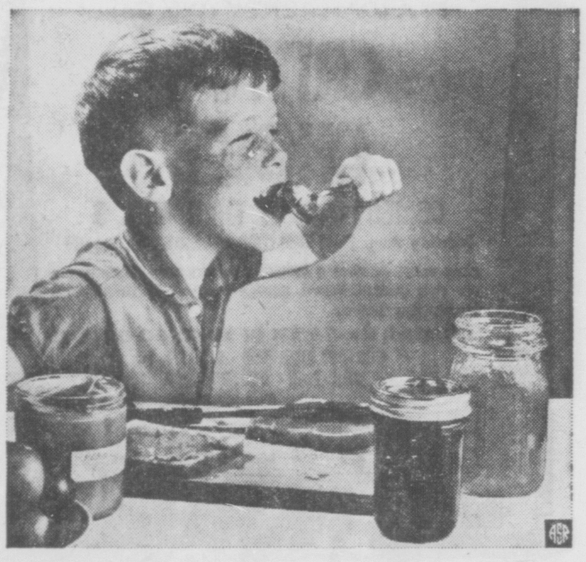
Spoon Lickin' Good— Homemade Plum Jam



Small boys may not understand about the laws of sanitation, but they know a good thing when they taste it.

Few things taste better to children than peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Jam is as good, maybe a trifle better, than jelly with peanut butter. It is also cheaper and more quickly made and easier to spread than jelly.

ALL BERRIES, slipskin grapes, apricots, peaches and plums can be turned into delicious jam. Reliable recipes come with the better known brands of fruit pectins. The cooking is quicker and the yield larger when pectin is used.

However, if your plums are tart and you don't want to use pectin, here is a good way to make the jam. Better make several batches if you want the children to leave any for the breakfast toast.

PLUM JAM
(Use any tart variety)

8 cups chopped plums
6 cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups water

Wash, drain, pit, chop and measure plums. Add sugar, salt and water. Boil rapidly until mixture thickens. This will be about 9 degrees F. above the boiling point of water in your locality. Pour boiling hot jam into pint or half-pint fruit jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight.

Note: Jam may stick and scorch if not stirred constantly while cooking. (SH

Hints on Freezing Peppers by U. of I.

URBANA — Homemakers who are deluged with green peppers from the garden may find freezing a practical way to cut the surplus.

According to University of Illinois foods researchers, frozen green peppers may be used satisfactorily in many cooked dishes and casseroles.

They recommend preparing the peppers for freezing by simply cutting them into halves or quarters, removing the seeds and membranes and packing them as tightly as possible into polyethylene bags.

Frances O. Van Duyne reports in the summer issue of Illinois Research that the plain-pack method gives more satisfactory results than the brine-pack method currently recommended in some published directions.

TESTS AT the U. of I. show that the plain peppers retained considerably larger amounts of ascorbic acid than those packed in a brine. Furthermore, the dry-pack method is more convenient to handle both before and after storage than the brine method.

Taste-wise, the plain peppers cooked after freezer storage had a slight edge over the brine-packed ones.

But when the plain-packed peppers were thawed and rated without cooking, they retained their attractive bright green color, but they lacked crispness and were strong in flavor. (SH

State Payroll Increase Told

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI)—State Auditor Michael J. Howlett said last week a total of 64,602 persons were employed by the state during May.

This was an increase of 136 over the previous month. The payroll totaled $25,580,984, an increase of $42,631 over the previous month and $1,992,588 over the same month a year ago.

JACK BENNY, popular comedian of television and radio, found a 1922 Maxwell waiting for him when he arrived at O'Hare Airport last week enroute to benefit concert at Ravinia, Highland Park. Some 4000 persons attended the performance, which raised $55,000 of $250,000 needed to provide a new stage for the culture center. The old car, popularized in many of Benny's television and radio skits, was provided by Robert Hollander, Palatine village manager. With Benny in front seat is Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian. Ralph Michales, benefit chairman, is in rear seat.

Spectacular "El Cid" to Open Friday

CHARLTON HESTON portrays Spain's great warrior-hero El Cid and is pictured here with part of his vast army as they march on the city of Valencia in this scene from Samuel Bronston's production of "EL CID," starting Friday for one week only at the first-run Catlow Theatre in Barrington. Sophia Loren stars with Heston in the masterpiece of motion picture making which was filmed in TechniColor and 70mm Super-Technirama. The next attraction to play at the Catlow will be Howard Hawk's "Hatari," opening on Friday, August 10, for one week only.

EXIGUITY; meagerness; scantiness in amount. (Pronounce eksigg-yu-i-ti, accent second syllable). "The employees complained of the exiguity of benefits under the new plan."

CAMARADERIE; good will existing between comrades; goodfellowship. "There is a camaraderie that exists among the members of winning teams."

Here Are Tips for Social Security

"I recently married. Do I have to report my marriage and change of address to social security? Does my husband have to name me as beneficiary for social security benefits based on his earnings?"

These are the questions many brides have been asking at the northwest district office of the social security adminstration.

When a Miss becomes a Mrs. she should ask the social security office to correct her record to show her new name. She does not apply for a new account number; instead she asks that her card be reissued with the same number in her married name.

IF THIS IS not done, earnings reported for her in the future cannot be credited to her account and benefits may be lost.

Notification of a change of address is required only if one has filed an application to receive social security benefits. The Social Security Adminstration does not keep records of the addresses of people who are not eligible to collect benefits.

There is no provision in the federal old-age and survivors insurance system which permits the insured worker to designate a beneficiary. Beneficiaries are designated by the law itself.

INFORMATION, pamphlets and forms for change of name may be obtained without charge from any social security district office. The northwest district Social Security office is located at 4255 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago.

The telephone number is KI 5-8844. DuPage County readers are serviced by the district office located at 1124 Westgate Ave., Oak Park. (A-14

Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, a husband and wife team that has practically become an American institution, will close at the Herb Rogers Tenthouse Theatre Monday, Aug. 6, in the sparkling comedy "Marriage-Go-Round."

In Highland Park for only a one-week stand, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson have played to large and enthusiastic audiences at other midwestern summer stock theatres before their appearance in Highland Park.

LYLE TALBOT and Sally Kellerman complete the cast of this witty-sophisticated play.

Nightly curtains are at 8:30 p. m.; Saturdays there are two p.m.; Saturdays there are two shows, 6:45 and 9:45 p.m. Tenthouse Theatre is on West Park Avenue between Edens Expressway and Green Bay Road. (Bill

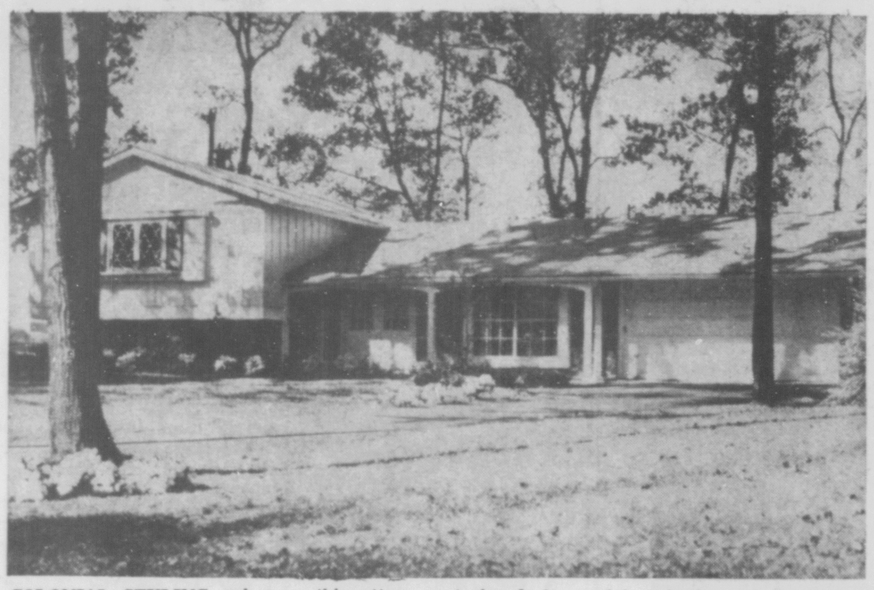
Sleepy Hollow Manor Opens Custom Homes



COLONIAL STYLING enhances this attractive multi-level built by Mark '60 Corporation in Sleepy Hollow Manor, near Dundee. The house emphasizes distinctive entrance and interior design and is priced at $44,000 including drapes, carpeting, landscaping, and half-acre lot. (BB

Two more "Conversation piece" model homes — the "Southern Shore" multi-level and the "Mark '59" ranch colonial—have recently been opened to the public in Sleepy Hollow Manor, at Routes 72 and 31 just west of Dundee, by the builders, The Mark '60 Corp.

The new designs are customized versions of two of the most popular of the nationally-known designs. Each home makes distinctive use of colonial styling in general exterior concept, and in the arched, roofed forecourt and entranceway of each house.

In each design, double colonial doors open into an inviting foyer which suggests a distinctive, individual theme for each house. At this point, however, the interior layout of each model develops in different — but equally eye-catching — ways.

BERT MANCHIK, President of the Mark '60 Corporation, believes that styling imagination in too many houses today "stops at the front door."

"But in our Mark '60 models, we make an extra effort at geniune custom interior layout and finish — because, in the years to come, the buyer and his family are going to be looking at the inside of his new house, much more than the outside."

Beyond its handsome colonial entrance, the Southern Shore's central foyer boasts an open staircase and distinctive wrought iron grillwork separating the spacious living room. Further effect is achieved with tropical planters and unusual fixtures. A wood-burning fireplace is in the living room, and sliding glass doors open from the living-dining area onto the patio.

THE KITCHEN is carefully arranged to save steps, and features latest appliances and matching trim. The breakfast nook is distinguished by a 12-foot bay window. On the upper level are the bedrooms, which may be three or four; extensive closet space; and a full tiled bath. On the lower level are an oversize garage; large recreation room; utility and powder rooms.

The "Southern Shore" multi-level is priced at $44,000, including drapes, carpeting, landscaping and a half-acre lot.

The second newly - opened model is the "Mark '59" an award-winning colonial ranch priced at $39,500, including a half-acre of improved ground. This offers 2,000 square feet of living area — is available with either three or four bedrooms. Among its features are: a distinctive, large foyer — a semi-open interior layout, the living room being available with either open beam ceiling or dramatic glass gable wall.

THE HOUSE literally wraps itself around the patio, which has sliding glass-wall entrances from living and family rooms, and kitchen and dining area. The home has two baths, extra large closets and a big utility-laundry room

The Mark '60 Corp. models—ten in all—are open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in Sleepy Hallow Manor, just west of Dundee. Entrance to the picturesque, wooded development is on Higgins Road (Route 72), one mile west of Route 31.

The area is readily reached via Northwest Tollway, with about a 45-minute drive from Chicago's Loop to the Route 31 turn-off, just north of Elgin.

Predicts Boom In Swim Pool Sales

That bygone symbol of prosperity, a chicken in every pot, will soon be followed by a new affluence symbol, a swimming pool in every backyard.

This is the prediction of Clifford C. Trudeau, new owner of the Pile Swimming Pool Sales, Inc., 2301 East Oakton Street., Elk Grove Village, who recently acquired a 100 per cent interest in the business from his former partner.

CLIFFORD TRUDEAU

Swimming pools will become as common as two-car families within the next decade, Trudeau declared.

"With the population explosion in dry areas, swimming pools that were once considered a luxury item have now become a necessity," Trudeau said.

"BY 1972, 50 per cent of all U. S. families will have a backyard pool," he prophesied. "The American public is demanding a swimming pool at the hotel, the motel, and at home. Even apartment dwellers are shopping for new apartment buildings with built-in pools, because without a pool, new construction is 'old hat.'"

A pioneer in the field, and designer of the first fiberglass wall swimming pool built in 1956, Trudeau's company has now devised a do-it-yourself swimming pool kit that seils for $1745.

"Instructions for building the pool are as clear to adults as they would be for children," he quipped.

PILE SWIMMING Pool Sales, Inc., also produces an all-ceramic tile pool on a steel foundation.

Founded in 1948, Pile Swimming Pool Sales, Inc., now has dealers in the United States and Canada. The largest builders of pools in the Chicago area, Pile Inc. grosses over $1 million annually with the building of more than 500 rectangular, "L"-shape and free form pools each year. (BB

Subdivision Unveils Two New Model Homes

The 28th and 29th new models to be built in Teolis and Dahl's residential subdivision in Hanover Park will be unveiled this week, it was announced by Barney Dahl, partner in the successful home building venture in the northwest Cook County suburb.

"Variety really helps to sell houses," said Dahl, as he mused over the events of the past two years which have led to the sale of almost 700 homes by Hanover Builders, Inc.

"We have changed model homes so often that it's really difficult to keep track of exactly what we have done," he said.

"CONSIDER that with our 28th and 29th new models, we have also achieved the widest kind of variety of houses with different roof styles and front elevations. Brick treatments, picture windows, shutters, and other accents (not even to mention colors) have resulted to over a hundred different variations.

"It is no wonder that hundreds of prospective home buyers who visit our developments have a hard time realizing that just one builder constructed all the homes. We do not have a 'look - alike,' 'peas - in-a-pod' type of village, he said.

"Our 28th model called the Kenwood is a 2-story colonial with 4 bedrooms, 1½ baths, full basement and 2 car attached garage, with a clever facebrick treatment and colonial shutters. It contains over 2,000 square feet of living space, including full, formal dining room — not counting garage and basement space.

"ELSEWHERE this house would sell at upwards of $30,000, we are offering it for less that $25,000, including fully improved city lot — no assessments.

"Our 28th new model called the Park Lane is a bright new 3 Bedroom split-entry, raised-ranch model with two-car integral garage and basement, 1½ baths, brick front and back porch, designed for rolling terrain. Designed to sell for at least 25,000 elsewhere, we will offer it at under 20,000, including fully improved city lot — no assessments.

Teolis and Dahl's Hanover Park Estates is located on the west side of Barrington Road between Irving Park Road (Rt. 19) and Lake Street (U.S. 20) about 17 miles northwest of Chicago. Models and offices are open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and Sunday. (BB

Citizens Bank Adds Million to Account

Citizens Bank and Trust Company, Park Ridge, has announced the addition of $1 million to its capital account, according to Lyman Sorensen, vice chairman of the board.

The decision was made at the company's mid-year meeting of officers and stockholders.

According to Sorensen, the enlarged capitalization will allow an increase in individual loan limits to $525,000 from $375,000.

THE INCREASED capital account will allow Citizens to expand its total loaning power by $5 million to $10 million "within the framework of prudent management," Sorenson stated.

Citizens, the largest suburban bank in northwest Chicago, has grown from total resources of $29 million at the beginning of 1956 to present total resources of nearly $87 million.

Sorensen stated that the addition to its capital account is a necessary adjunct to the outstanding growth the bank has experienced. (BB

Sun Drugs Open at Randhurst Aug. 16

"Customers visiting our newest Sun Self Serve Drug Store in the Randhurst Shopping Center will find that our slogan 'Everything Under the Sun' is literally true," says Jerry Franklin, manager of this gigantic super drug store now being rushed to completion for the Aug. 16 grand opening.

"Shoppers will find everything from A to Z — all the things from Aspirin to Zestabs and in between," declares Franklin.

This newest Sun Drug occupying 13,000 square feet of floor space will be one of the largest Super Drug stores in the entire Chicagoland area and one of the biggest stores in the Randhurst complex.

"NOTHING HAS been spared to make this an outstanding stare," asserts Franklin. "Particular attention has been given to the prescription department. Registered pharmacists will be on duty at all times.

"In keeping with Sun Drug's policy on filling prescriptions, all the latest drugs are stocked so that any prescription can be filled promptly. It goes without saying that Sun's famous discount prices on prescriptions will be in effect."

Customers will find that nothing has been spared in planning to make this a convenient and happy place to shop.

FROM 9 IN the morning until 10 at night, seven days a week, Sun shoppers can stroll into the store from the central plaza. Specially - designed folding doors roll away and out of of sight so that the entire front of the store is open. There are no doors to push, pull or tug.

Franklin points out that the liquor department will carry an immense stock. "We have diligently made very effort to line up an inventory of bottled goods that will make it difficult for someone to make a request that we cannot supply." he says.

During the grand opening celebration of Randhurst, there'll be free balloons and candy for the youngsters at the Sun Drug Store. On Thursday the 16th, famous weather man, P. J. Hoff, will be in the Sun Drug Store from 12 to 2 p.m.

Says Franklin, "Many years ago Al Jolson used to tell his audiences, 'You ain't seen nothin' yet!' and we feel that this will be true of our Sun Self Serve Drug. Until folks visit our establishment in Randhurst, 'They ain't seen nothin' yet'!" (BB
